

Our Sixty-Second Year—No. 40

LINDSAY, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1907.

Terms—$1.00 per year in Advance.

Telegraphy Opens the Way

TO A SUCCESSFUL LIFE

Several thousand Telegraph Operators will be required by the various Railway companies within the next nine months.

ON AUGUST 1st, I will open a School in Lindsay, to be known as the

National School of Telegraphy

Board here is reasonable, and all ordinary students should graduate here within six months. Write or see me for terms. The greatest and most successful managers of to-day have, with rare exception, risen from the ranks of the operators.

Salaries of operators run from $50 to $80 per month, according to the importance of the position. Operators who are Agents, make from $60 to $100 per month, and are always eligible for promotion. Lady operators for commercial work are in great demand.

Qualifications necessary are few but absolutely essential, viz.: a common school education, strict sobriety, honesty, industry and carefulness.

Sir William C. Van Horne, of C.P.R. fame, began his railway career as an operator, so did J. W. Leonard, C. W. Spencer, Geo. C. Jones, and scores of others, all now holding high positions.

Address NATIONAL SCHOOL OF TELEGRAPHY, Lindsay, Ontario.

A. M. PATON, Principal.

JUST FOR A CHANGE.

I'm sort of tired of things that is.
They're lackin' somewhat as to fizz.
There ain't no ginger in life's jar
With things a-goin' as they are,
The fault may be with me, and then,
I ain't a-tryin' to fix no blame,
Because all tastes about the same.
How'er it is, I wish it might Have things turned round a bit some night.

So that instead of as they be,
They'd work toward the contrary.
I'd like to see some mountain rid
Have spunk enough to flow up-hill.
So that old Nature might be show'd
I'd like to see the settin' sun
Out in the east when day is done,
Just as a hint, when goin' to bed,
To prove it wasn't bigoted.

I'd like to hear a bullfrog sing
Like nightingale upon the wing
Instead of that eternal "clunk"
With which he seeks his swampy bunk.

Tain't discontent that's vexin' me
With life so everlasting.
But just a sort of parchin' thirst
To get a peek at things reversed.
They've been the same so very long
A change would strike me pretty strong.

And, though I'm makin' no complaint,
For once I'd like 'em as they ain't.

FALL MILLINERY OPENING

Miss Mitchell's Parlors Come of Elegance and Taste.

With the advent of the fall season,
Miss Mitchell, as usual, is showing a full stock of millinery goods, in the latest and most charming styles, and comprising everything that will be in demand. For the opening day decorations were beautifully and tastefully decorated with colored chiffons, trays of flowers, wings and fancy feathers of all descriptions, and the many visitors who went through on the opening days were more than delighted with the general aspect.

Drooping shades, which were so popular during the summer season are still in vogue. Fancy feathers, flowers, foliage, felt and beaver hats, ribbons and plateaux are used extensively. Trimmed hats, exquisite creations of the latest design are being produced at these parlors, at reasonable prices. One very pretty model was shown here in a drooping shape, covered plainly with tan cordie velvet and trimmed with plaidings of two shades of tan ribbon, finished at left side with flowers and of hard monizing shades, and at the right folds of ribbon, caught to crown with fancy pin and folding to brim. For other much admired design was in rich velvet black, with narrow front and long drooping back, the only trimming being that of a knot of velvet in front and two long handsome crown plumes falling at either side of crown. The visitors had much praise for a handsome creation in black velvet, with wide orim rolling upward at left side, over which fell two stylish ostrich feathers, and two simple folds of satin ribbon thrust with a silver pin.

In popular shades of brown attention naturally turned to an elegant design in brown felt with puff crown of velvet in corresponding shades and trimmed exclusively with wings of lighter shade drooping at sides and back.

The whole display of these parlors was an elegant showing of choice effects in fashionable headware.—w1.

OBITUARY

Dr. D. V. Beacock.

The Brockville Times says: Brockville's veteran dental surgeon, and one of the oldest and most influential practitioners in the Province of Ontario, died about 7.30 this morning at his home on Orchard-st.

Dr. Beacock was born at Market
Raisin, Lincolnshire, Eng., on Feb.
14, 1837. A the age of 16 he came to Canada, and after attaining the necessary qualifications, taught school for nine years, at Carleton Place, and other places in Ontario. During this period he re-visited England on two occasions. He then entered up on the study of dentistry with Dr.
Neelands, of Lindsay, and completed his course at the Ontario Dental College, combining with it the study of medicine at Toronto University. After graduating about forty years ago, Dr. Beacock settled in Brockville, remaining here continuously until his death. Dr. Beacock took a keen and intelligent interest in local affairs. He was a member of the Public School Board for four years, and served five terms of two years each on the Board of Health.
He held up a most lucrative practice and was considered one of the best men on all branches of his profession in the province.

A familiar figure at gatherings of the Ontario, Dominion and American Dental Associations, and quite frequently contributed valuable papers on different subjects. His opinions always carried much weight and gave rise to thoughtful and helpful discussions.

Dr. Beacock married Miss Rae of Rebbero, Ont., who died in January, 1901. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. M. Patterson, Brockville, and two brothers and two sisters,
viz., George Beacock, of Brockville,
Edwin Beacock, Mrs. James Lovell
and Mrs. Wm. Dickson, of Lindsay.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eyles, of Glen Grove Farm, Cameron, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruby Luella, to J. R. Naylor, on Wednesday, Oct. 16th.

A Malicious Individual.
A marriage notice appeared in The Post a few weeks since sent in by my land accepted in our editorial rooms in good faith, announcing the marriage of two young people, Shine and Whalen. We have since been informed that it was a malicious foundation, and was sent in by some mischief maker, whose name we would like to ascertain. If we do we will cause him some uncomfortable moments.

A Correction.
In last week's Post a paragraph appeared stating that Henry Campbell stole a hat from the Star Clothing Store. We since find that the hat was not stolen, but was badly broken by Campbell, who was drunk, and refused to pay for it. As this hat was a valuable one, worth $2.50, the proprietors of the Star Clothing Store were compelled to put the matter in the hands of the police for adjustment. We cheerfully make the correction.

AS TOLD IN THE POETS' CORNER.

THE WARDEN OF THE CINQUE PORTS.

A mist was driving down the British Channel.
The day was just begun.
And through the window-panes, on floor and panel,
Streamed the red autumn sun.

It glanced on flowing flag and rippling pennon.
And the white sails of ships;
And from the frowning rampart the black cannon
Bailed it with feverish lips.

Sandwich and Romney, Hastings,
Hithe, and Dover
Were all alert that day.
To see the French war-steamer speeding over,
When the fog cleared away.

Sullen and silent, and like couchant lions,
Their cannon, through the night,
Holding their breath, had watched,
in grim defiance,
The sea-coast opposite.

And now they roared at drum-beat from their stations.
On every citadel;
Each answering each, with morning salutations.
That all was well.

And down the coast (all taking up the burden,
Replied the distant forts.
As if to summon from his sleep the Warden
And Lord of the Cinque Ports.

Him shall no sunshine from the fields of azure,
No drum-beat from the wall,
No morning gun from the black fort's
Awaken with its call.

No more, surveying with an eye impartial
The long line of the coast,
Shall the gaunt figure of the old Field-Marshal

For in the night, unseen, a single warrior,
In sombre harness mailed,
Dreaded of man, and surnamed the Destroyer,
The rampart wall had scaled.

He passed into the chamber of the sleeper,
The dark and silent room,
And as he entered, darker grew, and deeper,
The silence and the gloom.

He did not pause to parley or dissemble,
But smote the Warden hoar;
Ah! what a blow! that made all England tremble
And groan from shore to shore.

Meanwhile, without, the surly cannon waited.
The sun rose bright overhead;
Nothing in Nature's aspect intimated
That a great man was dead.

Cinque Ports.—Five ports on the south coast of England, whose duty it was to look after the coast defences. The name has long ceased to have any significance, although the honorary post of Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports is still filled. The Duke of Wellington was the Warden at time of the poem.

MERRY WEDDING BELLS.

Staunton—Steen.

In St. Mark's church on Wednesday at high noon, a very pretty event took place, when Jesse Phoebe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
John Steen, Augusta-st., was united in marriage to Edward Staunton, of Lindsay, the Rev. Cobb officiating.

The bride looked very pretty in a smart, tailor-made suit of tan, and a tan Gainsboro hat with blue plumes. She wore a pearl grey stole and carried a beautiful sheaf of ordinal roses. The only attendant was the bride's niece, little Miss Marion Mitchell, who looked sweet in a French dress of Persian lawn with valenciennes lace and pink ribbons, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bride's mother was in grey robe and mauve trimming, and the groom's mother in black attire.

After the ceremony the bride party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a dainty dejeuner was served and the friends couple received the congratulations of the guests.

The large array of valuable presents testify in some measure of the esteem in which the bride and groom were held by their large circle of acquaintances. The groom's gift to the bride was a hundred dollar check and to the flower girl a gold locket and chain.

Mr. and Mrs. Staunton left by the flyer for a brief tour in Toronto, Detroit and other points (and on their return will take up their residence at 8 Durham-st., Lindsay).

The many friends join with us in wishing them all the joy this world can afford.

The Progress of Invention.

Benedick.—That luminous paint is a splendid invention.

Singleton.—What do you use it for?

Benedick.—We paint the baby's face so we can give him a drink in the night without lighting the gas.

Cool Showing in Horses.

At the recent Mariposa fair, held at Oakwood, Mr. A. E. Webster, made a splendid showing in heavy draught horses and carried off a number of the coveted red tickets.
He took second on entire horse, and third on brood mare, heavy draught, second on best foal of 1907 horses, and first on best foal of 1907 horses, draught, besides first on agricultural class foal of 1907 and foal sired by Empire Favorite.

DOMINION TO PAY UP

Canada Will Settle Japan's Claim Without Protest.

VANCOUVER TO MAKE GOOD

Government Will Look to Western City For Re-emboursement—Damages Will Run Over $5,000—Special Meeting of the Cabinet Discusses the Whole Situation—Consul-General Made His Demands.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—The Dominion Cabinet, yesterday afternoon, with Sir Wilfrid Laurier presiding, but only three other members, Hon. Mr. Scott,
Secretary of State; Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, and Mr.
Lemieux, Postmaster-General, were present.

According to one of the gentlemen there, no business was touched on except that relative to the claim made for the Japanese Government.

Dr. Munro, the Canadian immigration agent at Vancouver, was asked on Monday as to his authority for demanding passports direct to Canada from Japanese upon arriving there. A telegram was received from him yesterday, stating that it was formerly the custom to do this, and he was merely reverting to it. He has been asked to stop it, as it is an infringement of the treaty.

Japanese Consul-General Nosen waited on the Government yesterday and presented claims for damages caused by the riots in Vancouver. The damages will amount to between $5,000 and $6,000. The Cabinet was to meet and pass the amount. There will be no quibbling over it. The money will be paid and the City of Vancouver will be asked to refund the amount.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting said one of the quarters that were present, we had barely a quorum and did nothing definite about the matter.
Mr. Munro will be heard from in a day or two—at least that is what we expect—and until he is we thought it wiser to do nothing formal and so the claim was not passed yesterday.

Notwithstanding this, it is known practically certain that it will be passed, as is intimated above, the Government will then look to Vancouver to settle.

FRANCE TO COMPETE.

Proposal to Send Rifle Team to Enter For the Palma Trophy.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—France may send a team for the next Palma trophy match. A letter to this effect has been received by Major Winter, secretary of the D. R. A., from the French National Rifle Association.

In July, Major Winter sent to the French association the regulations of the last match. The communication, however, apparently reached the president too late for action.

He has written for the results of the recent contest at Rockliffe, and has further stated that if a comparison with their own efficiency is favorable, a team will doubtless be entered in 1908. Les Tireurs Francaise would add even greater international interest.

Canadian Clergy Swindled.

New York, Oct. 2.—Israel Salinski, a young Russian Jew, pretending conversion to Christianity and missionary worker to proselyte the Jews from Judaism for the Christian Church, was exposed by Dr. Daniel H. Overton, pastor of the Greene avenue Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn, and Rev.
Hickman Denning, rector of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, last week, as being a rank fraud and swindler, having victimized clergymen and congregationalists, Catholics and Protestants, out of many thousands of dollars in Boston, Montreal, Cleveland and other cities, including Toronto, by begging contributions and taking up church collections.

Finding the police here after him he skipped out. From papers found in abandoned luggage he swindled clergymen and congregations in Toronto out of nearly nine hundred dollars.

Found Mother Dead.

St. Thomas, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Annie
Muir passed away some time during Monday night at the home of her brother Mr. Dan Grant, Talbot street east. Deceased had not been in good health for some time, but her sudden demise was not expected. When her daughter went into her bedroom yesterday morning she found her mother dead. Deceased was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald Grant, and was born in Peel Township, Wellington County, 50 years ago.

Bishop Won the Match.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Before leaving for Richmond, Va., yesterday, to participate in the biennial convention of the Episcopal Church, the Bishop of London held an impromptu reception at the station. He admitted that he won the tennis match at the White House on Friday between himself and President Roosevelt.

New Steamer for Lake Trade.

Montreal, Oct. 2.—A new steamer, destined for the lake-carrying trade, arrived in Montreal last night from Dundee. She is the G. R. Cole, and was built in Great Britain for the St.
Lawrence and Chicago Navigation Co.
for the grain carrying trade. She left for Toronto last evening.

Crushed Under Whistle.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Frederick Gutman, aged 15, is dead at Arnprior.
He fell off a wagon, was crushed by the wheels and died in his sister's arms before a doctor arrived.

Constitution For China.

London, Oct. 2.—A special despatch from Peking says the Dowager Empress has issued a decree declaring the Government of China to be a constitutional monarchy.

Study Jap Language.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 2.—The general staff has ordered the introduction of the study of the Japanese language at the military academy.

SOUND BATTLE CALL

ROUND UP BANDITS

Magoon Will Crush Out Cuban Insurrection.

DEALS WITH A STRONG HAND

Orders Troops to Capture, Kill or Drive Rebels Into the Ocean—Signs of Unrest But No Further Disturbance Expected—Danger From Strikes—The Government Has Ample Means.

Santiago, Cuba, Oct. 1.—Thirty additional men of the rural guard left here yesterday on a special train to deal with the Cuban insurrection. The Cuban rebels, who have been located in the vicinity of Guanaco, are paying cash for their supplies at the country stores.

Exchanged Shots.
Havana, Oct. 1.—The small band of rebels, which has been traversing the country about Mayari, in Santiago Province, has according to late despatches, again exchanged shots with the pursuing rurales. The latter are close on the heels of the bandits.

While there are signs of unrest in various parts of the island, the opinion prevails here that no serious disturbance is likely. In commenting on the situation the Diario de la Marina says:

"There is no reason, therefore, for extraordinary alarm, or for believing Cuba is on the brink of an abyss. Even the strikers have not yet committed any act of violence. If their disagreement with the railway companies is not settled other men will be found shortly to run the trains. In this case any attempt on the part of the strikers to resort to force will be punished according to law. The situation, for all these reasons, is not so grave and the Government has ample means to cope with it."

JUDGE RESERVED SENTENCE.

James Wadsworth Found Guilty of Receiving at Queenston.

St. Catharines, Oct. 1.—James Wadsworth was yesterday morning convicted before His Honor Judge Carman on the charge of receiving stolen goods.

Clarence Stevens, Harry Lammon, and Cecil Dwyer, who stole butter from Grand Trunk cars at Niagara Falls, and who were last week convicted at Welland, gave evidence to the effect that Wadsworth knew the goods were to be stolen from cars, and later received from them at his hotel in Queenston.

Evidence of several other witnesses was also given, and though the judge held the prisoner guilty, he reserved sentence till today, and will in any case at the request of P. W. Griffiths, the prisoner's counsel, prepare a statement for the Court of Appeal.

GREETING NEW DOMINION.

Canada Sends Message of Congratulation to New Zealand.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—New Zealand's assumption of the dignified title of Dominion of New Zealand was marked by the following exchange of cables between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Premier Ward:

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—To Premier Ward, Wellington, N. Z.: Best wishes and all success to the new Dominion. (Signed) Laurier.

Wellington, N. Z., Sept. 25.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Ottawa: The Dominion heartily thanks her elder sister and hopes to follow in her footsteps. (Signed) Ward.

Hon. Mr. Prevost Resigns.

Quebec, Oct. 1.—At yesterday's meeting of the Provincial Cabinet at the Parliament Buildings, the resignation of Hon. J. B. Prevost, Minister of Colonization, Mines and Fisheries, was received, and after discussion accepted.

Hon. Mr. Prevost's case against Mr. Ameline was heard, it will be remembered, in the spring and the jury disagreed. It is on the list for the fall term of the Criminal Court opening there next week.

Beat Off Highwaymen.

Chatham, Sept. 30.—William Stedman, a local butcher, who boards on Edgar street, was the victim of a couple of hold-up men while crossing a dark lot near the G. T. R. depot. Stedman had been in Toronto with some cattle. He was waylaid by two unknown men, one of whom struck him on the head with a short stick. Stedman, however, swung out and hit the nearest of the men with all the force of his strong right arm. The men decamped.

A Customs Record.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The customs receipts of the Dominion for the six months since March amounted to $31,402,735, which is an increase of $5,418,290 over last year. The revenue for September alone was $5,203,639, an increase of $546,225, and far and away the best showing on record.

Two Killed in Wreck.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 1.—The last train on the Frisco road known as the McKeon, due in St. Louis at 11:30 a.m., was derailed and wrecked near Dixon yesterday morning. Two employees were killed, and seriously injured, and the passengers were badly bruised.

Judge to Resign.

Quebec, Oct. 1.—Hon. Judge Larue, who has presided over the Quebec judiciary during the past 21 years, will shortly resign owing to ill-health.

Germany Uneasy.

London, Oct. 1.—Great uneasiness prevails in German commercial circles at the prospect of a preference to Britain by Australia.

Horse's Kicks Fatal.

Smith's Falls, Oct. 1.—Edward Lamary, hostler of the Union Hotel, died on Saturday from kicks by a horse.

TO RESTRICT PASSPORTS.

Commission on Jap Question to Appeal to Mikado.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—A complete statement of Canada's argument against a continuation of the present large influx of Japanese immigrants into this country is being prepared by the Government for presentation to the Government of Japan.

No doubt a commission or commissioner will present the argument to the Mikado's Government at Tokio. It will be pointed out in this statement that when the treaty with Japan was signed by Canada there was an express understanding that the Japanese law restricting the issue of passports to intending emigrants to a limited number each year would continue to be enforced.

In the Japanese emigration laws it is expressly stated that any emigrant obtaining a passport under false representation is liable to a heavy fine in addition to the cancellation of the passport. The enforcement of this clause by Japan would have a large influence in stopping the influx of Japanese to British Columbia by way of the Hawaiian Islands.

Other points that will be emphasized are that public opinion in this country, as shown by the utterances of public men in the press, and by the resolutions of the Labor Minister, is unanimously opposed to any large or sudden influx of oriental immigrants, and that the present rate of immigration, if continued, will result in unnecessary racial friction in British Columbia, and will militate against the development of trade between Canada and Japan as desired by both Governments.

EDITOR FIGHTS DUEL.

Fight With Swords In Old Style at St. Pierre Rink.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 1.—Contrary to expectations a duel between Editor Mazier of The Rebell and Dr. Dupuy was fought in the rink at St. Pierre Miquelon.

It was believed that the differences had been settled in court, but the opposing factions clamored for satisfaction in the ancient French style and the two met. There was a large gathering in the rink. Swords were chosen as the weapons. After an exchange of blows fighting the editor received a bad thrust of the sword in the right breast. His second, Dr. Thibaud, seeing the nature of his friend's wound, declared Mazier unable to continue the fight.

The duel was the result of an article in The Rebell, questioning the honor of Dr. and Mrs. Dupuy. Mazier was yesterday told that Mazier will be compelled to accept another challenge to a duel from Lefebvre, a prominent shipowner of St. Pierre.

SHOW BIG FALLING OFF.

Grain Shipments Not Nearly So Large as Last Year.

Castle of Winnipeg, a statement of the shipments of grain by vessels from Port William and Port Arthur from the opening of navigation, April 29, 1907, to Aug. 31, 1907, and also for the crop year of 1906, which is from Sept. 1, 1905, to Aug. 31, 1907.

From April 29 to Aug. 31 last, there was carried in Canadian vessels from these ports 20,721,617 bushels, and in foreign vessels 5,839,069 bushels, making a total of 26,560,686 bushels of wheat.

For the crop year 1906, Canadian vessels carried 51,719,562 bushels. There was in store on Aug. 31, 1906, 507,574 bushels, and on Aug. 31, 1907, 6,460,919 bushels, an increase of 5,953,345 bushels of wheat.

Grampian Broke the Record.

Montreal, Oct. 1.—Having broken the record from Glasgow to Quebec and Montreal, the new Allan liner Grampian arrived last night in charge of Capt. Outram, the only Canadian in charge of an Allan steamship.

The Grampian is an exact counterpart of the Cornician, which has made three trips to the St. Lawrence. She left Glasgow a week ago Saturday at 6 p. m. and reached Quebec Sunday afternoon at 2:30, making the voyage under eight days.

The new vessel has accommodation for 136 first-class, 222 second and 1,428 steerage passengers. There with a crew of 210 would make 2,066 souls on board. Her cargo carrying capacity is 7,000 tons.

FLOOD'S HEAVY TOLL

Thirty Emigrants Swept Off Quay Into the Sea.

MANY PEOPLE ARE STARVING

Bodies Found In the Mud—Eight Persons Killed by Collapse of Church—Three Houses Washed Away—Many Stores Ruined—Total Damages Estimated at Nearly Four Million Dollars.

Malaga, Oct. 1.—The greatest distress is everywhere prevalent as a result of the storms and floods of last week. The Government with difficulty is preventing famished persons seizing and eating decayed foodstuffs that have been thrown out by storekeepers. The work of clearing away the foul-smelling mud left in the streets by the floods is being pushed rapidly. Many bodies have been found in the mud. A band of emigrants which was encamped on a quay the night of the flood awaiting a steamer has not been seen since, and it is feared all its members perished. The damage done by flood is placed at $3,800,000. A number of stores were ruined. A number of steamers arriving here reported having seen a number of bodies floating in the bay. These are believed to be some of the emigrants who were washed off the quay, and who numbered more than thirty. A church and three houses at Benamarrara, a town twenty miles from this place, collapsed, killing eight persons.

KIPLING IS PLEASED.

Famous Author Says Canadians All Look Happy and Prosperous.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Rudyard Kipling, the famous English writer, known to Canadians, not only by reason of "My Lady of the Snows," but because of his many notable works, passed through Ottawa on the transcontinental train yesterday afternoon en route to the coast.

"Anything to tell us?" was hailed at the distinguished traveler. "It is just 15 years since I was last on Canadian soil," he replied. "I must say that I feel really happy to be back among you once more."

"Of course you must have observed great changes in the interim?" "Remarkable," was the expression of Mr. Kipling. "I noticed the change everywhere right up from Quebec. You Canadian people all look so happy and prosperous," went on Mr. Kipling, "that it really does one good to come amongst you."

Kipling Goes West.

Montreal, Oct. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Rudyard Kipling left yesterday morning for Vancouver and Victoria. They will return east in three weeks.

BLAZE ON "BICKERDIKE."

Firemen Had Close Call—Were Overcome by Gas.

Kingston, Oct. 1.—Yesterday afternoon shortly after one o'clock the steamer Bickerdike arrived in port and was found to be on fire.

The fire steameders received a hasty call to the drydock and soon the water was playing on the flames. The blaze was down in the hold.

About three o'clock the firemen stopped putting water into the vessel and the work of removing the cargo was started. The fire was extinguished at 5 o'clock. The greatest injury will be to the cargo.

Two of the firemen, suffocated by the gases, had to be carried out. The steamer Bickerdike belongs to the Montreal and Great Lakes Navigation Co. and was built in Buffalo in 1873. She is 233 feet long and is loaded with package freight for Port Arthur.

Power Commission In Shape.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—All that so far has been announced in the press with reference to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, remained Hon. Mr. Whitney yesterday. "Is pure conjecture. But we are moving ahead steadily, getting everything into shape."

The Power Commission are to meet this morning at the Parliament Buildings with a Cabinet meeting directly afterwards. Among the matters to be considered are the power question and the Soo loan guarantee.

Hon. Mr. Matheson, in respect to the Soo loan guarantee, yesterday said that the negotiations were in progress, and that if the guarantees were renewed there was no chance whatever of the amount in question—$1,000,000—being reduced for some time to come.

Killed at Allandale.

Barrie, Oct. 1.—Three freight trains following each other in rapid succession from Hamilton pulled into the Allandale station Sunday night about 11 o'clock. The failure of the brakes to work on the third, permitted it to strike the centre train with some force. The engine on the latter buckled, killing the fireman, a young man named Robert Blackburn of Coe Hill. The crew of the last train was unfamiliar with the road, this being their first trip.

His Head Blown Off.

Hamilton, Oct. 1.—A fatal accident occurred on Sunday at Bronte. John Armstrong, employed as a farm hand by James Pencock, accidentally killed himself by shooting. He found a shotgun in the driving shed, and started to examine it. The gun went off, and Armstrong's head was blown to pieces.

TRAIN WRECK IN OHIO

Operator's Negligence Causes Death of Eight Passengers.

SWITCH WAS NOT TURNED

Twenty-One Badly Injured—Four Will Die—Express Dashed Into Freight Train on Siding—Impact Was Terrific—Speeding to Make Up Lost Time—Occupants of the Smoking-Car Suffered Most.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 30.—Eight men were killed, four fatally injured and seventeen more or less seriously hurt late Saturday evening, when the Chicago & Wheeling express train No. 14, on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, was wrecked in the yards at Bellairs, O., a few miles below this city. There are no Canadians among the dead.

Operator Responsible.

The wreck was done, it is said, to the failure of an operator to throw a switch. The westbound freight had received orders to meet the passenger at the western limits of the Bellaire yard, and was moving slowly along the siding. At the point where the wreck occurred, there is a very sharp curve which prevents the engineers of eastbound trains from seeing more than a few feet ahead. The passenger train swung around the curve very rapidly, being three hours late, and should have gone on in safety on the main line. The switch to the siding, however, had not been turned, and the train shot on to the siding and into the freight. There was scarcely time to apply the brakes and no time for the engine men to jump.

Engines Reduced to Junk. The two big engines were reduced to junk by the impact, but the worst damage was done to the smoker, which was telescoped so completely by the baggage car that every seat was thrown out of the coach. Every occupant of the smoker was badly injured. The passengers in the other day coaches and two Pullmans were thrown from their seats, but not seriously injured.

Engineer Galbraith was burned to a crisp. The injured were taken to the Glendale, W. Va., and Bellaire hospitals.

General Manager Fitzgerald, who was in the neighborhood on an inspection tour, and General Superintendent W. C. Loree of Wheeling personally superintended the rescue work. Great difficulty was experienced in removing the injured passengers from the wrecked smoker. Work was slow because every movement of the debris caused someone to shriek with pain, the victims being entangled in a mass of timbers and twisted iron.

Theatrical Company's Experience.

Among the passengers on the wrecked train were the members of Richard Carlos Spring Chicken Opera Co., which was to have played at Wheeling yesterday. All the members of the company escaped serious injury, except Alfred Baily, the musical director, who was found necessary to amputate his right arm, thus ending his career in the profession. He was riding in the smoker and was found with a heavy timber tightly binding him by the arms.

Engineer's Terrible Ordeal.

Engineer H. A. Lipcomb of the passenger train was caught beneath his engine, and it was found impossible to remove the broken iron from his body on account of the way in which one of his legs was entangled. Escaping steam across his face made it impossible to administer anaesthetics, and as a result physicians contemplated the leg as he lay there conscious.

Despite the burning steam and the pain of the operation he bore it bravely.

Found Dead on Track.

Hamilton, Sept. 30.—James A. Plant, aged 23, who lived with his grandfather, Joseph A. Plant, of 13 Fisher street, was found dead on the railway tracks. It was found yesterday morning. A kit of machinist's tools was found near him. His mother lives at Trafalgar, near Oakville, and his father is a manager of a big plant in Oregon.

Killed by Train on Street.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 30.—Mrs. H. O. Munnell and Mrs. Henry Holmes, both of Springfield, Mass., here to attend the Millennial Dawn Tract Society convention, were killed Saturday night on a street by a Norfolk & Western Railroad freight train.

Midland Prince Struck Dyke.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 30.—The steamer Midland Prince, upbound with coal, struck at the dyke through the parting of her steering gear. The No. 1 tank on the starboard side is full of water. Temporary repairs are being made here.

London Election Date.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—On account of some delay in arranging for the manhood suffrage vote, the London election will not take place until Oct. 29. All three bye-elections take place on the same day.

DOCTOR IS ACCUSED

Alleged to Have Administered Poison to His Rival.

WIFE IS ALSO CHARGED

Woman Was Formerly Wife of Murdered Man—Suggested "Dr. Jekyll" and "Mr. Hyde" Existence—Accused the Poison Used—Was Previously Arrested For Killing His Child For Insurance.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 1.—A murder trial of widespread interest was begun yesterday, when Dr. Thomas L. Rowland and his second wife, the widow of Charles R. Strange, a locomotive engineer, faced the charge of having murdered Mr. Strange by poison, so that they might wed. Effort will be made to prove that Dr. Rowland was a "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" in real life, and that to all appearances he led an exemplary existence, while secretly making a study of deadly poisons and plotting murder. He was even arrested on a charge of having poisoned his own child in order to get some insurance money, but he was let go because the chemists could find no trace of poison in the tests which were made. In the present case Dr. Rowland is alleged to have used aconite, a rare and deadly vegetable poison. Judge Benjamin P. Long will preside at the trial, while prominent counsel appear on each side of the case. A special venire of one hundred and fifty men has been drawn for service on the jury.

CHAUFFEUR HAD HARD LUCK.

Finds Bridge Washed Away and Is Arrested For Speeding.

St. Catharines, Oct. 1.—Arthur Geyer, a chauffeur employed by Harry Vars of Buffalo, was fined $5 by the magistrate yesterday morning for fast going in Beamsville.

He left Toronto for Buffalo. At Burlington he found a bridge washed away and took his car through the creek, where it struck a rock and the services of a team of horses were secured, for which the owner demanded $10. Going through Beamsville Geyer exceeded the speed limit. Constable Tufford telephoned the police here and Geyer was arrested. He deposited his money as security.

Six miles from here Geyer's gasoline began to run short, and as he was about to stop for six gallons at the little store, about double the price, he decided to come back to St. Catharines and wait until morning.

Yesterday morning Magistrate Comfort imposed the usual fine of $5.

AFFAIRS IN MANCHURIA.

China's Resistance to Japan Causes Complete Deadlock.

Pekin, Oct. 1.—There has been a complete deadlock between China and Japan over Manchurian affairs since June last, and the attitude of the United States towards Japan has now become a feature of the situation.

The new administrations at Mukden and Peking welcomed what the officials call a "revival of America's spirit," in sending the battleship fleet to the Pacific after apparent indifference to the far eastern situation, and, as a result, the Chinese officials are resisting the demands of the Japanese.

Monument to U. S. Soldiers.

Niagara Falls, Oct. 1.—Kinsey-Three years ago British and United States soldiers fought at Lady's Lane. On Sunday a monument was dedicated to the memory of Capt. Abraham Haller Hull and nine men of the Ninth U. S. Infantry, who fell in the fight.

The Niagara Frontier Landmarks Association and the Daughters of the War of 1812 of Buffalo, to whose lot the dedication fell, were welcomed by the Lady's Lane Historical Society, who escorted them to the scene of the ceremonies.

Grand Duke Frederick Dead.

Constance, Grand Duchy of Baden, Sept. 30.—The Grand Duke Frederick of Baden, who has been suffering from intestinal inflammation for some time past, after remaining unconscious for many hours, died early on Saturday morning.

Throughout the night the Cabinet Ministers and the court officials and chaplains had waited in an apartment adjoining the death chamber for the end to come.

At the grand duke's bedside when he expired were the Grand Duchesses, Princess Louis of Prussia, the hereditary grand duke, Frederick of Baden; Prince Max of Baden, brother of the grand duke; the Crown Prince of Sweden and others.

The public life of the deceased was for fifty years intimately connected with the efforts to unite the German states of the empire.

London's New Lord Mayor.

London, Sept. 30.—Sir John Charles Bell, ex-herald of the City of London and head of a big brewery company, who has held a number of important offices in connection with the municipality, was on Saturday elected Lord Mayor of London, to succeed Sir William Treloar, Bart.

The election took place with all the customary ancient ceremonies in the Guild Hall at noon. The new lord mayor will be installed in office November 9.

Hanged Himself In Station.

Montreal, Sept. 30.—A gruesome discovery was made by officers in one of the waiting-rooms at the Grand Trunk Bonaventure street station on Saturday, when the body of a young foreigner was discovered hanging by means of his belt and a couple of towels. The man's name is Obery Yakowanko, supposed to be a Russian, and his ticket was purchased at Milwaukee.

Used In Father's Arms.

Ingersoll, Oct. 1.—In West Zorra on Saturday the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Johnston was almost instantly killed by the kick of a horse.

KILLED BY REVOLVER

Macedonian Tradesman Mysteriously Shot in Toronto.

SUSPICION OF FOUL PLAY

Dead Man's Brother Says It Was Accident—But Police Think Otherwise—Weapon Was Hidden Under Mattress—Alleged Quarrelling Is Denied—Doctor's Statement Doubts Accident Theory.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—Michael Turpenoff, a Macedonian shopkeeper, living at 21 Eastern avenue, was shot and killed in a room above his shop yesterday morning.

The explanation of the shooting, as given by his brother, Leo, and two boys, who were in the room at the time, does not satisfy the police, and has only possibility to favor its truth. The brother says that Turpenoff had an argument in his room with the brother and two boys employed in the grocery. Turpenoff threw open his coat, and the revolver, dropping from his right breast pocket, fell to the floor. As Turpenoff stooped to recover it, it exploded.

The bullet entered the right arm on the outside slightly above the wrist joint, passing upward diagonally through the forearm. It came out on the inner side of the arm, just below the elbow, then penetrated the chest, vest and two shirts, entered the right breast slightly above the nipple and came out almost directly opposite at the back but did not penetrate shirt, coat or vest at the back.

The pistol is hammerless, and the only explanation which bears out the brother's story is that the thumb or fingers of the hand stretched out to regain the pistol up-ended it so that the barrel pointed against his wrist pressed the trigger.

Another theory is that the dynamite said to be in these cartridges exploded with the concussion when the gun fell, and that the dead man having reached over to catch the gun as it dropped, received the wound.

Dr. Glendinning, in addition to his telephone call, was summoned by a Scotchman who is engaged in missionary work in the vicinity. This man and another son of J. K. Lee, the druggist, told him that a Macedonian had fainted in the street. It was not until the doctor had examined the man, who died as he entered the room, that he discovered he had been shot.

Turpenoff was lying across the bed with his head to the wall. Dr. Glendinning moved him lengthwise in the bed and bound the hole in the right breast. The man was not bleeding from the wound and the doctor made no further examination of the body, giving him only an injection of strychnine.

The room was filled with Macedonians. Only one of these could speak English. Of this man the doctor enquired: "Were they quarrelling?" And he, coming close to the doctor, whispered "Yes." In reply to all other questions put to him he consulted with those in the room before answering.

The pistol with which the man is supposed to have been shot was mysteriously hidden when Dr. Glendinning arrived. He asked where the pistol was. After asking the brother of the dead man the reply came "in the bed."

Right Rubber Goods

A good portion of the "rubber goods" on the market are sold under an "alias"—they are part rubber and part filling. Our rubber goods are the all rubber kind, and don't cost much, if any, more than the inferior sorts. When you get syringes, hot water bottles, nursery supplies, etc., here you can depend upon quality and price being right.

SCHOOL TEACHERS SCARCE.

The day of our supply of teachers is gone, says the Oshawa Reformer. Oshawa School Board cannot get applications for positions on their public school staff, and this state of affairs is pretty general throughout Ontario. It is not now a question of salary, as teachers are not to be had at any price. Low salaries for the past ten or fifteen years have driven nearly all male teachers out of the profession, and have not been a sufficient return for the outlay in time, effort and money to induce even females to qualify.

WEAKENING ON THE PLATFORM.

Kingston News (Con.)—The proposal to hold a big conservative convention for the west should be enlarged so as to take in all Canada. The News, some time ago, advocated a general convention for June last. We believe still it would have been better for the party. Mr. Borden then could have submitted his platform to the convention and had the benefit of any criticism that might be made on it prior to going on his present tour. But it is not too late yet to hold one.

THEY THINK TOO LATE.

It is astonishing the concern for the feelings of their parents that young men assume as soon as they get into some trouble that opens disgrace upon them. A young fellow disregards the admonitions and feelings of a mother by getting into a company, by contracting bad habits, or by committing some crime. He is brought before the bar and receives punishment for his misdeeds. He then remembers his mother and other friends, and pleads that the matter be hushed up. It is not so easy of any reputable newspaper to damn any man's career by publishing the details of his fall. The best way, however, for any young man to avoid having the papers publish what will break his mother's heart and wound his friends is to live so as to give the press no occasion to publish his disgrace. The time to consider the feelings of one's friends is before, not after, one commits the act that would bring disgrace.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Mail & Empire demands that Canada be a "white man's country." The Montreal Herald, The Great and Only Sam Hughes has been saying that Mr. Borden is too modest. As Sir Hibbert Tupper also claims to be a modest, the reversion to the leadership would seem to rest between Sam himself and Mr. Fowler.

A. J. W. Curry, K. C., liberal candidate in East York, warns the electors that he will not stand for any injury in elections, and if any illegalities are committed he will resign the seat. He wants a clean, straight fight, and will have nothing else.

Montreal Herald; Booker T. Washington observes in a magazine article that if he had his choice of rebirth he would say, "Make me an American Negro." Mr. Washington is evidently been reflecting on the awful possibility that he might be born a San Francisco Chinaman or a New York strike-breaker.

Bishop Ingram, of London, who is now in Canada, is a believer in a cheerful Christianity. He says, "To have a proper influence over your fellows, be absolutely straight, have no 'side,' be sympathetic, show a sense of humor, have the spirit of faith." Here is a terse philosophy that strongly appeals to an up-right common sense.

Port Perry Star: A mass meeting of the Liberals of Reach, Port Perry and Scugog will be held in the Council chamber, Port Perry, at 2 p. m. on Thursday, Oct. 10th. Addresses will be delivered by F. L. Fowler, Esq., of Oshawa, Candidate for the House of Commons; Jas. Carnegie, the Provincial Legislature; T. E.

Cragg, Esq., of Greenbank. A full attendance of all Liberals is requested.

Action was taken last week by the town council of Collingwood to raise the license fees of the hotels to two thousand, five hundred dollars.

Bread in Ottawa is twelve cents a loaf. But little does Ottawa care, being one of those superior cities in which government officials who do not live on cake eat pie.

The Liberal party in Ontario may be taking the rest cure, but, says the London Advertiser, there'll be no rest for the Government when A. U. MacKay gets his war-paint on.

Toronto Star: One hundred Chinamen paid the $500 poll tax yesterday and were admitted to Canada. The fifty thousand dollars the country is ahead by them represents about ten per cent. of what these almond-eyed soldiers of fortune will take home to the Flowery Kingdom say ten years from now.

The Government has adopted the regulations for the new mint. The silver coins to be turned out by the mint are the same as now, in use in Canada, namely five cent pieces, ten cents, twenty-five cents and fifty cents, and 1 cent copper. Later on the question of nickel coinage will be considered.

It remained for the Mail and Empire to suggest the suspicion that the Japanese immigration is chargeable to W. T. R. Preston, who is now in Japan. The fact that the Japanese immigrants are not coming from Japan, but from Hawaii, doesn't bother the cheerful idiot of the Mail a bit.—Hamilton Times.

Victoria Times, Conservative: Very promptly and very properly the Ottawa government has refused to entertain the suggestion of the Trades and Labor Congress that notice should be given of the abrogation of the treaty with Japan. Only desperate disease require desperate remedies, and the country is not yet in extremes over the invasion from the Orient.

Brantford Expositor: President Cockshutt, of the Manufacturers' Association, views with alarm the advance in wages that employees have been getting. According to his own figures the number of employees has increased 13.8 per cent. from the years 1900 to 1905, and in the same period there has been an increase of forty-five per cent. in the wages paid. But the products of the factories have increased nearly fifty per cent. in the same time, and prices have arisen. All the advantage has not been secured by the workers.

How much of Wentworth county may be under local option another year is now a question of no little interest. The latest township to take up the matter is the big township of Beverly. A goodly number of the people of that township are of the mind that its people, both old and young, can manage without the bars, and there does not seem to be much fear that the absence of booze would adversely affect the World's Fair. So the people, in spite of Whitely's un-British 60 per cent. vote required, will have the question voted upon at the coming municipal elections.

The Christian Guardian has this to say of Hon. George P. Graham, of whom it publishes a portrait in this week's issue.

The Hon. George P. Graham, recently appointed minister of railways and canals in the Dominion cabinet, is just now a much talked about individual. As the son of a Methodist minister and an official in the Methodist church, thousands of our readers, irrespective of party, are cherishing high hopes for him in the responsible and exceedingly trying position to which he has been called. To give one's self up to an active political life is, we believe, to make a severe testing of the reality and thoroughness of one's moral and religious convictions, but then we suppose convictions are made for testing, and should they break down under it it is only a proof that they were not of any great value before it came. Our best wish for Mr. Graham is that as the years go on he may prove himself a politician built on the four-square plan.

WOODSTOCK

To Vote on Local Option in January—City Assessment.

Woodstock, Sept. 30.—It is probable that a local option by-law will be submitted to the electors of Woodstock at the municipal elections in January. A meeting was held on Saturday of the Executive committee of the North Oxford Division Association, and it was decided to submit a by-law in Woodstock and the townships of Blandford and East Zorra. A public meeting will be held shortly, and if the action of the committee is endorsed, the campaign will be proceeded with.

Might Have Been Serious.

One of our well known and experienced financiers, who daily visits the big store of Dundas & Havelles Limited, Kent-st., was making one of his usual calls when he slipped on the oiled hardwood floor in front of the beautiful clothing cabinets used for carrying their famous clothing for men, and in trying to regain his feet he almost crashed through one of the glass fronts of the cabinet, inflicting a bad cut in the palm of his hand, and necessitating a hasty visit to the corner drug store to have the wound attended to.

LUMBERING IS AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY.

The Carew Saw Mill and Box Factory Models of Modern Improvements—Over 125 Men Employed During the Season—Cut Will be a Large One—Description of Interiors of Buildings.

Lumbering is one of Canada's principal industries. The Dominion's vast natural resources, combined with the extensive chains of waterways, render feasible the operation of the large lumber mills throughout the country. While the vast, unbroken forests are a thing of the past in this vicinity, the lumber industry is still an important commercial one, and thousands upon thousands of feet of lumber cut annually.

Lindsay, through the use of the Scugog, is the centre of considerable industry in this line. The Carew lumber mill is known throughout the province, owing to its immense annual cut, and its steady enlargement from year to year. This mill, with the adjoining box factory, is owned by Mr. John Carew, one of our foremost citizens.

Apart from the commercial side of the business, the industry is an interesting one. Coming direct from the woods, where they are cut by gangs of lumbermen, the logs are towed in cribs and on scows down the different waterways. Here they are manufactured into lumber and turned out at the other side of the mill, dressed and ready for use. Strict economy prevails, and every end is manufactured into some article of use.

THE CAREW SAW MILL.

THE WOOD SUPPLY.

The extensive woodyards of the Carew mill have been depleted during the past summer owing to the good weather and mill wood promises to be scarce there as well as in other places. With the resultant rise in price, Carew's have 1200 cords of fire wood at Burnt River. This, however, is destined for other places, and will not reach Lindsay. At present dry mill wood is at a premium, the mills selling wood right from the saws. The Alexandria, the Carew tug, brought up three scow loads of wood to-day, the most of this, however, being purchased by a local dealer.

THE BOX FACTORY.

What formerly was Parkin's brick mill at the northern limit of one town, has been transformed into one of the most up-to-date box factories in Ontario, if not in Canada. Every labor-saving device and machine has been installed, and the work is not out with remarkable rapidity. The facilities for transporting manufactured material have not been completed as yet, and in the near future a siding will be run up to the factory door at the west side.

Three drying kilns, of the capacity of three or four carloads of lumber, extend the breadth of the yard, and take the moisture out of the lumber. The kilns are heated by air forced through them by a fan after passing over steam pipes. The entire mill is fireproof, and has its own electric plant. The machinery is run by two big boilers, which carry 110 pound pressure of steam each.

On entering the main room the whizz of machinery in rapid motion greets the eye, and makes talking almost impossible. Everywhere is industry and men hurrying to and fro. From fifteen to twenty men are employed here, many of them being skilled mechanics. A system of pipes with openings at every machine and a powerful fan, causes a suction of air, through the system which draws up the shavings and sawdust, thus making the factory to present a more cleanly aspect.

A complicated machine for the turning out of mouldings comes first in the row. The operating of this takes a skilled mechanic. An automatic emery wheel, which grinds and sharpens blades itself, is a useful adjunct to the mill. Next comes a resaw for sawing lumber to desired width, and beyond that is a Maudslayi's lathe for turning banister posts, etc. A granger for the finishing of lumber for floors is one of the most interesting pieces of machinery in the factory. From this the lumber is pushed along a prepared way by the action of the machine itself and loaded onto the cars. A double surfacer finishes off both sides of the lumber, if so desired.

Two cut-off and two rip saws complete the box-making division. At present boxes are being got ready for Havelles' and poultry house. One of the most up-to-date pieces of machinery in the place is an end matcher, which matches the ends of lumber, making it fit snugly all round. This is a recent innovation and will be a useful one.

Downstairs is located the sash and door factory, in charge of Mr. Geo. Henley who has the reputation of being the most capable man in the business, mortising machines, and a buzz saw assist the men in their work. A "bellow-arm sander" is a labor-saving one, and a door clamp turns the doors put with rapidity. A room at the extreme top of the factory is used as a band saw fillet and sharpening room. Mr. W. Ball is foreman of the factory.

Since its origin business has been decidedly brisk. Mr. Cowan, the head of the biggest mill machinery manufacturers in Canada, spoke in the highest terms of the modern equipment of the factory.

THE SAW MILL.

Extending southward from the factory the common yards are spread, covered with lumber piles representing this season's cut. The mill itself is a hive of industry, and over a hundred men are being employed. An enormous quantity of logs line the river on both sides for some distance on either side of the mill, and will be sufficient to keep it running till the season closes. The mill shuts down when the river freezes. Last year it shut down on November 18th. The logs are fed in the mill by carriers right from the river. Two men at the top of the carriers seize the log and roll it into a three head-block carriage of a circular saw, a "nigger" coming up and securely putting it in position. The carriage is set in motion by a man with a lever, and a man on the carriage regulated the width of the cut. When set in motion, the carriage forces the log on a circular saw, which rips it into boards. The entire operation takes less time to do than it does to tell. Following the course of the board, it is run through a 4-saw edger, which cuts the barky sides of it. Then it is placed on another machine, where the ends are taken off, and it is sawn into any required length, after which it is placed on the car. To go back a little, a certain portion of the log is useless for boards, and is thrown to one side, where it is cut up for shingles, to another place where lathe is manufactured or planed using merely as firewood, thus utilizing the entire log.

SHINGLE MAKING.

To watch the workings of the shingle mill gives one a cold chill with the possibility of one of the busy workers miscalculating a movement and allowing a hand or arm to fall on the swift whirling saw, but each man deftly and quickly works away, seemingly remote from danger. Two men are engaged in cutting shingles to the desired width and three joiners are employed, the shingles then being tossed down below to be packed. A filing room, where the log saws, with their jagged teeth are sharpened, swaged, or gummed, is an important place. The care of saws is one of the difficulties that confront a mill man, and to get lumber they have to be kept in condition.

The Carew mill has had an exceptionally busy run this year, but have still large quantities of logs in Ball lake, at the mouth of Squaw river. Their tugs will be towing till navigation is closed.

Another "Pat" Story.

Pat was visiting a friend in the lion country. Borrowing a gun, he set off one day in search of game. Some time after, his host heard a distant report, and, going to the window, spied in the distance Pat hugging home, and behind him a huge lion, gaining with every step. Nearly spent, Pat reached the door just in time to cry: "Quick, quick, Mike, open the door. I'm bringing him home alive!"

CAPTURED A LIVE DEER

Janetville Man Will Attempt to Domesticate Animal.

Quite an interesting wild animal story is on everybody's tongue in Janetville and vicinity. Not very far from Janetville there are miles and miles of swampy and wooded land, which is almost impenetrable. It is an ideal spot for ducks, partridge and other game, as the famous bear story of a few weeks ago will testify.

The latest denizen of the northern forests to seek these wilds and then forsake them for the haunts of men is a fine four-year-old deer.

ment on the part of Mr. Bradburn, located over the fence and made off into the woods near the pasture. In a day or two Mr. Albert McNeil, who lives about a mile from Mr. Bradburn's, saw it come into his barnyard with the cattle one evening. There were two men present, and while the deer didn't seem at all afraid of them, it wouldn't let them get near it. The farm dog then caught the animal's eye, and the two stood riveted watching each other's movements. The two men then stole around behind among the cattle and caught the deer by the hind legs. Mr. McNeil now has it in a box stall in his stable where he can tend to it. Everyone for miles around has been to see it, and it has now become quite tame.

Onions Make Mirth.

(The Table.) If people would eat more onions the population would be a great deal healthier. Why are we bilious? Because we don't eat onions. You never saw a dyspeptic man eating onions, enough the deer by the hind legs. Mr. McNeil now has it in a box stall in his stable where he can tend to it. Everyone for miles around has been to see it, and it has now become quite tame.

EDITOR TO ENTER MINISTRY.

W.H. Cline, of Port Perry Star, Will Go to Buffalo.

W. H. Cline, for many years past editor of the Port Perry Star, has given up newspaper work and returned to th ministry. For years he has conducted the bright little Star in a progressive and business-like way, and has ever been advancing the interests of Port Perry through the columns of his paper. His removal to Buffalo, N. Y., will be regretted by his fellow townsmen.

Mr. Samuel Farmer, of Toronto, who for two years past has been a member of the staff of Saturday Night, has taken over the Star and will conduct it in future. In the first of such a competent man the Star is bound to progress, and with it the village.

Why Didn't He?

An Irishman in a brown study unthinkingly entered a field, where he soon awoke to find that he was not the only occupant. The beast, with horns down and tail horizontal, bared down on Erin, who, straining limb and nerve, and feeling that every bound was hastening a crisis, was bound to exclaim: "What an O'Connell!" When he ran away, why didn't he run the other way?

A CITIZEN'S GRIEVANCE

My lawn has taken a lot of hard work to keep it in good condition, but recently it has been made a sleeping place for a neighbor's ducks, and its appearance is being spoiled. One does not like to impugn any animal's belonging to a neighbor, but some things get to be too much of an imposition, and there is a limit to human endurance.

SOUTHWARDER.

A flourishing crop of burdocks hold undisputed possession of the east side of Bond st. on the west bank of the river. In a few days this ripening seed will have scattered on a wider area, insuring a larger crop for next season. The Street Commissioner should have them cut and burnt at once.

CITIZEN

Fair and Cool.

The sweet September days of song and the days of dream and story. The days of sweetness that belong to wonderlands of glory. The sweet September days go by. With all their tender feeling, Through earth the air and sea and sky. A mystic sweetness stealing.

On motion they were ordered to be paid.

Mr. J. D. Flavell said on his return from Winnipeg he was astounded to find that at a meeting of the Board in his absence the resignation of Mr. Harstone, head master of the Collegiate Institute, had been asked for. He understood no formal charges had been made by any person and the conclusion of the board had evidently been reached by paying attention to street rumors. He thought it a very unfair way to treat a man who had been in the employ for over 21 years, and during that time not one complaint had been made against him by the inspector. He believed Mr. H. was the best principal in the province, who had given our collegiate a provincial reputation that should be proud of. He stated that the board had been stumped during his absence by several of the older members, who had some personal feeling towards the principal and who had influenced the younger members. He did not expect to influence the older members, but thought that they had been stumped without cause by stories that the principal had lost his grip, the school was not doing good work, etc. He had been told in Toronto that Lindsay Collegiate sent up better students to the University than any school in the province and hundreds of pupils could testify of the good work. He thought it foreign to the interests of the school and the education of the children of our town to make a change in the principal and he wished to bring in the following resolution: "That the resignation of Mr. Harstone as head master of the Collegiate Institute be not accepted."

Dr. Walters as a seconder of Mr. Flavell's resolution, said that since the last meeting of the board he had made enquiries in reference to Mr. Harstone's work. He thought that it would be for the best interests of the school if his services were retained notwithstanding he had voted for the resolution passed at the last meeting of the Board asking for his resignation.

Mr. Staples said he wished to look the matter fairly in the face. The board had not been making the progress it should and they had been looking for the trouble and could locate it in no other point than with the principal. The matter had been brought up at a special meeting of the Board, and it was decided to vote it out. He thought that if it were to be a change, and he was still of the same opinion, it was not a personal matter with him as he had the greatest regard for Mr. Harstone as a gentleman and a citizen.

Moved by Mr. Staples seconded by Dr. Blanchard that the resignation of Mr. J. C. Harstone as principal of the Collegiate Institute be accepted.

Dr. Blanchard said that as seconder of the resolution, he had not come to his conclusion in a week or even a month, but it had been reached through several years of observation as a member of the Board. There was no personal feeling on his part as he respected Mr. Harstone, but only up to the change as he thought it to be in the best interests of the school.

Mr. Flavell thought that the conclusion had been reached by private caucus meetings engineered by the chairman, Mr. Anderson, and Mr. Staples. Mr. Stewart emphatically repudiated the accusation and said he had not discussed the matter outside of a board meeting with any member of the board.

At this point Mr. Anderson claimed a hearing as a point of privilege, and read the board an anonymous threatening letter he had received which intimated that if he voted for the acceptance of the resignation of Mr. Harstone his own official life in the employ of the Whitney Government might be brought to a conclusion. Mr. Anderson, after dealing with the contents of the letter, said he could not be influenced or intimidated by threats, but would do what he thought was right in the matter under any circumstances. He was not acting from any personal spleen, but what he thought would be in the best interests of the school. His conclusion had not been formed hastily but after due consideration. If Mr. Harstone could give satisfactory results in his work he would not oppose his retention. He did not care how the board accomplished it but results must be obtained that would satisfy the ratepayers.

Mr. McIntyre said he had received a good many complaints of the results of the last departmental examinations from the ratepayers and he would not be doing his duty as their representative if he did not heed them. It was true he was one of the younger members but he had given the matter careful thought when he had voted at the previous meeting and he was not prepared to move from his position as another member of the board had done.

Mr. McWaters said it was not a personal matter with him, but he had been moved by complaints from parents who had children attending the school who was not satisfied with the results of their work.

Mr. Carew said he was influenced in no way but for the interest of the school. The matter had been fully discussed at a former meeting of the board and he would take the same stand as he had done at that meeting.

Mr. J. W. Anderson said he personally was friendly to the principal, and his boys could understand his methods of teaching, but there were many people who could not, and he thought that for the general welfare of the school, a change would be beneficial.

Mr. Edwards said he had been at the former meeting when the action was taken, and he would like to know the charges.

Chairman Stewart said he had been accused by Mr. Flavell of having some personal feeling in the matter, which he wished to emphatically repudiate. He had always had the best of feeling for Mr. Harstone, and had counted him among his personal friends. He had given the interest of the school a great deal of thought and consideration. The chairman was often the last one to hear complaints, but many had reached him. He had seen for a long time that a change in the principalship would be an advantage to the school. He was the only man on the board when Mr. Harstone was engaged twenty-one years ago, and it came doubly hard to take the stand he was compelled to take, but the interest of the school would have to be considered before anything else.

Mr. Harstone said, he wished to hear some of the complaints that had been made against him. He said he had had no complaints from the board but he did not claim to be perfect. The complaints should be put in writing that he might defend himself. He did not wish, in any case, to withdraw his resignation.

Chairman Stewart said it was not necessary to formulate charges. It was an accumulation of complaints which the majority of the board felt they must recognize.

A vote was taken on Mr. Staples' resolution.

It was carried by a large majority that the resignation of Mr. Harstone as principal of the Collegiate Institute be accepted.

Mr. Harstone then withdrew from the hall.

At this point Mr. Anderson claimed a hearing as a point of privilege, and read the board an anonymous threatening letter he had received which intimated that if he voted for the acceptance of the resignation of Mr. Harstone his own official life in the employ of the Whitney Government might be brought to a conclusion. Mr. Anderson, after dealing with the contents of the letter, said he could not be influenced or intimidated by threats, but would do what he thought was right in the matter under any circumstances. He was not acting from any personal spleen, but what he thought would be in the best interests of the school. His conclusion had not been formed hastily but after due consideration. If Mr. Harstone could give satisfactory results in his work he would not oppose his retention. He did not care how the board accomplished it but results must be obtained that would satisfy the ratepayers.

Mr. McIntyre said he had received a good many complaints of the results of the last departmental examinations from the ratepayers and he would not be doing his duty as their representative if he did not heed them. It was true he was one of the younger members but he had given the matter careful thought when he had voted at the previous meeting and he was not prepared to move from his position as another member of the board had done.

Mr. McWaters said it was not a personal matter with him, but he had been moved by complaints from parents who had children attending the school who was not satisfied with the results of their work.

AS TOLD IN THE POETS' CORNER.

TWILIGHT IN THE COUNTRY.

(W. J. Funk.)
As twilight falls, the restless cares of day
Are softened, one by one; the toiler rests
Beside the stream, and sadness steals away.
The solemn hush of evening fills the air,
Waiting for night.
Along the western ridges, rosy-fair,
Lingers the light.
From out the glimmering distance
Draws the river,
Slowly gliding by,
While scarcely stirring breezes dusk
And shiver
The mirrored sky.
All sounds are stilled; the breathless woods and fields
Are steeped in rest.
High is the star-clear air, a lone bird wheels
Back to its nest.
All's still, save from the mountain distance comes a tingling breeze,
And whirling swarms of insects softly hum,
A drowsy spell.

The last light fades; the toiler's head is bare,
And bowed in reverence and fed with peace,
His self-recovering soul low breathes a prayer.

Mrs. J. A. Lang, Lindsay.

On Sunday morning, at ten o'clock, occurred the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Doherty, wife of Mr. J. A. Lang. Mrs. Lang was a member of one of Lindsay's best known families, being the daughter of the late John and Margaret Doherty, well known among the older residents of the town. Her sterling worth and an unblemished reputation for true honesty of purpose have any avail, then the deceased lady will live long in memory after her presence has fled. Perhaps none among us had more true friends in heart as well as in name than the late Mrs. Lang.
The funeral will take place from the late residence, 54 Lindsay-st., and from St. Mary's church on Tuesday morning, at nine o'clock.

MERRY WEDDING BELLS.

Ferguson—McNevin.

The marriage of Miss Jean MacNevin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James MacNevin, of Ottawa, to Mr. John M. Ferguson, barrister-at-law, Osgoode Hall, Toronto, was solemnized very quietly at St. Mary's church Wednesday, Sept. 25th, Ven. Archdeacon Casey officiating. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present.
The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. L. V. O'Connor, barrister, wore a handsome lace gown over soft satin and chignon with tulle veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower of roses and lilies of the valley. She also wore a pearl and amethyst necklace, the gift of the groom.
Miss Anna MacNevin attended her sister, and was prettily gowned in pale pink chiffon over taffeta with a skirt of shirred lace, white picture hat with plumes, and carried a sheaf of pink roses. The groom was supported by Mr. R. L. Brackin, of Chatham, and Mr. W. H. McGuire, of Niagara Falls, Ont., was usher.
After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, and carried to spend their honeymoon in New York and Washington. The bride wearing a smartly tailored suit of blue with touches of tan, white hat trimmed with velvet and flowers.

Heart Disease Caused Death.

Mrs. Stevens, mother of Wm. Stevens, of the G.T.R., and Robert Stevens, of Algonia, dropped dead at Louisa, Ontario, from heart disease, on Thursday last, and was buried at Seaford on Saturday. The deceased was well known to the older residents of Lindsay who will sympathize with the family in their bereavement.

Died at House of Refuge.

The death of James McIndoo, an inmate of the House of Refuge, occurred last Sunday about 9.30 o'clock, after a lingering illness of nearly two years.

Deceased had been in the Refuge during that period, and had always been a quiet respectable man. His death exceeded the allotted span of life by two years. Friends took the body for burial at Woodville cemetery.

Kipling in Canada.

Rudyard Kipling is coming to Canada. We hope he will hand us out something this time better than the "Lady of the Snows."—Daily Gaper.
Ghosts of our fathers, known of old,
Poet of snow in old Quebec,
By flights that failed, and harp-like rooms,
By many yawns I little reck,
Kipling, you've wronged us sorely—
Yet
We can forget, we can forget!
When you received in Old Quebec,
A sharp-flying snowball in the neck,
You shouldn't think that snowballs fly.
The most of June and all July,
Kipling, that's one thing we regret,
But we'll forget, yes, we'll forget.

PETERBORO POSTAL DELIVERY.

System inaugurated on Saturday Last Three Daily Deliveries.

Peterboro Review: The long looked for free postal delivery system has at last been inaugurated in Peterboro, and on Saturday morning the postmen delivered the mails for the first time. All the men were on hand sharp on time, and covered their districts with accuracy and quickness. Mr. R. B. Durston, the Deputy Superintendent of Post Offices, who has been here for some time superintending the work in connection with the system, is well satisfied with the way everything has proceeded, and says the men are more intelligent than the average mail carrier recruits.

A complete census of the city has been taken, and the name and address of corresponding members of different families in the city are known.

There will be 3 daily deliveries taken on, commencing at 7.30 a.m. and one at 1 p.m., which include the entire city. The whole staff of carriers will be employed in the distribution of the mails at these deliveries. At 10 o'clock in the morning there will be a delivery conducted by three men to the business section of the city.

SLOPER'S REFLECTIONS.

Some women are so deucedly particular that they would whitewash their coal if they weren't afraid of beetles in the cellar.
There's no doubt that men and women were made for one another, otherwise why is a man's arm twenty inches long and a girl's waist nineteen round?
Some chaps who take ten minutes to select the brand of whiskey they are going to drink, don't even look at the water before they pour it in.
The woman who says "I will," the loudest at the altar, is often the most emphatic in saying "I won't" afterwards.
Some men are so unlucky that nothing they attempt ever answers. I knew a chap once who couldn't even make an echo answer.
Many a fellow who will support a girl with pleasure for hours before marriage, grumbles horribly at having to do it afterwards.
Some people blame everything but themselves, like the man who cursed the eel because it wouldn't keep still to be skinned; or the sportsman who grumbled that hares were not made four inches longer, as he always shot that much behind them.

and then he would go to dine in the Low Countries.

Meanwhile Denise had returned safely to the Queen's apartments and after supper sat alone in her misery in the room which opened off the hall of the Queen's Guards. The curtains were drawn, but the door was ajar and she could hear a group of young nobles chattering as they played cards. Scattered remarks broke in on her bitter self-reproaches. Women's names, some of them her friends, some of them dancers at the opera, were being freely bandied about. It was intolerable, vile, and her cheek burned to think that she was with these men that the priests and the ministers and herself were working to overthrow the Pompadour. She rose to close the door and shut out the scandalous babble, when a remark uttered by the Comte de St. Denis sent a shiver through her.

"I tell you it is quite true," he was saying. "Mont Rouge has learned that she met the Chevalier at the Fountain of Neptune this very evening. But don't spill the wine on the dice, dear friend."

"But how did you learn?" several voices demanded.

"As one always does, from another woman, of course," Mont Rouge was carelessly rattling the dice-box.

"And you believe it?"

"Certainly. Your turn to throw, Des Forges. Gad! your hand is shaky to-night. Why should I not believe it? The Marquise, I suppose, is like the rest of her sex, and," he laughed softly, "the Chevalier is—the Chevalier."

Des Forges sniggered fatuously. "Sixes—sixes. Name of St. Denis! You speak like a m-marrried man, Mont Rouge."

"What is Mont Rouge's last scandal?" Andre had entered.

Half a dozen tongues eager with malice repeated the story. There was a pause. Denise stood thrilled. Her fate was in his hands.

"This is not scandal," Andre said slowly and very clearly. "It is a lie."

Chairs were excitedly pushed back. Dice-boxes and a table rolled over. Then dead silence.

"Yes," said the clear voice. "I repeat it is a lie."

"Monsieur le Vicomte," Mont Rouge was speaking with an affectation of marked politeness but his voice shook with passion. "I beg you to remember who is responsible for the story. You will withdraw that insult."

"At half-past six," Andre proceeded calmly, "I was at the Fountain of Neptune. The Chevalier de St. Amant was not there. The Marquise de Beau Sejour was not there. The Comte de Mont Rouge will therefore no doubt see fit to withdraw his insult."

"Where is the Chevalier de St. Amant?" Have the Chevalier fetched," suggested two or three.

"No," said Andre firmly. "This is not the Chevalier's affair. The Comte de Mont Rouge can deal with him when and how he pleases. For my part I repeat that the statement about the Marquise de Beau Sejour, for which apparently Monsieur le Comte is responsible, is a lie, and I have proved it."

"The Vicomte de Nerac talks," Mont Rouge answered fiercely, "as if his honor had been questioned."

"Yes, sir, it has until you have withdrawn what you said."

"And supposing I refuse to withdraw it, your dictation?"

"It would be only what I expect. Gentlemen, I now assert in the presence of you all that the Comte de Mont Rouge is a liar, and I shall continue to repeat it until—"

"No, sir," Mont Rouge interrupted. "You will not repeat that at half-past six to-morrow morning you will also in the presence of these gentlemen doubtless permit me to teach you that I am not to be insulted even by a Cordou Bleu!"

Andre bowed. "The Comte de St. Benoit will make the necessary arrangements," he said quietly, "with the gentlemen whom you will name."

The room slowly emptied. Andre paced to and fro. The curtain was sharply flung aside, and he saw Denise pale and trembling.

"You will not fight?" she pleaded.

"I have no choice, Mademoiselle."

"Oh, why did you say it?" she questioned passionately.

Pontchartrain, "It would put the most embarrassing ideas into his head."

The Abbe tilted into his lace handkerchief till he was checked by the ferocious glare of the devotees at his elbow. "You will see how vulgar the Pompadour can be," he said hurriedly.

"Inside out or outside in?" asked the Comtesse des Forges to annoy Mademoiselle Eugenie.

"Oh, do let it be seen," the Duchess pleaded, "whichever way it is."

The Abbe nodded mysteriously. He was as pleased as the rest of the company that afternoon with the progress of the great plot.

"You saw His Majesty's confessor?" The Duke de Pontchartrain had drawn Denise into a corner. "Is it satisfactory?"

"Eminently so. His Majesty listened with great attention, and was much impressed, his reverence thought."

"Good!" The Duke studied Denise's eyes and figure. What a magnificent corymb he would have made, to be sure, and how the diamonds he had just given to that perfidious mix Babette would have suited her. "The ministers," he added quietly, "have followed the confessor's recommendations. I hear they urged how unpopular the lady was in Paris. His Majesty likes popularity, you know, with the canaille."

"Yes," said Denise, "everything is going as we could wish."

Her eyes, like the Duke's, had unconsciously crossed the room, where Andre was talking to the Comtesse des Forges.

"We miss Mont Rouge," his Grace remarked carelessly. "He was a valuable friend to the cause." Like the rest of the Court the Duke was ignorant of what had brought about the duel, but the sudden color in Denise's cheeks and her silence confirmed his shrewd suspicions. "And," he added with the same carelessness, "I am not sure that De Nerac is—what shall I say?—altogether a friend."

"Why do you think that?" Denise asked almost proudly.

The Duke shrugged his shoulders. "My fancy, I suppose," he answered lightly. "Perhaps, however, our dear, evil-tongued friend yonder will convince him. She could convert St. Anthony if she really tried, eh?"

Denise knew that under this persiflage the Duke was studying her closely and she was greatly relieved that he now bowed himself away. For all his affectation of being a man of pleasure and nothing more she had divined his keen ability and wide knowledge of the world. He had talked to her and she was angry that she could not meet his searching gaze with the polished impenetrability that was his unique gift. She bitterly resented, too, that Andre should stand there basking in the languishing eyes of the Comtesse des Forges, who was never happy save when she was making her stammering attempt of a husband's unhappiness.

Two days had passed since that painful evening when he had parted from her in the Salle des Gardes de la Reine. He had proved his chivalry; he had triumphantly vindicated her honor; why did he not give her the opportunity to show that his conduct had appealed both to her pride and her heart? Why did he not come to ask and to receive forgiveness? Was it as gossip whispered, that he really preferred the Comtesse des Forges? Or was it, as the Duke had plainly hinted, because he really preferred, what was far worse the service and rewards of Madame de Pompadour? And reward him the mistress could, poor Denise was thinking, for to the surprise of the Court the King had simply ignored the duel though in other similar cases both victor and vanquished had been forbidden Versailles for a season. And Andre was still Captain of the Queen's Guards. Denise's foot beat on the floor. Yes, in the King's private salon Andre had a powerful protector, herself and her friends a dangerous enemy, yet her pride and gratitude alike forbade her to reveal the truth to her closest friends, the Queen, to the ministers, to the devotees, to the nobles working together for a common end.

CHAPTER XVII.

The Queen's ladies had been entertaining their friends, and the ante-chamber was well filled with a company of the most fashionable and powerful of the nobles, particularly of those high-born ladies and gentlemen who devoted whatever time they could spare from breaking the Ten Commandments with a dutiful courtesy to the amusement of political intrigues.

Strangely enough the Queen's friends were drawn from three very different types—there were the "devout," les devots, les rigoristes, to whom the free-thinking of the fashionable philosophers coming to be the mode in the Faubourg St. Germain was anathema.

There were the "snobs," the high-born of the bishops, with the high-born of the nobles who were their obedient pupils; there were the "fribbles," the great seigneurs with their wives and sisters and daughters privileged morally as well as politically if only the breach were made within their own class and with due regard to etiquette and good manners, the men and women born within the purple who sincerely believed that God could scarcely condemn a person of political quality to what would be mortal sin to a bourgeois; and there were the "snobs," the women above all of the inferior noblesse remorselessly struggling upwards who snatched at the splendid opportunity a queen's cause and a minister's cause offered. Monsieur the Dauphin, the prince of the bloods of the blood, was known to Madame de Pompadour, to be plotting her overthrow; that was enough. Surely with royalty lay the social future.

"Yes, to be sure," the Abbe St. Victor was explaining with the smile of the lay route to the Duchesse de Pontchartrain, "the King's sin would be only one-half as heinous if Madame de Pompadour were simply a widow or even a demurelle"; he took a pinch of snuff and regretfully shrugged his shoulders.

"Or if she were really vulgar," the Duchess interposed with the pouting staccato which she knew became her best. "I wonder if all bourgeois women are like her. She is not vulgar, alas, and really it is her duty to be vulgar. Pontchartrain says she dresses better than I do."

"That is mere outward show," the Abbe remarked, "as well as being not true."

"Wonder," the Duchess asked with an air of profundity, "if a woman can be vulgar inside without being vulgar outside."

"She is not a Christian," Mademoiselle Eugenie pronounced. "That is enough for me."

"But she goes regularly to mass," objected the puzzled Duchess.

"She shows her fine dresses to the Duke de Pontchartrain," Mademoiselle Eugenie said severely. "Clothes, Madame, have nothing to do with religion."

"For heaven's sake," cried the Duchess, alarmed, "don't say so to

Andre saluted her as he passed out On the threshold he paused to not quietly to the Chevalier de St. Amant who was entering. The young man was as gaily dressed as usual, but his boyish face was grave and sad. He whispered something to the Duke de Pontchartrain.

"Good heavens!" exclaimed his Grace, "impossible!"

"I wish it were," said the Chevalier, "but it is quite true."

"Dismissed!" The Comptroller-General dismissed! St. Benoit repeated and the news flew round the room. "But why? Why?"

"It is an intrigue," the Chevalier explained. "Messieurs Paris, the bankers, who are related to the Pompadour, have refused to do any further business with the Comptroller-General. And so His Majesty has dismissed not the bankers but the minister."

"You mean," remarked the Comtesse des Forges, "that the Pompadour has dismissed the Comptroller-General?"

"Exactly."

The consternation was general. "It is no laughing matter," the Duke de Pontchartrain pronounced. "This is the first time that that woman or any woman in her position has interfered with high affairs of state. It will not be the last."

"I knew she must be vulgar inside," cried his Duchess triumphantly. "It is a pity she dresses so well. The bankers pay, I suppose."

"It is an outrage," Mademoiselle Eugenie said.

"Dear lady," answered the Duke with his most finished scorn, "when a king owes twenty million livres to a pair of money-lenders and wants twenty million more you will find that it is they, not the Court, who can protest."

"And that is not all," the Chevalier proceeded grimly. "His Majesty has been pleased to promise the reversion of the Comptroller-General's place to the Marquis de Vaudreuil."

"Impossible! Impossible!" The consternation increased, for the Marquis till a few weeks before had been better known as Abel Poisson, Madame de Pompadour's brother.

"Charming," said the Duke, "if His Majesty must make marquises from the gutter at the bidding of a griffin, I am all the more ready to obey him. He is the master of the public finances and to pay their way by plunder. What is His Majesty's next whim, Chevalier?"

"What it will be to-morrow, Monsieur, I cannot say. The King has been pleased to do no more to-day than what I have said."

"And a very pretty day's work it has been," his Grace replied. "Well, ladies, I have only one piece of advice to offer you. Smile, smile, smile, for if you protest Madame la Marquise de Pompadour will turn her attention to you. Do not forget that she has a pretty bourgeois daughter eight years old to whom the post of maid of honor to her Majesty would be a delightful and profitable education."

Andre saluted the company, and taking most of the men with him withdrew, for the situation was sufficiently grave to demand an instant conference.

All the heart and gaiety had already been struck out of the ladies. The Chevalier's dejected air, so strange to his careless and irrepressible spirit, was the most telling comment on the menace in his news. To the angry indignation and rapid questions of the ladies he now replied with melancholy brevity. The King was infuriated and obdurate, and Madame de Pompadour was plainly determined to make him the instrument of her vulgar vengeance.

"She has captured the King," the young man remarked in his gloomiest tones. "She will now coerce the Queen. Her ambition is to be mistress of the robe and thus to rule all Versailles."

The mere suggestion of such an outrage on precedent and etiquette made the ladies speechless with horror. A bourgeois mistress of the robes! It was unthinkable—blasphemous. As if her Majesty in dressing could take even the simplest garment except from the hands of a princess of the blood or of a duchess.

"You forget, Madame," the Chevalier remarked dryly, "that the King's will is law. Le Roi gouverne par lui-même."

They were the words of Louis XIV. To-day they can still be read as the motto of Le Roi Soleil in the centre of the superb ceiling of that Galerie des Glaces at Versailles which enshrines for all generations the imperial ambitions of the king who made it. Arrogant words, but true.

Thereafter the Chevalier stood at the window watching the gathering gloom. His dejection was not acting. His boyish face was almost tragic in its gravity. Presently he rose and began to pace up and down, wrestling with his thoughts, until he became suddenly aware that Denise had re-entered and was looking at him in questioning silence.

"Mademoiselle," he advanced to meet her. "I have no comfort for you. Before long I shall be bidding you adieu for ever."

Her eyes invited an explanation, but she said nothing.

"I speak seriously," he proceeded. "You and your friends, Mademoiselle, are aware that I am with you heart and soul in the desire to overthrow this woman who will ruin all I have been able to do in the past, as you know, and to serve the cause by my own information that I learned as His Majesty's confidential secretary. At your request I have to the best of my power abstained from appearing publicly to be of your party, for His Majesty is suspicious and jealous. But I fear from to-day my services must end."

"Why?" The single word revealed both anxiety and sympathy.

"His Majesty has signified that for the present he will conduct his private correspondence by himself. It is the first step. The next will be that His Majesty no longer needs my services in any capacity, that I am free, he laughed, with gentle bitterness, "to leave Versailles. Yes, Mademoiselle, I can no longer help your cause."

"That—that woman—" Denise began.

"Certainly. This is her doing. I stood between her and such secrets as His Majesty was pleased to entrust to me, secrets not known to ministers and to the Court. So long as I was private secretary that woman was not the King's master. But when I am finally dismissed she will rule the King body and soul."

"Oh, cannot it be stopped?"

"No, Mademoiselle. I am not as his grace of Pontchartrain a great noble, not even a Comptroller-General. I am the King's creature, just as she is His Majesty's. She will ruin me to-morrow."

"This is dreadful," Denise murmured. "Without your help, your information, your private influence with the King, we shall be beaten, humiliated."

Andre saluted her as he passed out On the threshold he paused to not quietly to the Chevalier de St. Amant who was entering. The young man was as gaily dressed as usual, but his boyish face was grave and sad. He whispered something to the Duke de Pontchartrain.

The mere suggestion of such an outrage on precedent and etiquette made the ladies speechless with horror. A bourgeois mistress of the robes! It was unthinkable—blasphemous. As if her Majesty in dressing could take even the simplest garment except from the hands of a princess of the blood or of a duchess.

"You forget, Madame," the Chevalier remarked dryly, "that the King's will is law. Le Roi gouverne par lui-même."

They were the words of Louis XIV. To-day they can still be read as the motto of Le Roi Soleil in the centre of the superb ceiling of that Galerie des Glaces at Versailles which enshrines for all generations the imperial ambitions of the king who made it. Arrogant words, but true.

Thereafter the Chevalier stood at the window watching the gathering gloom. His dejection was not acting. His boyish face was almost tragic in its gravity. Presently he rose and began to pace up and down, wrestling with his thoughts, until he became suddenly aware that Denise had re-entered and was looking at him in questioning silence.

"Mademoiselle," he advanced to meet her. "I have no comfort for you. Before long I shall be bidding you adieu for ever."

Her eyes invited an explanation, but she said nothing.

"I speak seriously," he proceeded. "You and your friends, Mademoiselle, are aware that I am with you heart and soul in the desire to overthrow this woman who will ruin all I have been able to do in the past, as you know, and to serve the cause by my own information that I learned as His Majesty's confidential secretary. At your request I have to the best of my power abstained from appearing publicly to be of your party, for His Majesty is suspicious and jealous. But I fear from to-day my services must end."

"Why?" The single word revealed both anxiety and sympathy.

"His Majesty has signified that for the present he will conduct his private correspondence by himself. It is the first step. The next will be that His Majesty no longer needs my services in any capacity, that I am free, he laughed, with gentle bitterness, "to leave Versailles. Yes, Mademoiselle, I can no longer help your cause."

Mary had a little lamb
It's wool was soft and white,
It made a blanket for her bed
To keep her warm at night.

Mary's Lamb's Wool Blanket,
Was Manufactured at the Lindsay Woollen Mills.

For over half a century members of this firm have been engaged in manufacturing Woollens. Experimenting, studying, learning more about making blankets all the time. So our blankets are constructed to stand the test and are absolutely unshrinkable. Our blankets are the warmest for the least weight, because we use only the soft silky lambs' fleeces. Our blankets have the wearing qualities because the wool is skillfully carded, finely spun and closely woven. They are finished with a short soft napp which does not come off. Do not buy blankets with a lofty napp if you want it to wear or wash well.

Ask your merchant for our goods. If not in stock send direct to our mills and get the home-made quality.

Prices from $2.50 to $5.50 per pair.

PETERBORO FAIR A FAILURE

Much Vaunted Industrial May Have a Deficit.

Evening Post of Sept. 28.
Despite strenuous efforts on the part of the directors and columns of verbiage vaunting the fair, from the press of that town, the Peterboro Industrial was a failure yesterday, and the weather gave it a complete knock-out blow to-day. The chances are, according to authentic reports, the directors will have to meet a deficit. Peterboro has been striving for some time to have a first-class fair, but without avail, and the Lindsay Central continues to be the "best fall fair in the Midland district." (Mr. D. C. Trew and Mr. J. A. Williamson attended the Peterboro Industrial yesterday, and although Mr. Trew said the poultry exhibit was fair, the general exhibits and especially the attendance was discouraging. Barely 2,500 were present—a third of the attendance at the Lindsay Central. To-day's rain will complete the failure.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Jas. Houghton, Ops.
The many friends of Mrs. Tom Collins, St. Peter-st., will sympathize with her in the death of her sister, Annie (Mrs. Jas. Houghton) which took place in Ops on Saturday, the 14th day of September. The deceased lady had been in poor health for about two years, but was not thought to be in any danger till about three months ago, when she began to fail very quickly. She never gave up hopes of regaining her health till taken to her bed six weeks before her death. She bore her trials with patience and calm resignation, firm in the belief of a glorious hereafter, and was well prepared to meet her Redeemer.

She was well and favorable known throughout the neighborhood in which she died, having lived the greater part of her lifetime there, it being her birthplace. Beside a sorrowing husband she leaves four small children, the oldest a girl of nine and the youngest a baby of six months to mourn her early demise.

Bell Telephone Co's Extensions.

Lindsay is now in telephone connection with Udney, Monkroad and Rathbon on the Canadian Northern Ontario Railway owing to an extension recently built from Beaverton to these towns. A line has also been completed. Mr. T. J. Tilly informs us, from Cobocook to Norland.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

The Establishment of God's Kingdom on Earth—Articles Bearing on Church Work at Home and Abroad—Carefully Selected Contributions will be Received for Publication in this Column.

Whitby Methodists are arranging to have Messrs. Crossley & Hunter, evangelists, visit that town Oct. 6 to 20.

Those of our farmers and others will take courage from the following passage of scripture: "He that gathered much had nothing over, and he that gathered little had no lack."

A Methodist negro exhorter shouted: Come up on jine de army, ob de Lord! I'd don jine, replied one of the congregation. "What'd you jine?" asked the exhorter. In de Baptist church. Why chile yoh ain't in de army! Yoh's in de navy.

Rev. John Mowat, a Knox graduate of 1881, who has given many years of faithful service in the West, and who has retired from the active work, is leaving this week for Scotland, his native land, where he expects to spend the evening of his life.

Rev. W. Carlyle gives an emphatic denial that Church Army emigrants to Canada are wastrels, jailbirds and strikebreakers, as described at the Trades Congress in Winnipeg. The statement, he says, is a gross libel upon men whose only fault is their misfortune.

The best men have been made what they are by trials, which are part of the discipline of life. If sin is discovered to us by temptation so is virtue.—Rev. John Grimshaw.

When President Roosevelt was told that intervention in the coal strike would blast his future, he set his teeth and said: "Yes, I suppose it ends me, but it is right, and I will do it."

The ministers of Oshawa and three laymen from each church met last Friday evening in Board Room of the Methodist church, to consider the advisability of entering upon a Temperance Campaign this fall. A large and more representative meeting of citizens will, in all probability, be called in the near future.

Yesterday was Children's Day at the Presbyterian Sunday school, and a special programme was arranged for the afternoon. The parents were invited and many attended. After prayer and singing a member from each class rose and stated the number in the class present and the number on the roll. Mr. Cornish, the superintendent, then addressed the scholars briefly. A special collection was taken up, amounting to nearly $22.

Presbyterian: The remarks of the bishop of London about "putting on side" recall a little story about Bishop Potter, of New York. He received a letter from Bishop Doane, of Albany which fairly crackled with episcopal starch and dignity. The letter was signed "William Albany." Bishop Potter, replying to the letter said: "Dear Doane, I wish you lived in Buffalo instead of Albany. It would be so familiar and pleasant to address you as 'Buffalo Bill.'"

Presbyterian: On one occasion Henry Ward Beecher had a number of letters handed to him at the pulpit with questions for answers and discussion. Among them was an envelope which contained a sheet of paper on which was written the single word "fool". The great preacher read it with grave and serious face and said: "I have often known people to write letters and forget to sign their names, but this is the first instance I have known of a man signing his name and forgetting to write the letter."

At a recent meeting of the Peterboro presbytery, Rev. C. S. Lord, of Grafton, accepted a call to Fenelon Falls. The Peterboro Review says: The Fenelon Falls representatives presented their needs in impressive terms. Rev. Mr. Wallace, of Lindsay, moderator of Fenelon Falls session, supported their claim. The call was then placed in the hands of Mr. Lord, who accepted it, and the presbytery also sustained the call. The pulpits at Grafton and Vernonville, will be declared vacant on the second Sunday in October. Mr. Gilbert, Gen. of Hamilton, was appointed to take charge of Pontypool, Janetville and Ballyduff.

SERMONS DELIVERED AT THE CHURCHES LAST SUNDAY.

AT ST. ANDREW'S.

In the evening at the Presbyterian church Rev. Jns. Wallace preached a sermon on Moses' descent from Mount Sinai bearing with him the tablets of stone on which were engraved the ten commandments, how that his face shone gloriously as he addressed the assembled Israelites. The text for his discourse was Exodus 34th chap., 29th verse, "And it came to pass, when Moses came down from Mount Sinai with the two tablets of testimony in Moses' hand, when he came down from the mount, that Moses' face shone while he talked with him."

The pastor drew an apt lesson to be learned from Moses' experience how he had gone into the darkness and found God, to his gain. He came from the darkness with the ten commandments for the world's enlightenment and man's eternal gain. It was his coming into contact with God that caused Moses' face to be glorified. Moses was an epistle of Christ, and if the mother and father were an epistle of Christ, what a different home it would be! If the employer were an epistle of Christ, what a change would be wrought in the factory! Where true Godliness exists, it will kindle into activity whatever spark of Godliness is in the ones with whom it comes in contact.

In the evening the choir sang the anthem, "Holy Art Thou, Lord God Almighty", Miss Minnie Gray taking the solo and "Ye shall dwell in the Land, Miss Maggie Gray and Mr. J. N. Gray taking the solo parts."

AT ST. PAUL'S.

Last evening a very pleasant and instructive service was held in St. Paul's church to give thanks for the bounteous harvests we have had in the surrounding country. The church was appropriately decorated with sheaves of grain and fruit, with which the district abounds. The Rev. Mr. Marsh took charge of the service and took the text for his sermon, which was a singularly appealing one, from John, 14th chap., and 16th verse. Mr. Marsh said, "Again we have harvested another year's crop, and although in parts of Ontario the crops were light, still we are not to be discouraged. We have had a large harvest, and for this we are gathered this evening to give thanks. But there are other harvests besides this earthly one. There is the harvest of sin, and that of righteousness. 'As ye sow, so shall ye reap.' One can think of no sadder thing than for God to say, 'Let the sinner alone; let him sink deeper and deeper in his iniquity; let the drunkard go deeper and deeper into degradation; let the wife man become fiercer and fiercer; let the sinner have a living death in his own particular sin. Through this truth of sin's harvest is death and trouble. God does not wish this for us. He has done all heaven could think of to rescue sinners. God has no pleasure in him that dies the awful death. Fruit trees are beautiful in summer with their blossoms, out far more beautiful laden in the fall with their rich harvests. So it is with the fields, and so with humanity. The church goes through life growing better and better. One cannot tell when the sinner will come. The sinner is being thrust in here and there all the time, and happy indeed are those who die in the law, who bear a goodly harvest of righteousness. There are many pleasures we may enjoy on this earth. There are many pleasures, games, pleasing sights and sounds which we may partake of without solution, but these are as nothing to the things beyond. We don't think enough and talk enough of our elder brother who has gone to prepare a place for us. Let us be truly thankful for our mercies and grow steadily in the knowledge and love of God, in everything beautiful, and be prepared when the judge comes."

Mr. W. Perkins rendered a very pleasing solo during the offertory, and the spirit of the harvest time hymns sung during the service was very helpful to the congregation.

QUEEN-ST. METHODIST.

The beautiful custom of rendering thanks to an Almighty Father for a bounteous harvest by dedicating a Sabbath for that sole purpose was observed at the Queen-st. Methodist church yesterday, when special services, interspersed with delightful music, were held.

Rev. H. Harper, M.A., of Uxbridge, preached at both services, and addressed the united Sunday school classes in the afternoon. The sermon in the morning was from the text, "Let us, therefore, come boldly unto the throne of grace that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need," Peter, 5th chap., 16th verse, and was a revelation to approach our Heavenly Father confidently, knowing his deep sympathy for our welfare, and that he is an high priest touched with feeling of our infirmities.

That we should place the fullest confidence in God when we approach as throne of mercy was impressed on the congregation. Illustrative of the feeling with which we should make our appeals to our divine Father, he cited cases of the confidence one feels in warm earthly friends, and how ready one is to pludge the other. How much more confidently should we approach our dearest friend, His grace and strength, the only support of mankind.

The choir rendered the anthems, "Ye shall dwell in the land," and "The hills of Galilee," the voices blending harmoniously. In the evening Percy Mulhern, the boy soprano rendered a pleasing solo.

The church was prettily decorated for the occasion, and floral decorations surrounded the pulpit.

They'd ought to learn to play.

Coughs of Children

Especially night coughs. Nature needs a little help to quiet the irritation, control the inflammation, check the progress of the disease. Our advice is—give the children Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask your doctor if this is his advice also. He knows best. Do as he says. We have no secrets! We publish the formulae of all our preparations.

ACCIDENT AT KINMOUNT

Young Married Man Terribly Injured in Runaway.

Evening Post of Sept. 27.

Pinned helpless to the ground with a load of wood on top of him and badly injured by being run over by his wagon, Neil Wilson, a young married man living in Kinmount, son of ex-Reeve Wilson, of Somerville, was in a terrible predicament yesterday morning at Kinmount. He had been hauling wood and when going down Forester's hill a few blocks of wood fell off, and the horses became frantic, finally upsetting the load of wood on the unfortunate driver. A wheel of the wagon passed over his body. When taken out the man was in a precarious condition and a doctor was called and attended him. The extent of his injuries are not known as yet, but fears are expressed for his recovery, the injuries being for the most part internal.

The victim of the dreadful accident was married, and has a family of three or four children. The entire neighborhood is in the deepest gloom over the accident.

THE FLORAL DISPLAY.

Asters in Profusion at Show—Names of Prize Winners.

Evening Post of Sept. 27.

Gorgeous in varied hues and arranged harmoniously, the profusion of asters that greeted the visitors at the school children's flower show last night presented a pleasing sight. The flowers were in bouquets and placed on tables, and some excellent specimens were displayed.

The Horticultural Society had prepared the old Council chamber for the show, and the big room was crowded last night, particularly with the children, and also with a fair sprinkling of fond parents. The show was originated for the children's benefit, and they took full advantage of it. Such crowds of youngsters and such excited chattering and laughing, the old hall could never have seen before. Some of the teachers were present, but even an occasional stern glance from them failed to quiet the children.

The flower display was eminently satisfactory, to all concerned. Eager interest was taken in it by the children, and taste was displayed in the arrangement of the bouquets. The boys were no less interested than the girls and they captured several first and second prizes. Ten rooms were entered, and Miss McLaughlin, of the Central school had 15 entries in her room, Miss Wray, of the Francis-st. school being a close second with 14 entries.

The first prize in each room competition was a sum of 50c, the second prize 25c, and the third flower prize 10c. Besides these special prizes were Mrs. Maxson, Mrs. Sutcliffe and Mrs. T. Stewart. The prize winners are as follows:

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the Constitutional. The former, Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, breaks local weakness and discharges, while the Restorative, enters nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambulation, builds up wasted tissues, brings about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well the system.

Counting Police Court

Evening Post of Sept. 28.

(W. B. Fee had a grievance against G. H. M. Baker for anchoring crabs to a post he claimed was his, and the trouble was brought before Magistrate Moore to decide. The affair was so trivial the Magistrate advised them to settle it out of court, while the case was enlarged until next Saturday. McDairmid prosecuted. Fulton defended.

Albert Walker was fined $22 in all, with an option of two months at hard labor by Magistrate Jackson yesterday for assaulting Charlie Curtin on Friday last. It seems Curtin was too drunk to effectually defend himself. He had brushed past Walker in a drunken way, tilting the latter's hat, and Walker had "lit into him," to use a pugilistic expression, badly battering him up. The affair occurred in the King Edward hotel.

Another assault case was threshed out. A man named Davis had attacked Special Constable McGill on the middle day of the fair. Davis was in an inebriate condition, and persisted in staying on the race track, and McGill had struck him with his oaten. That night while McGill was standing in the C. P. R. uptown ticket office Davis came along and attacked him with his fist, inflicting a wound. The offence cost Davis $10.65, including costs.

IMPORTANT NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

Told in Interesting Form by the Bright Correspondents of
The Post at the Various Centres.

KIRKFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Miss Bell Campbell, teacher at Argyll, was home for a few days suffering from a severe cold.

Mr. W. J. Mitchell and family have moved from Balsam Lake, and are settled in their Kirkfield home. Mr. Mitchell has had several improvements added to his handsome residence during the summer.

Mrs. William Mackenzie and family are spending the autumn at the Kirkfield house.

Mr. A. A. Spitzer, who is engaged on the G.P.R. construction at Woodbridge, spent Sunday with his family here.

Mr. S. Moore, of Mobile, U.S.A., is visiting the Rev. Mr. Turner. Recent showers have greatly assisted plowing, and have also, to a slight but appreciable degree, raised the water in the wells.

A most enjoyable evening was spent on Monday last at the home of Mr. J. Hunter, when an elaborate reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Roland Healy upon their arrival after an extended wedding tour to various points. The happy couple arrived on the 7:30 P.M. and were heartily welcomed. A large number of the friends and relatives present showered congratulations on the young couple, who are and have been, two of our most popular young people. The fact that they are to reside in our midst is most cheering, as their removal from us would indeed be a loss to the community. All present seemed so joyful in the presence of the popular couple, that delight was portrayed in every countenance and the games engaged in were entered into with full heart.

The drawing room rang with music, vocal and instrumental, until five hours seemed but minutes. As the evening neared its close, a most bounteous repast was partaken of, after which speeches were made and the health of the bride and groom drank from flowing glasses. All were unanimous in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Healy a most happy and prosperous life. After singing "Auld Lang Syne," the guests dispersed.

COBOCONK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. and Mrs. Terrill and Miss Terrill of Fenelon Falls, were visitors in town on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Moore, of Millbrook, have moved here, and have taken rooms in Mr. W. Phillips' house on Water-st.

County Treasurer McNeill, Engineer Smith, of Lindsay, Warden Parkins, of Fenelon, passed through town on Wednesday, on their way to Norland, in interests of the county in connection with the new bridge being built over the Gull River at that place. They were joined here by Councilor Callan.

The Kawartha brought her full number of passengers from Fenelon Falls on Friday.

The G. T. R. have discontinued the afternoon train on this branch for the fall and winter months. The improved service was much appreciated by the public generally while it lasted.

The water dropped in the river here on Saturday night, and Sunday some 2 or 3 feet. The Gull River Lumber Co. were unable to operate their large mills here on this account for a few days the beginning of the week, and in consequence some 30 or 35 men were thrown out of employment.

Despite the very unfavorable weather, the Cobocconk fair held on Tuesday of last week was in some ways a success. As the attractions held out attendance here was not very good, the large, but the gates receipts for 1907 were considerable in excess of 1906.

In the hall the showing of roots and vegetables was fully up to last year's, and in some cases a much better showing was made than in 1906.

There was a great falling off in the fruit, especially in apples. The showing in fancy work was far in excess of anything ever seen in the hall before. Outside the hall everything was about as 1906, except in the horses there showed a great falling off. Taken altogether the directors have reason to be more than satisfied.

SCOTCH LINE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A large number attended the Bobcaygeon fair last week and reported the exhibition on display to exceed in number, variety, and excellence those of preceding years. A goodly number of red tickets came to the exhibitors of our own.

Mr. Will Lewis was the recipient of a splendid prize offered by the department of agriculture for the best sample of oats, the appearance of the crop as it stood before being cut, and also as it stood in the stack. Mr. Lewis received in cash $25, and while the Stock Show is being carried on in Guelph this winter, will be given a free trip. As Mr. Lewis is a man well known among stock men for the interest he takes in stock in general, they will join with us in congratulating him on his success.

Children's day was observed in the Presbyterian church last Sunday over seventy-five children taking part in the service.

Miss Sadie Mackenzie left on Monday to attend the Normal school at Toronto.

Mr. Hugh Logan returned from Cobalt last week. We understand he has staked out several claims there.

Work will begin on the new school this week. A large force of men will be employed, so as to rush the work before winter sets in. This will be good news to the teachers and pupils of the village.

We hope that some of our progressive citizens will see that a skating rink is provided for our young people this winter, so that they will not have to go outside for amusement.

Mr. and Mrs. Sukhot are rejoicing over the arrival of a little daughter.

LINDEN VALLEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Corn cutting and silo filling are the order of the day.

The new gasoline engine gives good satisfaction, and Mr. Birchard is to be congratulated on getting a fine machine. With Mr. Russell Birchard as engineer and Mr. J. E. Terrill as manager of the cutting box, Mr. J. T. Birchard and D. W. Terrill had the silo filled in short order.

Miss Maggie McKay has returned to her home, after spending the summer with her aunt in Calgary.

The new telephone line among the farmers between here and Oakwood is giving good satisfaction.

Mr. Edwin and Hiram Rogers are coming on the line this fall.

Mrs. J. E. Terrill won Gough's $5 prize at Oakwood last week for dairy butter. This added to the fact that Mrs. Terrill won the five first prizes at Lindsay Central Fair this year as well as last year for dairy butter makes stand very high in Victoria county.

DUNSFORD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

About fifty people boarded the noon train last Wednesday, bound for Bobcaygeon fair. The train was crowded with visitors, and several had to stand in the aisles, and on the platforms.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. Silas Thurston were among the visitors at Peterboro fair last week.

W. Wallace, commercial traveller, of Lindsay, called on Dunsford customers last Monday.

Miss Ruby Kennedy spent the latter part of last week in Dunsford, visiting friends.

There are three or four telephones in Dunsford now, and are proving to be very convenient.

READY CASH IS SUPREME

In the business world ready cash is supreme. Last week a maker of high-grade clothing found his firm short of cash and long in stock--his goods had sold well, but payments were very slow--his large stock must be turned into cash--we were asked to make a bid, but as we already had completed our buying and our stock was in good shape, we hesitated to even bid, though we knew the clothing was high-grade--however we made a ridiculously low offer, and to our surprise our offer was accepted—but we have decided not to place these goods in stock, hence

Telegraphy Opens the Way

TO A SUCCESSFUL LIFE

Several thousand Telegraph Operators will be required by the various Railway companies within the next nine months.

ON AUGUST 1st, I will open a School in Lindsay, to be known as the

National School of Telegraphy

Board here is reasonable, and all ordinary students should graduate here within six months. Write or see me for terms. The greatest and most successful managers of to-day have, with rare exception, risen from the ranks of the operators.

Salaries of operators run from $50 to $80 per month, according to the importance of the position. Operators who are Agents, make from $60 to $100 per month, and are always eligible for promotion. Lady operators for commercial work are in great demand.

Qualifications necessary are few but absolutely essential, viz.: a common school education, strict sobriety, honesty, industry and carefulness.

Sir William C. Van Horne, of C.P.R. fame, began his railway career as an operator, so did J. W. Leonard, C. W. Spencer, Geo. C. Jones, and scores of others, all now holding high positions.

REPORT OF POLICE COURT DEPARTMENT

For June, July, August and September—Statement of Receipts
Commentaries by Chief Vincent—Grand Jurors Report on Look-up Exaggerated—Items of Interest.

The period of my probation having now come to an end, I would merely say that I hope I have been found capable and efficient for the office of chief constable, and should, gentlemen, now feel disposed to confirm the appointment. I hope there will be no cause for complaint in your selection.

JUNE REPORT.
To the Police Commissioners of the Town of Lindsay:—

Gentlemen,—Herewith I beg to submit my report for the month of June for your consideration. The number of cases dealt with by the Police Magistrate were twenty-five, being ten more than last month. Amount of fines and penalties imposed.....$130.65
Amount of fines and penalties collected.....57.70
Amount of carters' licenses collected.....6.50
Amount of cab licenses collected.....15.00
Amount of delivery licenses collected.....10.00
Amount of Town Property rent collected.....1.00
Amount of poll tax collected.....1.00

The suggestions made last month with reference to a police office and sundry repairs to it and articles wanted in the look-up have not yet been attended to. I am afraid if the rails are not supplied for the various bells, that a nuisance will be caused by effluvia arising.

RALPH C. VINCENT,
Chief Constable.
Lindsay, June 30th, 1907.

JULY REPORT.
To the Police Commissioners of the Town of Lindsay:—

Gentlemen,—Herewith I beg to submit my report of the work of the Lindsay Police Department for the month of July. There were 26 cases dealt with by the Police Magistrate, being one more than last month. Several serious offences have found their way into the police court, namely: Breaches of the Liquor License Act, taking part in an affray, resisting arrest, and also four cases of uttering forged notes to the Farmers Bank of Canada. The other cases were more or less breaches of the town by-laws.

Amount of fines and penalties imposed.....$184.90
Amount of fines and penalties collected.....105.90
Amount of cab licenses collected.....5.00
Amount of carters' licenses collected.....4.00
Amount of pedlars' licenses collected.....50.00
Amount of dog tax collected.....15.00
Amount of booth licenses collected.....4.00
Amount of circus licenses collected.....50.00
Amount of town property rent collected.....6.00

County fees received by me and paid town treasurer.....7.75
The necessity of the town Council providing a police office has been shown during the present month. In connection with the counterfeiting case, we had occasion to take into our possession for search, certain trunks and bags, and as we had no other place to put them for security, we had to take the said trunks and bags to the county jail. This was very inconvenient to all parties, and could have been obviated if we had suitable accommodation.

The suggestions made with reference to the look-up have not been acted upon.

CHIEF VINCENT WILL HAVE PRIVATE OFFICE

Decided at Meeting of Town Council Monday—Poll Tax Collector to be Appointed—Reports of Committee Received and General Work Done—Cigarette By-law Passed.

A regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening, with Mayor Vrooman in the chair, and Messrs. Begg, De-vee, Jordan and Aldermen Rea, Eyres, Jordan and Weldon present.

The minutes of former meeting held during the month of September were read and approved.

The following communications were read by the clerk:

From Mr. W. J. Garnet asking for a plank walk on Adelaide-st. north of the Village of Woodville, in the County of Victoria, Pump-maker, Insolvent.

Notice is hereby given that the said Thomas Holder-Barnes, carrying on business as pump-maker in the Village of Woodville, has made an assignment under R.S.O. 1897, Chapter 147, of all his estate, credits and effects to Neil Patterson of the Village of Woodville, in the County of Victoria, for the benefit of his creditors.

The meeting of creditors will be held at the office of McLaughlin, Peel & Fulton, in the Town of Lindsay, on Saturday, November 9th, 1907, at the hour of two o'clock in the afternoon, to receive a statement of affairs, appoint inspectors and order the affairs of the estate generally. Creditors are requested to file their claims with the said firm, on or before the 31st day of October, 1907.

And notice is further given that after the 31st day of October, 1907, the Assignee will proceed to distribute the assets of the estate among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claim of which notice shall have been given. That he will not be liable for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claims he shall not then have had notice. Dated at Lindsay this 7th day of October, A.D., 1907.

NEIL PATTERSON, Assignee.
McLAUGHLIN, PEEL & FULTON, Solicitors for Assignee.—w2.

The above matters were referred to the Board of Works.

The report of the Market Clerk showing the fees and tolls of the market for the month of September was read and ordered to be filed.

The several reports of the Chief Constable for the months of June, July, August and September were read by the Clerk and on motion were ordered to be filed.

On motion Mr. R. M. Beall was heard by the Council stating that the Socialist speaker to Lindsay on the 17th, 18th and 19th of October, and having opened his mind, he was asked for the use of the town hall in the event of their meeting with inclement weather.

On motion the request of Mr. Beall was granted.

On motion Mr. Rat was heard by Council asking for a board walk be constructed on Albert-st. south of Durham-st., about 135 yards in length—Referred to the Board of Works for consideration.

Report No. 7 of the Police and Licensing Committee was read by Mr. Vincent, and on motion was adopted.

Report No. 7 of the Town Property Committee was read by the chairman and on motion was adopted.

Report No. 8 of the Board of Works was read by the chairman and on motion was adopted.

Moved by Mr. Rea, seconded by Mr. Weldon, that the chairman of the Finance Committee be authorized to interview Mr. William Thornbury with the view of appointing him collector of poll taxes upon a commission of fifteen per cent., and to make the appointment provided Mr. Thornbury is willing to accept same.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Eyres, seconded by Mr. Begg, that by-law No. 1127 to amend by-law No. 1086 to license and regulate the owners and occupiers of stores, shops, (other than taverns and shops holding licenses under the Liquor License Act) where cigarettes are sold by retail be now read and read a first time.—Carried.

The Council then went into a Committee of the whole on said by-law, Mr. Eyres in the chair.

The committee rose and reported said by-law read a second time without amendment.

Moved by Mr. Eyres, seconded by Mr. Begg, that by-law No. 1127 to amend by-law No. 1086 to license and regulate the owners and occupiers of stores, shops, (other than taverns and shops holding licenses under the Liquor License Act) where cigarettes are sold by retail be now read a third time, passed, signed and sealed.

The Council considered the advisability of transferring the Chief Constable with a private office, and after a lengthy discussion it was moved by Mr. Eyres, seconded by Mr. William Jordan, that the chairman of the Town Property Committee be authorized to enlarge the present porch in the rear corner of the Council chamber, making same suitable for a private office.

AUGUST REPORT.
To the Police Commissioners of the Town of Lindsay:—

Gentlemen,—Herewith I beg to submit my report of the work of the Lindsay Police Department for the month of August. The number of cases dealt with by the Police Magistrate were 17, being 9 less than last month, and the majority of these cases were brought under the Public Health Act of Ontario.

Amount of fines and penalties imposed.....$36.00
Amount of fines and penalties collected.....45.25
Amount of carters' licenses collected.....1.50
Amount of dog taxes collected.....49.00

There have been a number of complaints in regard to vicious dogs. These I have inquired into in every case. The town Council have complained of injury to the grass in the public park by people walking across it, and I am now taking such steps as to cause a cessation of the offence.

RALPH C. VINCENT,
Chief Constable.
Lindsay, August 31st, 1907.

SEPTEMBER REPORT.
To the Police Commissioners of the Town of Lindsay:—

Gentlemen,—Herewith I beg to submit my report of the work of the Lindsay Police Department for the month of September, by which it will be seen there were 22 cases dealt with by the Police Magistrate, an increase of five over last month. Several persons paid costs in cases arising out of their not having their wells cleaned out in proper time. During the fair there was a large influx of visitors, but I am happy to be able to state that there were not many cases arising out of the said increase.

Amount of fines and penalties imposed.....$109.54
Amount of fines and penalties collected.....111.95
Amount of carters' licenses collected.....5.00
Amount of dog taxes collected.....45.00
Amount of booth licenses collected.....10.00

At the late sessions the Grand Jury visited the look-up, and subsequently gave into the learned judge a report which was much exaggerated.

True, the place lacks ventilation, but it is not as can be seen a place situated as it is can be. When the town Council see fit to have the few rail pairs done, and the gale-windings I mentioned some months ago, obtained, I believe we shall have everything shipshape for the winter.

I regret that, owing to the illness of the caretaker, the police court is being neglected, and dust and dirt are accumulating. This should be seen to without delay and I should be glad if the commissioners would embody this in their report to the Council.

RALPH C. VINCENT,
Chief Constable.

SIXTY YEARS MARRIED.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cummings, of Oakwood Celebrate Occasion

To Mr. and Mrs. John P. Cummings, of Oakwood, are the Post's congratulations extended on the 60th anniversary of their wedding, which was celebrated by their friends a few days since in Mariposa. At which speeches were made on a long life of usefulness of the worthy couple.

Mrs. Cummings emigrated from London, England, to Mariposa, in 1855, and have since made their home in the township. They have had nine children to bless their union; four sons and five daughters, all of whom are living with the exception of two sons. There are also forty-five grandchildren and an adolescent great-grandchild all living. Mr. Cummings has been the share of the responsibility connected with the welfare of the community, having served as township clerk for thirty years, and clerk of the court for over thirty years, and still is as vigorous as most men are at forty, although he is in his 81st year.

Mrs. Cummings is now in her 80th year and still enjoys good health. We have asked Mr. Cummings to give our readers an account of some of the early history of the pioneer days of Mariposa, which will appear shortly, and it will no doubt prove very interesting to those of us who are enjoying the fruits of the pluck and energy of the early pioneers of this country.

CASHED BY A SAW.

Mr. Frank Bushnell Had Hand Badly Hurt

Mr. Frank Bushnell, employed at the Sinclair Carriage Works, received a cut on the hand by a rip saw Tuesday that required five stitches to close.

He was engaged in grooving a piece of lumber with the saw and was in a kneeling position to gage the cut with his eye, meanwhile holding the stick with his hand. The force of the saw jerked the stick away and his hand descended on the fast revolving saw inflicting a jagged gash across his whole hand. Dr. Vrooman dressed the wound.

FEARFUL PAINS

SUGGESTIONS HOW WOMEN MAY FIND RELIEF.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering it does not seem to be the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely. This is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. When pain exists something is wrong which should be set right or it will lead to a serious derangement of the whole female organism.

Thousands of women have testified in grateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes women's special pains and irregularities.

It provides a safe and sure way of escape from distressing and dangerous weaknesses and diseases.

The two following letters tell so convincingly what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do for women, they cannot fail to bring hope to thousands of sufferers.

Miss Matilda Richardson of 177 Wellington Street, Kingston, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"Some four years ago my usually good health began to fail. I had severe pains in my back, my head ached, I would have dizzy spells, and during my monthly periods I would suffer intense pain. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am so glad that I did, for it brought new life and health to me. My monthly periods were natural and painless, and my general health improved. I have not had an ache or a pain since, and I feel it my duty as well as a pleasure to tell you what your medicine has done for me."

Mme. Louise McKenzie, of Mount Carmel, Montreal, Canada, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I had heard so much good about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I started to take it for painful periods so that when it cured me I was not surprised. I had suffered with bleeding headaches and pain until it seemed that I must scream. These pains lasted from five to ten days every month, and you can understand how glad I was to get relief. I am in the best of health, and am pleased to give you this testimonial for what your medicine has done for me."

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound rests upon the well-earned gratitude of Canadian women.

When women are troubled with irregularities, displacements or ulceration of the organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, headache, bloating (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, they should remember that one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her and she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass.

John D. Rockefeller's Conception of Himself.

IS PROTECTING THE WIDOWS

Responsibility For His Wealth Weighs Heavily—Holds Property For Orphans and Poor—Dare Not Let Go His Interests Because Their Welfare Would Be Imperilled—For Their Sakes He Stays.

New York, Oct. 8.—John D. Rockefeller's private conception of himself, that he is only the steward of the Standard Oil wealth, responsible to God alone for his stewardship, was quoted Sunday by the Rev. Dr. Roberts MacArthur, the pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, before his young people's class.

"I am the trustee of the property of others," he said, "through the Providence of God, committed to my care. I am the steward of vast interests belonging in great part to widows and orphans, and other who are actually or relatively poor."

"For this holding I am responsible to God. Were I to give up my interest in the Standard Oil Co., I would imperil the interests of these people, according to the popular supposition that my withdrawal would hurt the company's business. Therefore, I feel it my duty to God and to the people whose money is invested in my company to continue active in its welfare."

Canadian Girl Violinist Scores In German Capital by Her Playing.

London, Oct. 8.—(C. A. P.)—Kathleen Parlow, a Canadian, 17 years of age, played before a Berlin company of 250 persons, invited to hear her. Berlin critics are full of admiration of the youthful performer, styling her Mischa Elman in female dress. Grunfeld, the violinist, declared he never heard anything like it before. Others pronounced her the greatest violinist in the world.

Mischa Elman is a boy violinist in England, who has been doing more wonderful playing. The local musical colleges do not know anything of Miss Parlow.

Gives Erratic Answers to the Press—Will Return to Canada at Once—Hotel Bill Has Been Paid—Declares He Has Money to Burn—Says He Has Done With the Old Country—Will Go West.

London, Oct. 5.—(C. A. P.)—Dugald Ross, interviewed by the Canadian Associated Press, declared his finances were in an excellent condition, and that if no money came yesterday he would to-day have money to burn, he stated.

He repeated his story of being done by two Americans whom he met at the Waldorf-Astoria, but cut the story short on the Canadian Associated Press telling him that the story was old. He spoke of purchasing a Daresq car, but only a half share, and from the Daresq car tale he jumped to the farm in Streetville, saying he had horses there worth $5,000 each.

He then stated his intention to bring home his horses to this country, but in the next breath declared he had done with this country and would never come back, but would go to Western Canada and buy up a few thousand acres of land.

"I had some intention of selling some shares in a bank in this country, but I guess I'm done for here," he said. Mr. Ross, manager of the Metropolitan Bank Streetville, was asked a question of his relation to a "None," and then added, "he might be a distant relation."

He declared his intention of returning to Canada immediately. Ross was astonished to learn his doings had been cabled to Canada. "Oh," he said, "I told my story to a Toronto newspaper friend this morning, and he cabled it out."

The manager of the Burlington Hotel, Dover, informed the representative of the Canadian Associated Press that Ross left the hotel Thursday night, leaving as his address St. Enoch's Station Hotel, Glasgow. The Canadian Associated Press learns, however, that Ross is in London. The manager of the Berkeley Hotel, Piccadilly, yesterday received from Ross a check for $160, drawn on the Metropolitan Bank Streetville, in payment of his bill.

To a representative of The Evening Telegram Dugald Ross says he does not want money. A friend in Scotland, he says, is sending him £250.

Few More Japs Coming.

Tokio, Oct. 5.—(C. A. P.)—With reference to telegrams reporting that a Canadian commission is coming to Japan to negotiate for restriction of Japanese immigration to Canada, it was reiterated here on trustworthy authority that the Japanese Government will not consent to any restriction, inasmuch as immigration may be restricted when the Government considers it necessary without any formal agreement, which is regarded here as a contravention of the Anglo-Japanese commercial treaty. Moreover, the Japanese consul-general at Honolulu reports that the bulk of Japanese immigrants, who desired to immigrate to Canada, has already left Hawaii and that not many more are expected to invade Canada.

To Attract France.

Toronto, Oct. 5.—A deputation composed of Messrs. L. J. Labrosse, O. Aubin, A. A. Mahaffy, D. J. McDougall, M. P. P.'s, A. C. Macdonald, and J. E. E. Leonard, M. P.'s, Rev. Father Forget, and H. B. Vallieres, of Ottawa, waited on Premier Whitney and Hon. Frank Cochrane yesterday morning, and urged the Ontario Government to invite French, German and Belgian newspaper men to visit Ontario.

The Ministers said that the province had derived benefit from the visits from English journalists, but pointed out that it was too late to do anything this year. It would be well to hold the question open till next spring. If there were results then, not only Northern Ontario, but agricultural and industrial Ontario should be inspected by the visitors.

MET DEATH IN FIRE

Two Are Dead and Several Injured in Blaze at Toronto.

JUMPED FROM WINDOWS

Dramatic Scenes in Jewish Quarter—Woman and Child Are Victims—Girls Fell Through Roof of Building—Firemen Carry Out Four From Upstairs Corridor—Origin of Fire Is a Mystery.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—One woman and one child are dead, and two men may die owing to burns, suffocation and shock sustained at a fire which broke out in Aaron Ornstein's tailor shop at 156 York street, shortly after 3 o'clock Sunday morning. The dead are his wife and 5-year-old girl, the latter dying soon after being removed to the hospital, and the woman about 1 o'clock this morning.

The cause of the fire is unknown, but it originated in the rear of the store, above where the victims were sleeping. The building is a three-story brick, in the heart of the Jewish business quarter.

Ornstein, who had been at work cleaning up his shop for the week-end, was awakened by fumes of smoke in his room at the rear of the first floor of the building. He endeavored to arouse the remaining 11 inmates.

Just what did happen during the next few minutes it is hard to say. One story is that he, with his 3-year-old boy, clambered upstairs, and that he aroused two young women in the third floor back room, and asked them to save the child. They tried to get the mattress and pillows from the bed through the window, but could not, and then, frightened, they leaped 20 feet or more to the metal roof of a shed. Whether Ornstein then threw the child to the girls below to catch, and then jumped, or whether he got down again to his own room and then out of the window, is not certain, but the four were found in the yard in the rear by firemen, the girls in scant attire, while Ornstein was partly dressed. He was frantic and was screaming with terror. The girls had also fallen from the shed to the ground, some ten feet.

Work of Rescue.

Fireman Alf Everest of hose 16 mounted to the second floor and entered the room. He located Bernstein, who had evidently descended from above in an effort to get out. Lieut. Davidson of Bay street truck went to the third floor, and found Mrs. Pierstein, carrying her downstairs and to a neighboring house.

George Henderson of hose 1 distinguished himself. Crawling on his hands and knees he got into the second floor hall bedroom. He felt on the floor and over the bed, and then with the flame of the hose to help, peered under the bed. There he found the baby. He hurried into the street with the child and across the street, where he used artificial respiration until life was assured. Meanwhile the deputy, with Firemen Gales, Williams, McGregor, Best, Harris, Smith, Oliver, McGregor, Caskie and others struggled up through the suffocating fumes to the third floor. There Mrs. Ornstein and Bernstein were found apparently lifeless. Bernstein being in his room with his feet through the doorway. They were promptly and tenderly carried down into the open air.

It is remarkable that the occupants of the building did not fare even worse than they did. The whole layout seemed favorable to disaster. The store and workshop occupied the ground floor, from which a dark, narrow stairway turned up into the floor above. The hall on the second floor is narrow and dark. Even yesterday afternoon the corridor was as black as night, and so was the one above.

Damage to building is estimated at $500, and no insurance is carried.

Aristides was sentenced to banishment from Athens for ten years. Just my luck? he said, "because it is my luck to be just."

"Then go you must,
Aristide the Just!

he said bitterly that he'd go—but he would return some day.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP.
Details of the world's baseball championship series between the Chicago club, winner of the National League pennant, and the Detroit team, winner of the American League pennant, were arranged at a meeting of the National Baseball Commission on Sunday. The schedule of games follows:
Tuesday, Oct. 8, at Chicago; Wednesday, Oct. 9, at Chicago; Thursday, Oct. 10, at Detroit; Friday, Oct. 11, at Detroit; Saturday, Oct. 12, at Detroit; Sunday, Oct. 13, at Chicago.
If a seventh game is necessary to decide the series the city in which it is to be played will be chosen by the commission.
The schedule is adopted was determined by lot. If any of the games scheduled are postponed for rain or any other cause, the teams are to play the postponed games on the first day available at the same park. By agreement of all the clubs representing both leagues, the rules already existing governing the playing of the championship series were amended so that 60 per cent. of the balance from the first four games played shall form a pool for the players of the two teams, 60 per cent. to go to the winning and 40 per cent. to the losing team.

ENCOUNTERED A SHARK
In the latest attempt to swim the English Channel J. Wolfe, the Scottish amateur, according to advices received in the last British mail, had a narrow escape from a shark. It struck the swimmer across the loins, and he is yet sore from having come in contact with the monster of the deep. Wolfe was going well on his right side, and there was every chance that Webb's great feat would be emulated after so many unsuccessful attempts when suddenly the shark appeared from below.
The swimmer in making the stroke thought the huge bulk was a piece of wreckage, but as his hand went back it passed along a slimy body, and at that instant the shark jumped clean out of the water. Wolfe turned around to see what was the matter, and the shark dived. Those who accompanied Wolfe said that it was one of the bottle nosed species, and these never attack swimmers in the water.
Wolfe's attempt has been the best so far and probably had he escaped meeting the shark he would have completed the journey. He was within a mile and a half of the shore when he was forced to give up. Burgess, the other Channel swimmer, has been taken sick, and will make no further attempt this season.

The players eligible to play in the championship series were designated as follows:
Chicago — Brown, Chance, Durbin, Evers, Fraser, Hoffman, Howard, Lundgren, Kling, Moran, McCormick, Overall, Otis, Meister, Reubach, Sheppard, Schulte, Steinfeldt, Tinker, Walsh and Zimmerman.
Detroit — Archer, Cobb, Coughlin, Crawford, Donovan, Dwyer, Jones, Jennings, Killian, Lowe, Mullen, McIntyre, Payne, O'Leary, Rossman, Schmidt, Sievers, Schaeffer, and Willet.

President Pulliam selected Hank O'Day, as umpire for his organization, during the series. President Johnson, of the American League, named John F. Sheridan as his umpire. Official scorers are A. J. Flanner and F. C. Richter.
The scale of prices for admission to the games was fixed at $1, $1.50, and $2 for the Chicago games, and $1, $2, and $2.50 for Detroit. The reason for the lower prices at Chicago is the large seating capacity of the Chicago park.
The games will be called at 2:30 in Chicago and at 2 o'clock in Detroit.

The Chicago Cubs are now taking it easy, preparing for the world's championship series with Detroit.

Also the Cleveland club must regret the day that it turned Thoney over to New York without consideration—Louisville Courier-Journal.

SWIMMING.

Master Eric Lefroy was the winner in a two mile foot race at Lakeland last week in a field of twenty runners, doing the distance in fourteen minutes and twenty seconds. The ages were from nine to sixteen and Eric was the youngest of the bunch.

HOBBY.
The reports that Leon Koyl, the clever Lindsay hockeyist, is going to play professional for Guelph this winter are all "tommyrot." The big, though youthful defence man, has no inclinations to enter pro ranks and plays hockey merely for the enjoyment he gets out of the game.

WILL REMAIN AMATEUR
The reports that Leon Koyl, the clever Lindsay hockeyist, is going to play professional for Guelph this winter are all "tommyrot." The big, though youthful defence man, has no inclinations to enter pro ranks and plays hockey merely for the enjoyment he gets out of the game.

SENeca SOLD
The Seneca, the defender of Canada's Cup, was sold to Addison G. Egan, the skipper who sold her in the recent races off Charlotte, for $2200 yesterday afternoon. The cost of construction of the craft by Nat Hershoff was about $6000, nearly three times the amount for which she was sold.

EARLY HOCKEY TALK
Only three representatives turned up at Chicago for the Professional Hockey League meeting—Calumet and the two Soos. Nothing was done beyond electing M. J. Kept, Calumet president; W. H. Meredith, Michigan So, vice-president, and M. Loughton, Canadian So, secretary. Neither Houghton nor Pittsburgh was represented, nor did either send any word.

Material for an intermediate O. H. A. team is fast gathering in town. Seymour, of Peterboro, is the latest.

Telegram: Brandon, Man., has had enough of professional hockey, but Brantford, Ont., still yells for it with a big loud yell, that only winter can quiet.
The western migratory movement has already begun. Don Smith, of Cornwall, has started for Portage and Newry Lalonde of the same place, is said to have received offers of something more than "bed and board." It would seem that Portage intends to make another strong bid for the championship. May it succeed! Brandon seems to have had enough. What is more probable—some of the backers lost heavily. But its all in the game. Good things cost money, and you know it better than sports.—Nooch Jaw News.

RUNNING.

MAY GO TO PETERBORO
Geo. Thornbury, the runner who came second in the five-mile race on fair day here, may go to Peterboro. The Peterboro athletic societies have had "feelers" out intervening the runner and are endeavoring to "transplant" him. It's a shame that Lindsay hasn't an athletic society that can take care of and train Victoria County athletes, of which there are not a few, without letting them drift to Peterboro.

LACROSSE.

SHAMROCKS "CHAMPS"
The Toronto Junction Shamrocks defeated Bracebridge at the Island by the score 5-3 and are now the junior C. L. A. champions. The game was a splendid exhibition and warmly contested. The Toronto Junctionites gave their pets a warm welcome.

THE TURF.

$75,000 FOR SLIEVE GALLON
Sieve Gallon, this year's derby favorite and winner of the Two Thousand Guineas, the Craven Stakes at Newmarket, the St. James Palace Stakes at Ascot, and for a while regarded as the best 3-year-old in England, has been sold to Baron Sazmoro, an Austrian, for the nice sum of $75,000.

GENERAL SPORTING NOTES.

A NEW INTERNATIONAL
London, Oct. 3.—Nothing further has yet transpired concerning the suggested new international yachting trophy, but inquiry in various yachting circles reveals the opinion that a new international contest will be arranged to take place in British waters in 1908 for yachts built under the new international rule, and that competitors are expected from America, France, Germany and Sweden.
The longest approval is expressed on all sides at the course followed by Sir Thomas Lipton in the matter of his challenge for the America's Cup, and it is evident that any departure from the lines of the Royal Irish Yacht Club challenge would offend the sentiment of the British and Irish yachting world.

CRAZE STRIKES URBIDGE.

C. E. Rainey has started the walking craze for Urbidge, and has made a trip to Port Perry and return. This distance is called ten miles, but the wise man knows it is a little further. However he walked the distance from the Arlington hotel to the Sebert house in two hours and twenty minutes, and after a short rest made the return trip in two hours and twenty-five minutes, or five minutes longer than going over. This is pretty good walking, and will no doubt make some amateurs ones go to beat it.—Urbidge.

SENeca SOLD
The Seneca, the defender of Canada's Cup, was sold to Addison G. Egan, the skipper who sold her in the recent races off Charlotte, for $2200 yesterday afternoon. The cost of construction of the craft by Nat Hershoff was about $6000, nearly three times the amount for which she was sold.

In New Zealand a horse that wins "inconsistently" can be disqualified for the reason on protest of the owner of the second horse, and may lose both stakes and bets. There is no rule of the kind in Australia, though, nor in any other country.

Baby and Mother.

A few doses of Baby's Own Tablets relieves and cures constipation, indigestion, colic, diarrhoea and simple fevers. The Tablets break up colic, expel worms and bring the little teething through painlessly. They bring health to the little one and comfort to the mother. And you have the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine does not contain one particle of opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. Mrs. C. F. Kerr, Elgin, Ont., says: "Baby's Own Tablets is the best medicine I have ever used for colic, stomach and bowel troubles, and destroying worms." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PETERBORO POKER PLAYERS

Police Raid Hotel and Caught Men Red-Handed.

Peterboro Review; The entrance of P. C. Newhall and License Inspector Jos. Stewart into a room at the National hotel on Sunday morning about 2:30 o'clock, rudely broke up a game of poker, the participants in which included a number of prominent professional men belonging to the city.
The men were seated at a table in one of the rooms upstairs and were hot and heavy in the game. Considerable money was spread on the polished hardwood before them, and it is also stated that liquid refreshments were also a component part of the scene that greeted the officers of the law.

Gaining admittance to the hotel, the two officers went quietly to the room where the game was going on and walked in without ceremony. It appears that one of the gentlemen engaged in the game had gone out of the room a few minutes before, and expecting him back again, no one looked up when the door opened. The result was that the officers had a good view of what was going on, before they were noticed. There was a wild scramble when it was noticed that P. C. Newhall and Mr. Stewart were in the room. Some of those who were playing grabbed for the money on the table, but despite this, the bulk of it was secured by the officers and also some of the cards. In the scramble that followed the appearance of the policeman and inspector some of the wet goods were spilled and there was considerable disorder.

The room was guarded, so there was no escape, and additional help was phoned for to the police station, and soon P. C. McHarry and McDonald were on the scene. The seven men found in the room were taken to the police station, where their names and other necessary information were taken, after which they were allowed to go home.
As a result of the raid charges of allowing gambling on the premises, and of selling liquor after hours will be laid against the National hotel, while the men found in the room will be charged with gambling. They came up before Magistrate Dumble on Monday.

BADLY RUN DOWN

Through Over Work—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored Health and Strength.

Badly run down is the condition of thousands throughout Canada—perhaps you are one of them. You find work a burden. You are weak, easily tired; out of sorts; pale and thin. Your sleep is restless; you appetite poor and you suffer from headaches. All this suffering is caused by bad blood and nothing can make you well but good blood—nothing can make this good blood so quickly as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These pills never fail to make rich, red, health-giving blood. Mr. B. R. Reed, Quebec city, says: "About twelve months ago I was all run down as the result of over-work. My doctor ordered me to take a complete rest, but this did not help me. I had no appetite; my nerves were unstrung and I was so weak I could scarcely move. Nothing the doctor did helped me and I began to think my case was incurable. While confined to my room friends came to see me and one of them advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so and soon my appetite improved; my color came back and in less than a month I was able to leave my room. I continued the pills for another month and they completely cured me. I am now in the best of health and able to do my work without fatigue. I feel sure that men who are weak will find renewed health and strength in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They certainly saved me from a life of misery."
When Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new blood they go right to the root of and cure anaemia, rheumatism, St. Vitus dance, kidney trouble, indigestion, headache and backache and those secret ailments which make one lives so miserable. Sold by all grocery stores, or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Red and Gun Hunting Number.

Hunting and Hunting Topics just now fill a considerable share of the waking thoughts of sportsmen throughout Canada. They are full of what they have done, what they hope to do, and arrangements of all kinds which shall ensure them of success in this year's hunt. Nothing can help them more to a frame of mind suitable for backwoods' expeditions than a perusal of the pages of the fine fall hunting number sent out as the October issue of Red and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont. Here is nearly all kinds of hunting—wood hunting with camera, goat and deer hunting with a gun, and the same deadly weapon is brought to bear on wolves, bears, caribou and deer, all to the enjoyment of the hunters whose varied experiences must be a source of the deepest pleasure as well as profit to their fellows. Very opportune indeed, are the articles on the High Power Rifle and Fatalities in the Woods and the account of how one very successful hunter has made a success of his hunting should give hints even to experienced men. Backwoods etiquette is amusingly portrayed in an account of a law suit in a camp, while Observations from a Car Window are out samples of the many good things to be found in the current issue of this magazine. Every hunter should include it in his pack—age of good things to be taken on his trip and none will regret the small effort in view of the very large fund of enjoyment to be obtained from its pages. Every story smacks of the actual and the whole combination is so good as to explain the reason why the magazine has gained and retains its position in the front rank of sporting publications.

REVIVAL IN Y.M.C.A. AFFAIRS. A FOOT OF SNOW IN ALBERTA.

New Secretary and Physical Director Now in Charge.

The Lindsay Young Men's Christian Association, which has been in a listless condition for the past few months, promises to boom in future, Last evening Messrs. Wm. R. Cook and J. J. Thompson, of Toronto, arrived in town to take charge of the Association, and a live interest in the work is expected.

Both of these gentlemen are earnest and enthusiastic about the work, and have a wealth of experience in Y. M. C. A. matters. The building will be put in first class order as soon as possible and active work commenced.
Mr. Cook, who will be the general secretary, is a bright, hustling young fellow. Mr. Thompson is an athlete of widespread reputation and formerly physical director of the West End Y. M. C. A. of Toronto. He is acquainted with all the forms of recreation and exercises adopted in the Toronto "Y's" and the physical side of the young men will be well looked after.

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE
It will take some little time to get the Association in proper running order, but under the new management it is expected the building will be in shape for physical classes in a week. A number of new games such as handball, medicine ball, etc., will be played besides basket ball and the usual drill athletics. A physical class will be held on Sunday afternoon, and was previously the custom. Mr. Thompson expects to organize a harrier club and have weekly runs. There are many in town that will take advantage of this. Other departments of the Association will also be looked after.

What's in a Name.

(From the Canadian Courier.)
The careless and inaccurate use of the terms "lady" and "gentleman" has frequently been a source of amusement. A prominent Canadian who has been interested in mission work told the other day of a small boy of the slums who came to him in excitement, exclaiming, "Oh, Mr.—there's a drunken lady in the lane."

Popular Banker Leaving.

Evening Post of Oct. 7
Mr. R. B. Robertson, of the Bank of Commerce in town, has been promoted to the bank's branch in Vancouver. B. C. Mr. Robertson's many Lindsay friends, while feeling themselves greatly the losers by his departure, nevertheless will congratulate him on his fine promotion. He has been very prominent socially among the younger people since his arrival in town, and will be greatly missed by all with whom he came in contact. He leaves to-morrow for Toronto, where he will spend a few days. He then goes direct to Vancouver. Mr. G. C. Clarke, of Ottawa, is to fill the vacancy occasioned here by the departure of Mr. Robertson, and Mr. B. G. Clarke, a former Lindsay boy, with many friends in town, will accept the position of junior.

But Settlers Sanguine—Crops Not Seriously Injured.

A letter just received by Rev. Dr. Bishop from a son who is a minister in southern Alberta, refers to the snow storm of three weeks ago when about a foot of snow covered the ground, and to the extent of damage to the crops. He says: "It has been a real surprise to see how unimportant after all the losses are and how buoyantly the country has recovered from what appeared to be a serious set-back. When we saw the uncut grain lying perfectly flat we were ready to give up, but when we saw it with a few days' sunshine ripen on the ground, and then saw the farmers pick up almost every last straw, and realized that the crop was practically safe, having suffered very little injury, our confidence in the country was restored. The most serious loss was the extra time required to cut it all one way. It has been the greatest boon to the implement dealers, who have sold out every available binder. With prices up, the farmers will get more even for the injured grain this year than for No. 1 last year."

Centlemen' are You Bald?

Investigate and see for yourself the Art Coverings in Wigs and Toupees. Prof. Dorey's manufactures are worn on over 85,000 heads by all classes, and in all stations of life. They are the essence of perfection, light in weight, durable and a great benefit to health, and a protection to the head against cold, draughts, catarrh, etc. Trying on and demonstrating the completeness of these goods free of charge. He will be at the Benson House, Lindsay, on Friday, Oct. 25.

About Man.

A man's life is full of crosses and temptations.
He comes into the world without his consent, and goes out against his will, and the trip between the two is exceedingly rocky, says the Chicago Trades Journal. The rule of contraries is one of the important features of the trip.
When he is young the big girls kiss him, but when he is grown up the little girls kiss him.
If he is poor he is a bad manager; if he is rich, he is dishonest.
If he needs credit, he can't get it; if he is prosperous, every one wants to do him in favor.
If he's in politics, it's for pie; if he's out of politics, you can't place him, and he's no good for his country.
If he doesn't give to charity, he's a stingy cuss; if he does, it is for show.
If he is actively religious, he is a hypocrite; if he takes no interest in religion, he is a hardened sinner.
If he shows affection, he is a soft specimen; if he cares for no one, he is cold-blooded.
If he dies young, there's a great future ahead of him; if he lives to an old age, he has missed his calling.
The road is rocky, but a man loves to travel it.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11th.

A TIP TO THE TEACHER.

(Kingston Whig.)
Some queer experiences are being had in the schools of western cities, and they are noted here, because of the moral they convey. In Lindsay, the high school principal, a man of long service, was released because the classes were not succeeding as the board desired, and the trustees laid the blame to the head teacher. At the board meeting he asked for a statement of his defects, as they had not been specified; indeed he had never heard from any trustee upon the subject. The reply was that it was not necessary to elaborate the complaints. The Whig differs from the Lindsay board upon this point. Every board has the guidance of expert educationists, and its manifest duty is to get reports as to the work of the teachers. When anyone has a fault he should be given an intimation of it and a chance to correct it. This is the course which has been authorized by the Kingston school management committee, and it is hoped that consideration of the trustees in this respect will be appreciated by the teachers.

At Hamilton there is a commotion because the inspector has been ordered to prepare a detailed report upon the service of the public school staff. The papers have taken up the subject, and the wonder grows as to what is up. And there to be business on the ground of inefficiency? Is there to be grading of teachers and a grading of salaries? Time will tell.

Meanwhile the assumption of the Herald can be safely commated. Efficiency is not "largely a product of experience." Experience counts for something, but progressiveness in study, in methods, in management, counts for more. The teacher who wants to succeed, and become indispensable must realize that education is constantly developing, and that one must be busy, if he would keep up with its latest phases.

AN EMINENT NEWSPAPERMAN.

The Post has been very much pleased during the past few days on reading the many flattering references made by the press throughout the province to our former citizen, Mr. Samuel Kidd, editor of the Montreal Gazette. He was given a banquet on Saturday evening by his friends in Montreal, who said many kind things about him. Such encomiums are usually contributed after one passes off this mortal coil, and we must congratulate him, hearing of what few men are privileged to hear.

From The Globe we clip the following paragraph, which is only a sample of what is being said about Mr. Kidd:

"The honor was well bestowed. Sam is the sanest and strongest writer on the Conservative press, and has saved his party from many foolishnesses in the past, and may be relied upon to do so in future. He does his own thinking, and has always a fine assortment of cogent arguments to buttress his thought. He is a forceful and worthy of the best steel."

That he not only spent his "kiddish" days in Lindsay, but learned the art of conservatism in this town in the employ of Mr. Joseph Cooper, at that time proprietor of the Victoria Warbler, in the early seventies, is certainly a pleasing thought.

Mr. Cooper must have laid the foundation deep when one considers that Mr. Kidd's father had political leanings that were decidedly "gritty." It speaks volumes for a teacher whose pupil has developed into one of the ablest writers on the Conservative press of Canada to-day. The party certainly owe a great debt of gratitude to friend Cooper, as they were never more in need of a modern "Moses" than at present.

To Mr. H. J. Lytle, manager of the Bank of Montreal, is in a measure due some of the credit of Mr. Kidd's success, as Mr. Lytle was foreman of the Warbler when Mr. Kidd was the officiating "devil" in the office.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Canon Welles, of Toronto, evidently does not think temperance has gained since Whitney attained power.

Of 257 samples of maple sugar examined this year by the Department of Inland Revenue, only 185 were genuine. Five were found to be a mixture, 57 were adulterated, and 10 were doubtful. The analyst notes that, with the methods in use, makers might dilute the maple product with pure cane sugar to some slight extent without more than awakening doubts as to the purity of the article, as the analyst must give them the benefit of the doubt. Glucose, however, is more easily detected. — Hamilton Times.

Toronto News: President Falconer, of Toronto University, said in his inaugural address to the students that athletics should be cultivated, but that they should not be allowed to become an absorbing interest. "Sports," he said, "are meant for recreation and for the building up of the body in order that the mind may be strong and ready for the work of manhood." This is an ideal which cannot be attacked. Undoubtedly, the president will see to it that the American tendency towards specialization and professionalism in college sport will not obtain in the university for whose well-being he is responsible.

PRESENTATION TO THE BAND

An interesting ceremony took place last Tuesday at the bandroom in the form of a presentation to the Sylvester bandmen of a large photograph of the band in their new uniforms soon after the successful Collingwood contest. It was presented by Mr. Lee on behalf of Miss Morton's studio of Kent-st. There was a good gathering of band boys and many friends in the room. It was after the usual practice that the presentation took place.

About 9.30 Mr. Lee, in a nice speech, said it was with the greatest pleasure that he presented the band with the picture on behalf of Miss Morton, and which he thought both a suitable and deserving gift. The photograph has recently been on exhibition at Lindsay and other fairs, and admired by all. It was said the band had done exceedingly well during the season under the conduct of Mr. R. Roenick and that in many years to come they would always have a reminder in the photograph of the boys that once did their best in the musical line for Lindsay. — (Cheers).

Speeches were then made by several members all tending in the same strain of great thanks to Miss Morton's studio for their kindness, and a hearty vote of thanks was unanimously passed by all present. After a little conversation, the evening closed, and will long be remembered.

The photo is to be hung up in the band room and will be a suitable acquisition to the already comfortably furnished quarters.

POKER PLAYERS FINED

Seven Prominent Peterboro Citizens "Taxed" in all $420.

Peterboro Examiner: It is a more or less open secret that card-playing for money has been prevalent in the city for some time. On Saturday night or Sunday morning License Inspector Stewart and a member of the police force made a raid on one of the hotels, and found a party of seven men surrounding a table, upon which were cards and money. The inspector seized over a hundred dollars of the money, one of the party grabbing his own and another's "pile" and escaped. The names of the other parties were taken and arrangements made for their appearance at the police court Monday afternoon. The result was that the seven persons were convicted and a fine of $60 each and costs imposed, meaning a net gain to the city coffers of $420. The proprietor of the hotel was charged with selling liquor after hours. An additional charge of allowing gambling on his premises was made, and judgment was reserved, the question being as to his knowledge of the room in his hotel being used for the purpose of breaking the law in regard to gambling on the premises of a licensed hotel.

TWO BOYS ARRESTED

Charged With Operating Fraudulent Scheme.

New York, Oct. 5 — Ogden W. Coffin, eighteen years old, a school-boy, and Lucius Mesmin, aged twenty, clerk in his father's wool importing firm of George Mesmin & Co., were arrested last night, charged with participating in a get-rich-quick scheme. The boys had an office at 603 Sixth-avenue. The detectives found they had been conducting operations under the assumed name of "Leonard B. Drummond, attorney."

The purport of those letters was that relatives living in this city owning shares of Canadian Pacific stock, died bequeathing shares to the Canadian selected. The letters stated that if $5 for attorney's fees were sent to Drummond the stock would be forwarded. Coffin has confessed. He claims that his mother is a widow in straits, the money to pay his way through college. He claims that Mesmin originated the scheme and even went to the Canadian border and mailed the letters there beyond the reach of the United States mail authorities.

Johnny came home the other night in high glee, wearing the arithmetic medal. "What is that for?" asked his mother. "That's the prize for doing examples!" said Johnny. "I did this one: If our new baby weighs eleven and a half pounds, and gains an ounce each day"—cause you told Mrs. Smith she did yesterday—"how much will she weigh when she's twenty years old?" And the answer was, four hundred and sixty-six pounds. And the teacher said I earned the prize!"

Real Trouble.

Mrs. Tike, red-nosed and in rags, stood in front of the pawnshop to it was burning down. The flames threw weird flames on her, and she cried and wrung her hands piteously. "What is the matter with you?" a fireman said. "You don't own the shop, do you?" "No," she wailed. "But my old man's Sunday suit is up that spout, and he don't know it."—Half Holiday.

Railway Notes.

In a circular issued to all trainmen the Grand Trunk Railway insists that all train crews shall make their eight hours' rest after sixteen hours on the road. No man can be posted again until he has had a rest, and the penalty for neglecting these instructions is dismissal. The circular admits of no misinterpretation, it being stated in one paragraph that rather than allow trainmen to leave a station without sufficient rest the train should be taken off.

JUST IN TIME.

They sat upon her father's steps. His arm was round her form; And he was doing all he could To keep the maiden warm. Her father spied them from above, And softly he crept down, Bearing a boot-jack in his hand, And on his brow a frown. Pa nearer yet and nearer crept;

He heard the lovers sigh, And then he raised his arm aloft, With murder in his eye. Just then the manly lover said: "How happy we shall be! For runcle died last night, and all His great wealth comes to me." One moment more the old man stands, And at the young man glances; Then, all unseen, unheard, unfeared, Creeps back again upstairs.

KILLED MANY CATTLE.

Pitch-in on C.P.R. Between Agincourt and Locust Hill.

Between Agincourt and Locust Hill on the main line of the C. P. R. east, a pitch-in occurred between two freight trains about eight o'clock on Monday night. A car of cattle on one of the trains was partially demolished and many of the animals were killed.

Both trains were travelling eastward. One was the regular, and the other an extra. The engine of the rear train was considerably damaged.

About six hours were required to clear the track.

It appears that the accident was not an ordinary pitch-in. The stock train was proceeding eastward ahead of the freight, as sometimes happens in freight traffic, the stock train pulled apart.

Four cars became free of the main train. In the delay caused by rectifying the break the second train overtook the detached cars and the accident followed. No one was injured.

A Witty Magistrate.

There is a police court magistrate of St. Louis who frequently evinces a pretty wit in dealing with fresh or feckless offenders. To one vagrant brought before him not long ago, his Honor put the question, "What occupation?" "Nothin' much, at present," promptly responded the prisoner, "jest circulation 'round judge." "Retired from circulation for thirty days," dryly observed his Honor to the clerk of this court. — Harper's Weekly.

OPS COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

HARTNETT DRAIN DISCUSSED AND LEFT OVER.

Other Matters of Interest Discussed—Accounts Paid.

Ops Council met pursuant to adjournment on Monday, Oct. 7th, at the usual hour; members all present. The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted.

The patrons of the Hartnett drain, who had been duly notified to attend to hear the engineer's report and consider the award were all present except two.

The clerk read the report, specifications and award of the proposed drain. The majority of the patrons present considered their assessments too high, and a few of them stated that they wanted only an outlet, and that the engineer had extended the drain much farther than they desired.

A few others said they were satisfied with the award. No names were added to the petition, and as the patrons were thus divided in opinion it was proposed that those opposed to the award would sign their names against it, and the others sign for it. Seven of the patrons assented signed against the award, three of whom were petitioners. No other signatures were recorded for or against the award. The Reeve being petitioner on behalf of the township did not sign for or against the award, but said that as two of the assessed patrons were absent, he would like to know whether they were in favor of the award or not, and it was finally decided to adjourn the meeting to give them another opportunity to be present.

OTHER DRAIN MATTERS.

Misses J. Ellis and P. Leddy said they had cleaned out their parts of Drain No. 1, and desired that all others be compelled to clean out their parts to prevent the water from backing up on their site. They thought the Council should not wait on people who were negligent, to the injury of those who had done their work, and urged that the Council have the work finished at once, or they would not be responsible if loss ensued.

Commissioner O'Loughlin said the weather had been very unfavorable, otherwise the work of cleaning out would have been done now. Some few patrons had a part of their harvest out, and all had promised to do the work, but were prevented by rain. He would do his best to have the work completed as soon as possible.

A notice was received from Wednesday on Saturday, Oct. 6th, stating that the drain at his place was not yet finished, as it should have been.

Mr. Best said that he had told Mr. Rea a few days ago that he would attend to the drain as soon as the weather permitted, and would do it this week if possible. Mr. Best had been authorized by Council to clean out any part neglected by others, at their expense.

Mr. Wm. B. Fee addressed the Council and said that the proper place for the Jewell drain was westward along the north side of Dermott instead of across his land.

Mr. Wilson, on behalf of the Council, said the judge had decided the location of the drain, and as Mr. Fee did not object to it, when he should not do so now. The matter had been decided by the court, and he thought the Council should not interfere with the decision. The other members were of the same opinion, and Mr. Fee withdrew.

Mr. Jas. Kennedy, owner of lot 7, con. 3, again complained that the culvert east of his land had not been closed, and allowed the water to cross the road and spread over his land, although the drain on the east side of the road was intended to convey the water southward. He had called the engineer's attention to it, and he said it should be closed. If not closed by the first of November, he would seek redress elsewhere.

Mr. Wilson moved, seconded by Mr. O'Loughlin, that the Reeve consult the engineer about the culvert, and that he take such action as they deem best. —Carried.

The following accounts, which had been passed, were paid, on motion of Messrs. Wilson and O'Loughlin: —

Jos. Meehan, wire fence bonus, $11.20; J. Brady, balance for stone crushing, $20.00; T. Shiers, gravel, 3rd con, $12.00; executors Hurley estate for lumber boots, $4.25; M. Gannon, removing scrubby elm tree, $1.50.

An account was received from Mr. Cinnamon for wire fencing, which was left over till next meeting of Council.

Mr. O'Loughlin moved, seconded by Mr. Wilson, that the meeting be adjourned till Monday, November 18th next, and that the Clerk again notify the patrons of the Hartnett drain to be present at 10.30 a.m. to further consider the engineer's award, and that other business be transacted afterwards. —Carried.

W. F. O'BOYLE, Clerk.

A Bicycle Stolen

On Saturday afternoon a bicycle was stolen from the Sylvester works, and the owner, Mr. McDonald, informed County Constable Thornberry. The latter kept his "weather eye open" and caught a young man riding the wheel. At first he said it was his own, but finally admitted he got it from someone else, who in turn procured it from another. He gave up the wheel.

LEARN DRESS-MAKING BY MAIL

in your spare time at home, or
Take a Personal Course at School.

To enable all to learn we teach on cash or instalment plan. We also teach a personal class at school once a month. Class commencing last Tuesday of each month. These lessons teach how to cut, fit and put together any garment from the plainest shirt waist suit, to the most elaborate dress. The whole family can learn from one course. We have taught over seven thousand dress-making, and guarantee to give five hundred dollars to any one that cannot learn between the age of 14 and 40. You cannot learn dress-making as thorough as this course teaches if you work in shops for years. Beware of imitations as we employ no one outside the school. This is the only experienced Dress Cutting School in Canada and is sold by none in any other country. Write at once for particulars, as we have cut our rate one-third for a short time. Address—

YEARLY LOSS OF LIFE.

Year after year the lakes and rivers of Canada exact a heavy tribute of lives, comments the Toronto World many full of promise, and leaving this young nation all the poorer. A large proportion of those who thus early pass beyond the veil might have saved themselves and their companions in misfortune had they possessed the useful art of swimming. Inspector Hughes recently called attention to certain matters wherein the schools of Britain excelled those of Canada, especially in regard to physical exercises and training. In this connection recent reports published by the education committee of the London County Council and the London Schools Swimming Association are of special interest here. Splendid results have followed the efforts made to teach the London school children how to swim, and they well deserve serious attention from the educational authorities of Canada.

CONCERNING KIPLING.

[From the Canadian Courier]. So many-sided is the Kipling genius, that it is unsafe to generalize from "The Seven Seas" or the "Barack Room Ballads," unless one has read "Kim," "The Day's Work," "Many Inventions" and about fifteen other volumes. After the manner of his own Drump Royal, "he likes it all." His heretofore is one of endeavor where he "shall splash at a tempestuous canvas with brushes of comets' hair." If this is an age of prophecy, who frequently deserves the adjective "breathless," used by Mr. Augustine Birrell to characterize the Kipling style. He is a tinker, tailor, shoemaker and sailor; but, just as one reaches the conclusion that his hero is the practical man, there comes to the cars the story of a dreamer, and one wanders with Kim's teacher in search of the magic river.

PENNY WISE.

Port Perry Star: Twice the Government have stocked Lake Scugog since the time when the ice and snow killed the fish. We suppose this would cost considerable money, together with the expense of preventing depredation through illegal fishing. Yet, either because of carelessness, or in order to save money, the lake is a Lindsay have been allowed to become in a bad state of repair. Such lack of action is wasting the water of Lake Scugog and there is a serious risk of a similar disaster next winter to that of 1905, if the water in the lake remains as low as it is now. There are reports that the lake is to be repaired in the near future. This cannot be done too soon.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The section of the G.T.P. between Portage la Prairie and Manitoba, 130 miles, is to be opened next week. That looks hopeful for grain-moving.

A railway brake has been invented which never fails. It cannot be interfered with in any way, and its operation is always effective. If it prevents accidents and saves life it will be worth millions.

The Montreal Gazette says that Sir John Macdonald worked for less salary than Hon. Mr. Borden. And Sir Wilfrid Laurier, while head of the opposition, gave his service to the country freely, and Mr. Borden gets $7,500 a year.

As a commentary on the sincerity of Mr. Borden's purity campaign Mr. Pugsley declares that the conservative campaign fund in last election amounted to $500,000, and he charges Mr. Borden to deny the statement. Half a million dollars to promote purity?

The total foreign trade of China is about $100,000,000 less than Canada's. Canada's trade with China and Japan last year was $3,884,769. China's purchases from Great Britain and her colonies aggregated about $180,000,000. As a trade field China and Japan are just open to us.

At Brockville, the conservative candidate for the vacant seat in the legislature denounced the "spoilers" and denounced the "spoilers" which the provincial secretary has sent out in behalf of the license department. He characterized the work as unBritish, unfair and unmanly.

Brantford Expositor: There ought to be room in New Brunswick for hundreds of thousands of sturdy old country men and women, especially those who have been brought up in the vicinity of the ocean. The rest of Canada will wish all success to Premier Robinson's immigration policy.

Hamilton Herald: It is easy for Mr. Borden to blame the Dominion government for the influx of Japanese immigration, but he will find it more difficult to explain how it was that when the Japanese treaty was before parliament for ratification he never made the slightest objection to the clause granting the Japanese free entry into Canada.

The fight is on at Brockville, Mr. W. A. Lewis, Liberal, and Mr. A. E. Donovan, Conservative, being nominated yesterday. Mr. Donovan's plea was "Up in the Government's favor," while Mr. Lewis scored the justice, education, prison labor, and social policies of the Whitney government. The temperature is rising down there.

The Globe calls reform in the law as to real estate transfers which involves a costly searching of titles every time a property changes hands in order to guard against clouds on the title. The appeal is in order. There should be a change both in law and practice. There is no reason why the Torrens system should not be more generally adopted and the transfer of a piece of property made almost as simple and easy as the sale of a loaf of wheat on a horse.

Montreal Star: And now the price of Scotch whiskey is going down. To our unpracticed eye this looks like a case of Scotch descent.

Bellefleur Ontario: Mr. Borden's policy with reference to the Asiatic immigration amounts to this: Observe the treaty and "soak" the government, for observing it.

Kingston Whig: Japan is not interested in the exodus of her people. She wants them to stay at home in Korea. It will not be hard to secure a revival of the limitation.

Kingston Whig: Taft in Japan, and among the notables of Tokyo, seems to have been performing the part of a spell binder. With a wave of his hand he has caused the war cloud to disappear.

Syracuse Standard: A reverend doctor exclaims that there is no harm in dancing if you dance alone. Didn't King David dance that way, and didn't he get publicly laughed at by a girl he was fond of?

Syracuse Standard: Sir Thomas Lipton continues to be a jolly good fellow, but he must race exactly the way the New York Yacht Club wants him to or else the New York Yacht Club will take its tin kitchen and go home.

Swarthmore College was left $34,000,000 by an aged lady on condition that it disband athletics from its fields and halls. Queen's is eager enough for endowment, but it would not willingly cut its sports out for a large money consideration. Ditto.

All Japan wants is pay for the actual damage committed in Vancouver. This will be a great relief to those who were apprehending that our ambassador would have to crawl into the Mikado's presence on his stomach and eat the mat at the foot of the throne—Star.

Toronto Star: One hundred and fourteen thousand claims aggregating four million dollars have now been filed with the liquidators of the York County Loan Company. The amount shows what happens when little grains of water, little drops of sand, get together in any quantity.

The Brockville Recorder devotes a lengthy article to ladies' hats. The newest style, it declares, resembles an inverted coat, with a collar, and with a button. Yet they allowed the editor to live—nay, even sent him to parliament unapproached. The ladies of the Island City must be pretty good natured or else they don't read the Recorder.

Toronto Globe: Premier Whitney, explaining the changes made by which the provincial university is given support out of the succession due, assured his audience in convocation hall, lately, that "there has never been one murmur of disapproval from the men who provided the money." Of course not. The men are all dead.

The Toronto World approves of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's preference policy and regards his speech to the manufacturers on that subject as "unfathomable." On the question of contributions to the British army and navy it also says, "the good common sense of Canada will endorse the declarations of the prime minister." Moreover, it declares that the majority of the people of Canada with him in the "all-red" line matter, and the majority is so vast, that the project cannot become a party question. Now, will those Tory organs that have been ridiculing the "all-red" line project sit up and be good?

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever—no cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold at all Druggists, 7c.

How to Earn a Living in China.

Senator Morgan once threw down a magazine with a sneer. "Another nature fable!" he exclaimed. "Why, these things are as absurd as 'Gawd' said as—'And then he laughed and said that it reminded him of an absurd dress that he once heard an absent-minded missionary make.' "In China, 'Gawd' is regarded as of but slight value. Indeed, if a wealthy Chinese man is condemned to death, he can easily hire another to die for him; and I believe many poor fellows get their living by thus acting as substitutes."—Argonaut.

Mr. McNeill's Appointment

Mr. J. K. McNeill, son of County Treasurer, McNeill, of this town, lately of the Canadian Pacific Railway Car Service Department, Montreal, has been appointed assistant superintendent of District No. 3, in charge of the C.P.R. terminals at Toronto. He succeeds Mr. F. G. MacIntyre, who has been transferred to London as assistant superintendent.

October Canadian Magazine.

The part that Lord and Lady Dufferin took in Canadian affairs during the time of His Excellency was Governor-General here should be familiar to all Canadians, and therefore an article entitled "The Dufferin Family," by Margaret Edie Henderson, in the October Canadian Magazine, is of unusual interest. Miss Henderson tells about incidents in the life of the distinguished Irish family quite apart from what might be regarded as their purely public affairs. The October number contains other important contributions. P. of Adam Shortt has an article entitled "A Personality in Journalism," being an appreciation of Mr. J. A. Macdonald, Editor of the Toronto Globe. The following contributions are also included in the number: "Canadian Art and Its Critics," by J. A. Macdonald; "The Deer of British Columbia," by Allan Brooks; "Illustrated," "Canadians in Telephone Development," by Randolph Carlyle; "Illustrated," "The Irony of British Rule in India," by Saint N. Sarg; "Illustrated," "A number of other articles and five short stories.

MERRY WEDDING BELLS.

Hunter—Beatty

At the home of the Rev. Mr. Webb, 443 Rupert-st., Peterboro, on Sept. 25th, at 12 o'clock, a very pretty wedding took place, when Miss Cora May Hunter, of Regina, Sask., third daughter of John D. Hunter, of Verulam, was united in marriage to Mr. Roland Beatty, also of Verulam, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Mr. Webb, pastor of Murray St. Baptist church.

The bride was attired in white organdy, trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion and wore orange blossoms. Miss Zetta Rooster, cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and was prettily dressed in pale green silk cologne and wore a corsage of the valley. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Garfield Kennedy.

After the ceremony was performed the happy young couple left on the 2 o'clock train for Belleville. Kingston and other points east, the bride traveling in a becoming suit of blue shot silk, trimmed with green and hat and veil to match.

The groom's presents were to the bride a beautiful gold locket and chain, to the bridesmaid a handsome gold ring, set with rubies and pearls, and to the groomsmen a gold pin set with pearls. On their return they will reside in Verulam, where their many friends wish them a long and happy married life.

Change in Mail Service.

Fenelon Falls Star: A change has recently taken place in the local mail service, which will be of great benefit to our business men and others. This is in respect to all letters intended for the south train and posted after the morning mail and before 4:30 p.m., which will be sent off on the 5 o'clock train. In the past the afternoon mail has been a closed one, intended for Toronto and Montreal letters only.

Not Always Famous.

Montreal Star: Rudyard Kipling was not always famous. Once upon a time "Kip" was an ordinary newspaperman, and this is apropos of the tale.

Your friend, Rudyard Kipling, does not seem to have been very communicative to you boys," commented a man well known on the board of trade.

"Oh, yes, Kipling's all right," responded the newspaperman.

"Funny thing," and the speaker smiled. "You know Kipling and I are old friends. The other day, soon after his arrival, he said to me, 'Bless me if I know what these newspaper chaps want to bother me about at all. You know I often had to get interviews, and let me tell you, I never missed one in my life. It's quite true, too, that I did not always see the man, but then no good newspaper man should worry about that.' How's that for 'Kip'?"

Just one Ceiling is ideal for churches and schools, for its beauty, cleanliness, economy—for its sanitary perfection (no seams to catch dirt)—for its fire-proof qualities.

per tendom of labor, and therefore (this is the reason) we do not have to pay the highest wages, putting the excellence of the job at a money value, or as the commissioners plainly put it, "Sweating the help to make dividends." The commissioners stated that the girls were not getting paid for their board and clothes. To our mind that seems to be not only dishonest, but highly immoral. They were paid from $20 to $25 per month. In Toronto they would spend at least $24.00 per month for each fare, providing they brought their lunch down, or $4.80. If they had to go home to lunch, the "supply" girls who did not want to hang around the office between calls, would pay out more, if they went home. Now suppose a girl paid out $5 for car fare, and $4.80 for lunch. Her board would cost at least $4 per week, or $16 a month. These girls are supposed to dress well, much better than store girls—more on a par with teachers, and to do that and all the other little incidentals they would have to have a sum of $4 per week left with which to do it. Can anyone claim that there is a shadow of justice in that? It is here that the government is called upon, in the interests of humanity, to step in and say, this sort of thing has got to stop.

It is now they come into a store or factory or office and say to the proprietor you must do this and thus in sanitation, ventilation and other regulations of various sorts, all of which admit is only right. If they stop at that, and let the girls earn out with not enough to live on, have they not neglected a very important feature of their duty? Has any man or woman, or body of them, any right to hire help, even if they are able to get two for every one they need, and pay them less than a living wage? They have no right now legally, but morally have they? We wonder if there are any Socialists who would do that sort of thing? Whatever time we may have to wait for regulation of these matters in private concerns, it would seem that public concerns using public utilities, now is the time and all the time is the time, to regulate them, or buy them out and run them ourselves.

We often wonder if the people of this town are aware of the excellent music they are being favored with from time to time. If they are, they have a very peculiar way of showing their appreciation. In the composition of the Sylvester Band we evidently have an organization of the first water. If we can judge by the way it cleans everything up in the shape of prize money, when it is away from home. Those who make any pretence of knowing, tell us that the music meted out to us on Friday evenings is as good as can be heard anywhere outside of professionals. Yet when they give us a concert to raise a little money, when it is at the hospital, or new instruments, the number of our citizens who patronize it is shamefully small, and the proceeds after the necessary expenses are met, still smaller. Evidently our esprit-de-corps does not extend to our band, when it loses money, in its endeavor to contribute to what it does extend. A brass band is not kept upon the wing entirely, although plenty of that is required. If they are to look nutty and not greasy, like these travelling German bands, they ought to have a new suit at least once a year. Mr. Koenig would like to add a new instrument occasionally, and these cost money. We have seen the cost of a set of instruments for fifty pieces, and the amount would surprise most of us. There are some fine times when we ourselves must practise together twice a week, besides the individual practise, if they wish to excel, and whilst it is in the nature of a pleasure to them, still it means a lot of work and self sacrifice as regards time, so that they will not come unless they have no other engagements. We have seen the cost of a set of instruments for fifty pieces, and the amount would surprise most of us. ingly pay out dollars, even the poorest of us, for amusement, but gradually pay out cents, even the best of us, for what is of infinitely more importance and more uplifting.

We came across some figure that the other way that will interest every one who is interested in the progress of the British Empire. Some time ago we brought to your readers' attention, the immense strides made by both Great Britain and the U. S., the one under the reign of free trade, and the other under that of protection. When we see the figures that are put up by every nation and see the strides they are all making, we cannot but come to the conclusion that, whatever effect tariffs may have on their trade, there must be something else, that is even a more potent factor in making things jump along the way they are doing. We would venture the opinion that the individual efforts of the citizens have a great deal to do with the success of the nation, more even than any tariff. This is being exemplified to-day, in the difference between British and German methods. As our readers are aware, Britain is working under free trade, and has the world for its market, from which it draws freely, and gets any bargains that are going. They are a nation, that other nations find it very easy to sell to, and with the least trouble. No other nation works under equal advantages, not even the U. S., where raw material of great variety is found within its borders. Against these advantages are to be put the influence of the trades union, which dominates most of Britain's industries. They work on the principle of doing the least they can for the most money they can extort, a system that has never been successful since Adam started the race. A worse feature than this, probably the worst feature in the whole industrial life of the nation, is the immense amount of money that is wasted in liquor, especially by the working man. We think it was Lord Rossie, a man who never speaks unless he has something to say, who said that if the British mechanic would give up his liquor, he would guarantee him the world for his market, let him build their tariff walls as high as they choose. In Germany, on the other hand, they have protection to the hilt, but they have their mechanics trained to regular hours and habits, so that in contrast to their British brethren, their great object is to do as much as they can for the least they can live on. Whether this will continue, as they get rubbing against the world, remains to be seen. Just at present the result is, that individually and collectively, they are distancing the British nation in proportion. It is an economic truth, that one man given the same energy and tools, can produce as much as another man with the same energy and tools. The one man only gets 50 cents for his work, whilst the other may get $1.00, but the wealth produced is exactly the same, whether it is a bushel of wheat, or a ton of coal, or a bar of iron. We think it is this phase of production we ought to look at, especially when wondering why it is, that every nation seems to be going ahead, whether protectionist or free trader. In spite of all its deficiencies, and there are many, the United Kingdom for its size, is keeping pretty well to the front. For instance we see that its population in 1860 was 29 millions, whilst in 1906 it was 43 millions. This, in spite of the enormous emigration that has been leaving its shores year by year. Its imports in 1860 were 210 millions of pounds, which in 1906 had increased to 608 millions, that is the population had increased some 60 per cent., whilst the imports had increased in the same length of time 200 per cent. The exports were 165 and 452 millions respectively, or the total trade 375 and 1060 millions respectively. These are huge figures, but it is a huge nation that is producing them, and they are worth pondering over.

REMEMBER MY BONDS.

Not prison chains, with cruel hardens clanking.
Not iron rings, to fetter hands and feet.
But subtle bonds, the strength to steel outwanking.
(That elude the soul in bondage more complete.

The ages past have forged the lines around us,
And weighed them with care, disease and death.
So weak at heart we yield when our surround us,
And keep the bondage till life's latest breath.

But wings of faith beat hard again, each fetter,
All truth and beauty no longer to rise;
The pure and deep heart yearnings to be better,
Strain at the chains and pull to reach the skies.

Remember, friends, and judge with loving kindness,
Your bonds and mine may be a world apart.
But we would shrink from all our human blindness,
Could we but see the chains that bind the heart.
—Lanta Wilson Smith, in New York Christian Advocate.

DRUNKEN WOMEN.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Rev. Frederick E. Hopkins, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church, went home last night, both convinced and "tuckered out." All afternoon he had led a party of several men on a tour through many of the leading downtown restaurants, obtaining statistics on what he terms "boozing women." The preacher placed in the hands his position on the question as against that of his critics, who declared he is wrong. Following are the net results: Women seen in restaurants, 463; number of women drinking liquor, 269; number not drinking, 194.

THE UNCONGENIAL PUMP.

"That famous temperance reformer, the late Francis Murphy," said a Pittsburgh man, "had many an odd adventure in the course of his very useful life."
"He once told me of a case where a drinking man with a neat joke got for the moment, a little the better of him in an argument."
"The man was a club man, a bon vivant, famous for his wine cellar, and Mr. Murphy read him a strong lecture on the drink evil."
"But the bon vivant only smiled, shook his head and said:
"Well, Mr. Murphy, I have seen many a pleasant party round a table, but I have never seen one round a pump."
—Washington Star.

A TEMPERANCE QUESTION.

The qualities of coco-cola were discussed by the Women's Christian Temperance Union in their district convention yesterday afternoon at Toronto. A resolution was offered strongly denouncing its use as creating the desire for more, and cultivating a desire for stimulating, opiates and narcotics. As the authority, however, on which the composition of the beverage was given was not named, the union laid the resolution on the table, in order to allow of an analysis being obtained by the superintendent of the scientific temperance department from a competent and recognized Canadian analyst. Tona-cola was also mentioned by one of the delegates as being similar in its composition.

CHURCH NOTES

Much that passes for patience is merely laziness.

Mr. Newton, organist of Kenora, late of Lindsay, is practising a large choir preparatory to rendering the cantata, "Under the Palms," which will be given in that town shortly.

It is doubtful, however, if the Rational Sunday League can ever cope with the habit, so prevalent, among young people in the country towns of sweetheating in the cemetery on Sunday afternoons.

Rev. C. S. Lord, B. D., of Grafton, has accepted a call to Fenelon Falls Presbyterian church, and will be inducted on Oct. 8th, 1907. The removal of Mr. and Mrs. Lord and family will be deeply regretted by the congregation of Grafton and Vernonville, after about 19 years' pleasant association and successful ministrations.

The story is matched by that of the two Christian Endeavorers who requested the organist to play something appropriate at their wedding. Greatly to their mortification, but to the amusement of the audience, they found themselves walking down the aisle to the strains of "Onward Christian Soldiers." Marching as to War."
—National Advocate.

The choir sang the anthem, "Sweet is Thy Mercy," the obligato solo being taken by Miss Edith Plaville. Mademoiselle J. Mele d' Aubigne, of Paris, France, is about to visit Canada in the interests of the McAll mission. She will deliver an address on the subject in the Presbyterian church here on Monday, Oct. 11th, under the auspices of the McAll Mission.

SERMONS DELIVERED AT THE CHURCHES LAST SUNDAY.

CAMBRIDGE-ST.

The Rev. Jas. Potter, of the Sailors' Missions, gave a very interesting and instructive sermon on his work among the sailors of our inland waters, last evening at the Cambridge-st. Methodist church. He told of the noble undenominational work which is being carried on by the Colporteurs and of the good wrought by the Snug Harbor building in Kingston, where sailors are made welcome. Bishop Potter urged the congregation to do their share towards maintaining boxes of good, healthy reading for the sailors, instead of the filthy stuff they are prone to get hold of. There were, he said, over 25,000 sailors on our inland waters, and we ought to see that the responsibility for their lives rests not with us. Rev. Mr. Potter left envelopes with the congregation to be returned next Sunday.

PRESBYTERIAN

For the third year the Rev. Jas. Potter, the venerable sailors' missionary, preached at St. Andrew's church yesterday morning. Ever enthused about his work himself, the missionary creates enthusiasm wherever he goes, and a large congregation listened to him yesterday morning. His itinerary takes him from Montreal to Lake Huron, and his work is done principally on board the lake and river vessels, and at wharves and docks. The Snug Harbor at Kingston, where a reading room, a recreation room and a chapel is provided for the sailors, is a place where they can be taught a little about their Saviour and receive good advice.
Rev. Potter chose for the basis of his remarks the verse, "I will work the works of him that sent me, while it is day; the night cometh when no man can work." John 9th chapter, 4th verse. Speaking of the work of the Upper Canada Tract Society, under whose supervision the sailors' mission work is going on, the reverend gentleman said a man or woman who is instrumental in raising a few mortal up from the blindness of sin is doing a far greater work than the greatest miracle Christ performed.

Lindsay has always been interested in the work of the Presbyterian church here, and four "Loan Libraries" these "libraries" are a number of books enclosed in a stout box which are circulated among the vessels and contain interesting reading for the sailors. There are now 299 of these in circulation. The story of one "Loan Library," contributed by a Lindsay young lady was related with much feeling by the minister. Late in the season she wrote saying that she was glad "her" boat and crew were safe in port, as she had been praying for their safety, the storms of that November evening terrified. At the time she wrote "her" vessel was tossing and pitching in the lake waters and experienced sailors declared it impossible for her to weather the storm. The girl's prayers availed, however, and the vessel succeeded in making port safely.

This and similar incidents, picked up in his career make Mr. Potter's sermons interesting. He told about his experiences with the sailors themselves, and in conclusion requested assistance in the soul-saving work.

THE CANADIAN ABROAD.

Thou native son, yet wondering far
From Canada, thy natal soil,
What fate hath carved thy destiny
Amid the city's vaulted (all?)

Forth from the Northland thou hast gone
To seek the world's enticing grain—
To bind the fetters round thy soul?
Or reach the goal of freedom's plain?

Whether in academic walks,
Or midst the factory's throb and stress,
Where'er thy place of duty lie,
Be thine to live for righteousness.
—W. Inglis Morse, in The Canadian Magazine.

Flags for Rural Schools.

The contract for supplying flags to be displayed in rural schools and on their flagpoles on holidays has been awarded to J. J. Turner and Son, of Peterboro, by the Provincial Government. The Legislature voted $5,000 at its last session for the purchase of the ensigns, and the sum to be paid will not exceed that sum.

About the Milkman.

That milkmen should have their drivers attired in a neat, clean, uniform, and their outfit for the conveyance of milk in good condition, the vehicle neatly painted and the harness clean was suggested by a citizen the other day. "Now that they are charging 6c a quart for milk, surely they can afford the additional expense, which will benefit them in the long run," he continued, "the drivers are sometimes dressed in any old way, and little attention is paid to general neatness."

AS TOLD IN THE POETS' CORNER.

THE DISCOVERY OF THE NORTH CAPE.

Other, the old sea-captain,
Who dwelt in Heigoland,
To King Alfred, the Lover of Truth
Brought a snow-white walrus-tooth,
Which he held in his brown right hand.

His figure was tall and stately,
Like a boy's his eye appeared:
His hair was yellow as hay,
But threads of a silver gray
Gleamed in his tawny beard.

Hearty and hale was Othere,
His cheek had the colour of oak,
With a kind of laugh in his speech,
Like a sea-tide in a beach,
As unto the King he spoke.

And Alfred, King of the Saxons,
Had a book upon his knees,
And wrote down the wondrous tale
Of him who was first to sail
Into the Arctic seas.

"So far I live to the northward,
No man lives north of me;
To the east are wild mountain-chains,
And beyond them meres and plains;
To the westward all is sea.

"So far I live to the northward,
From the harbour of Skerings-Bale.

If you only sailed by day,
With a fair wind all the way,
More than a month would you sail.

"I own six hundred reindeer,
With sheep and swine beside;
I have tribute from the Finns,
Whalebone and reindeer-skins,
And ropes of walrus-hide.

"I ploughed the land with horses,
But my heart was ill at ease,
For the old seafaring men
Came to me now and then,
With their sagas of the seas;—

"Of Iceland and of Greenland,
And the stormy Hebrides,
And the undiscovered deep.
Oh! I could not eat nor sleep,
For thinking of those seas.

"To the northward stretched the desert,
How far I fain would know;
So at last I sailed forth,
And these days sailed due north,
As far as the whale-ships go.

"To the west of me was the ocean,
To the right the desolate shore,
But I did not slacken sail
For the walrus or the whale,
Till after three days more.

"The days grew longer and longer,
Till they became as one,
And northward through the haze
I saw the sullen blaze
Of the red midnight sun.

"And then uprose before me,
Upon the water's edge,
The huge and haggard shape
Of that unknown North Cape,
Whose form is like a wedge.

"The sea was rough and stormy,
The tempest howled and whailed,
And the sea-foe, like a ghost,
Howled that dreary coast,
But onward still I sailed.

"Four days I steered to eastward,
Four days without a night;
Round in a fiery ring,
Went the great sun, O King,
With red and lurid light."

Here Alfred, King of the Saxons, Ceased writing for a while,
And raised his eyes from his book
With a strange and puzzled look,
And an incredulous smile.

But Othere, the old sea-captain,
He neither paused nor stirred,
Till the King listened and then
Once more took up his pen,
And wrote down every word.

"And now the land," said Othere,
"But southward suddenly
And I followed the curving shore
And ever southward bore
Into a nameless sea.

"And there we hunted the walrus,
The narwhale, and the seal;
Haw took a noble game,
And like the lightning's flame
Flew our harpoons of steel.

"There were six of us all together,
Norsemen of Heigoland;
In two days and no more
We killed of them threescore,
And dragged them to the strand!"

Here Alfred the Truth-Teller
Suddenly closed his book,
And lifted his blue eyes,
With doubt and strange surmise
Depicted in their look.

And Othere, the old sea-captain,
Stared at him wild and weird,
Then smiled, till his shining teeth
Gleamed white from underneath
His tawny, quivering beard.

And to the King of the Saxons,
Rising in his noble mood,
He stretched his brown hand and said,
"Behold this walrus-tooth!"

SAND OF THE DESERT IN AN HOUR-CLASS
(Longfellow.)
A handful of red sand from the hot clime
Of Arab deserts brought,
Within this glass becomes the spy of Time.

How many weary centuries has it been
About these deserts blown!
How many strange vicissitudes has seen,
How many histories known!

Perhaps the camels of the Ishmaelite
Trampled and passed it o'er.
When into Egypt from the patriarch's sight
His favorite son they bore.

Perhaps the feet of Moses burnt and
bare,
Crushed it beneath their tread;
Or Pharaoh's flashing wheels into the
air
Scattered it as they sped;

Perhaps the feet of Moses burnt and
bare,
Crushed it beneath their tread;
Or Pharaoh's flashing wheels into the
air
Scattered it as they sped;

Or Mary, with Christ of Nazareth
Held close in her care,
And the old sea-captain,
Who dwelt in Heigoland,
To King Alfred, the Lover of Truth
Brought a snow-white walrus-tooth,
Which he held in his brown right hand.

Whose pilgrimage of hope and love and faith
illumed the wilderness;

Or anchorites beneath Engaddi's palm
Facing the Dead Sea beach,
And singing slow their old Armenian psalms
In half-articulate speech;

Or caravans that from Passover's gate
With westward steps depart;
Or Mecca's pilgrims, confident of Fate,
And resolute in heart!

These have passed over it, or may have passed:
Imprisoned by some curious hand at last,
it counts the passing hour.

And as I gaze, these narrow walls expand—
Before my dreamy eye
Stretches the desert with its shifting sand,
its unimpeded sky.

And borne aloft by the sustaining blast,
This little golden thread
Dilates into a column, high and vast,
A form of fear and dread—

And onward, and across the setting sun,
Across the boundless plain;
The column and its broader shadow run,
Till thought pursues in vain.

The vision vanishes! These walls again
Shut out the lurid sun.
Shut out the hot immeasurable plain,
The half-hour's sand is run.

HARRY NIMM AND ME.

"Bout Harry Nimm I'm goin' to tell,
A good old pal o' mine, and yet
You'd like him just the same, for
He's the kind you can't forget.

We started in when we were young,
Just chaps about fifteen,
To write the greatest novel that
The world had ever seen.

And did we write, my pal and I?
We sat up late and early,
And piled up heroes with blue eyes,
And villains big and curly.

That's fourteen years ago, I guess
(Yes, fourteen to the day),
And Nimm's become an editor
On fat and fancy pay.

And I'm pullin' up o' proofs,
In overalls and smock;
A pullin' up o' dirty proofs,
And waitin' for the clock.

That's what me business is, me boy,
And what makes me so sore,
Is just to see Nimm come at nine,
And leave at three or four.

But Nimm and me once shared a room
And sat up late and early,
And piled up heroes with blue eyes,
And villains big and curly.

THE HAPPIEST SPOT.

(By Oliver Goldsmith.)
But, where to find that happiest spot
below,
Who can direct, when all pretend to know?

The shuddering tenant of the frigid zone
Bodily proclaims that happiest spot
his own;
Extols the treasures of his stormy seas,
And his long nights of revelry and ease;

The naked negro panting at the line,
Boasts of his golden sands and palmy
wine,
Basks in the glare, or stems the tepid wave,
And thanks his gods for all the good they gave.

Such is the patriot's boasts, where'er
we roam,
His first, best country, ever is at home.

AUTUMN.

Season of languorous gold and hazy drouth,
Of nature's beauty, ripened to the core,
When over fens far-calling birds wing south,
Filling the air with lonesome dreams of yore,
And memories that haunt but come no more;
Maiden of veiled eyes, and sunny mouth,
Dreaming between hushed head and frosted lands;
With fire-mists in thine eyes and red leaves in thy hands.

Spirit of Autumn, siren of all the year,
Who dost my soul with glimmers entwine;
As some old trunk, deep in the forest drear,
Is gloried by some crimson, clinging vine,
So thou dost fill my heart with haunted wine,
When in the still, glad days by up-lands serene,
With slow-down pace I seek thy glumorous moods,
In the hushed, dreamy haunts of fields and skies and woods.

How often in the still, rich frosted days,
Down the slow hours of some trance after noon,
Have my feet wandered in a mad, sweet maze,
Hunting the wind that, like some haunting tune,
Peopled with memories all the great, gold swoon
Of rustling woodlands, streams and leafy ways,
Ever eluding, fluting, sweet, before fading to rest at last in gold-green leafy core.

Far out beside some great, hill-cradled stream,
A winding along in sinuous blue for miles,
By tented elms, in fields that sleep and dream,
Low marsh-lands where the warm sun slopes and smiles,
Where through the haze the harsh grass-hopper flies,
His rasping note, the pallid asters gleam,
And golden-rod flames in the smoky light,
While far, blue fading, hills in mists elude my sight.

Or out in maple woods where companies
Of sombre trunks lift the soft light between,
And little sunbeams steal with ruddy eyes,
Sliding down the canopies of green
Spirit of sadness here you move unseen,
Down tented avenues where the long light lies
From morn till even, through the silent hours,
Where over all the day frets through it sunny showers.

On silent nights, gray mists creep near the ground,
And air is keen and stars grow sharp and clear,
And phantom frosts steal in and make no sound,
Down the long, low, haunted river, bleak and drear,
Biting with death the sedges dank and sere,
And even the wan moon rises large and round
Over the woodlands, flooding with ice-dreams
The far-hushed, ghostly face of wood and field and stream.

On frosty mornings in the crimson woods;
Or where the long, low grassy meadow shine,
Wimpering, steaming out through heavy moods
Of dewy glories to a far sky-line;
And pearly brooks, a company divine,
Go, softly chattering, under smoky hoods
I love to walk abroad and epe with you
Dream thoughts that are most sad and beautiful and true.

THE DINNER CALL

Of all the calls a fellow hears,
To bring him greater pleasure,
To fill his daily cup of joy,
And make a brimming measure,
The sweetest and the finest is
A dandy and a winner,
A sound that wakes up appetites—
The cheery call to dinner.

No matter what your earthly woes,
No matter what your trouble,
If all your cares be weighty ones
And all your griefs be double,
You cannot be a pessimist,
Nor any more a sinner,
When full and clear you chance to hear
The cheery call to dinner.

Its magic quickly makes us glad,
And puts us in good humor,
A sort of rare prediction, too,
An ever welcome rumor
Of edibles to fill us up—
The magate and the thinner
There's nothing else could hope to beat
The cheery call to dinner.

It brings a smile to any face,
Makes anybody pleasant,
The monarch on his throne of gold,
The simply living peasant.
It kills the blues and keeps us all
From purely growing thinner.
Oh, best of all it is to hear
The cheery call to dinner.

Solomon Not the Author

Paul Haupt, professor of Semitic languages in the Johns Hopkins University, who has finished a translation of the Songs of Solomon, is credited with saying that Solomon never wrote the songs.
"The songs," the professor said, "were written fully 600 years after his reign, which was in 950 B. C. The book is a collection of love songs, dealing particularly with the love of Christ, who was to come, for m. n. It was written in the neighborhood of Damascus."

The "Island Queen"

Femelon Falls Star: Mr. H. Austin's new boat, "The Island Queen," arrived at the lower wharf on Saturday evening, and on Monday was looked through, and is now in commission between Grand Island and this village. (The new boat is 37 feet long by 7 feet beam, and was built at the Lindsay Launch Works.) She has a capacity for about fifteen passengers, and is a very comfortable and speedy appearing craft.

Who is it?

Madoc Review: Very few of the citizens, perhaps, are aware that they have in their midst an ex-soldier who distinguished himself in the ranks of the great Crimean war, many were the feats of valor he performed, even at the cannon's mouth, while he took a foremost position in his regiment. As vividly as when he saw them can he relate to-day the attacks and retreats on both sides, while most dramatically does he picture the heroic change of the light brigade. But the soldier which has for him the saddest as well as the happiest recollections is that of a man, the saddest because he got severely wounded, the happiest because there his regiment had the pleasure of repelling an overwhelming force of Russians.

A Bible Sporting Editor

Pittsburg, Sept. 24.—The Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, preached a baseball sermon to a large congregation. For several days past the sermon had been advertised extensively.

Among other things, Dr. Young declared that St. Paul was the greatest sporting editor that ever lived. Dr. Young took his text from Hebrews, xii, 1: "Let us run with patience the race." He said: "St. Paul, the reputed author of these words, watched the great Olympic games, and wrote of them. He was enthused with the games, and were he alive he could possibly give points to the editor of sporting pages of the paper to-day."

"Our nearest approach to the old Olympic games, to which St. Paul refers, is baseball. Baseball is the pastime of 50,000,000 Americans. It was played by the Federal and the Confederate soldiers during the Civil War, and carried by them to every hamlet of the United States. It is played on a thousand fields, and the people who, every day during the season, pay an immense sum of money to see the game played."

"Of all the sports baseball is the freest from crookedness and gambling, from rowdiness and drunkenness. Baseball, like the Olympic contests of which St. Paul wrote, gives you the true idea of life. Christian life is a contest. Opposing, generous, dash and victory thrill through it. Some are disabled, some lose heart and head, many break the rules and are put off the field. Christian living is good team work. A baseball nine wins out not by the spectacular performance of one brilliant player so much as by the combined understanding and the sacrificing of one player to another."

Police Court Calendar

Three more well cases were disposed of last Friday in police court, and John Kearns, James Gohsen and T. Brady fined $2.45 each for not having the source of their water supply cleaned.

It might be remarked here that the mere cleaning out of a well improves matters little unless the surface water is drained away. Citizens should also see that a capable man is employed and that the work is properly done.

Evening Post of Oct. 8

The chill October breeze impressed Tom Foley with the near approach of winter, and he drifted around to Lindsay. On Sunday Constable John Short arrested him, and yesterday he was sentenced to the usual term, six months in the gaol, which will carry him nicely over the winter.

The three boys who were arrested some days ago, were let off on suspended sentence by Magistrate Jackson at police court, held last night.

A Brennan was fined the customary sum of $2.45 for not having his well cleaned out, an police court this morning.

John Gostlin contrived $7.20 in all to the police court coffers for having used abusive language and some "cuss" words on September 23, at W. E. Fanning's stable, because something didn't suit him.

Three town youths got on a spree on Saturday and were arrested and kept in the lock-up—unsanitary and all as it is—over Sunday. One was fined $7.10 in all. One of the others escaped and the third individual is locked in gaol and will subsist on "bread and water" for twenty days, meanwhile doing some labor between meals, because he had no money. He has figured in numerous police court cases, but no fine seems to have any effect, as his friends paid the money. The final one of the trio will receive sentence later.

STONED AT FUNERAL

Dastardly Attack on Jewish Mourners at Odessa.

CEMETERY WAS SURROUNDED

Many Wounded by Revolver Shots—Groups of the Black Hundred Pilgrimage Houses and Stores—Hebrews Mercilessly Beaten—Panic—The Cossacks Render No Aid But Jeer at People.

Odessa, Oct. 8.—The unionists of Odessa continued their attacks and outrages upon Jews yesterday. They began by surrounding the Hebrew cemetery, where a funeral service was going on. First they stoned and then fire revolver shots at the mourning Jews, many of whom were wounded. The Jews fled in panic. Later in the day members of the Black Hundred divided themselves into small groups and ransacked several Jewish shops, mercilessly beating the proprietors.

After further Jew-baiting detachments of Cossacks arrived on the scene, but instead of pursuing the Black Hundreds, they laughed at the rapidly with which they made their escape.

Tobolsk, Siberia, Oct. 8.—A gang of convicts who were being escorted here from Tyumen, Eastern Siberia, attacked their guards Sunday and wounded six of them. The guards fired on the convicts, 22 of whom were killed.

Eleven of the prisoners escaped with rifles, which they had wrested from the members of the escort in the hand-to-hand fight which followed the outbreak.

RACE HORSES INJURED.

Train For Windsor Track Runs Off Switch Near London.

Windsor, Oct. 8.—Two carloads of race horses en route to Windsor from Hamilton met with an accident just west of London on Sunday. The first car containing horses belonging to S. T. White, Maurice Welch and Geo. Neal, ran off at a switch and crashed into a railway chute, injuring Henry Aoh and Dawson belonging to the last named.

The next car toppled over and injured J. B. Brannon's Jungle Imp and Kiamasha II. so badly that they had to be left at London.

The attendants who were in this car escaped with a few cuts. A special train brought the remainder of the horses on to Windsor.

SIGNED NEW CONVENTION.

Russia and China Agree in Regard to Telegraphs.

Peking, Oct. 8.—A new telegraph convention between Russia and China was signed here yesterday. Under it China recovers all her previous telegraph rights in Russian Manchuria, and 2,000 miles of lines and connections are formally turned back to her. Russia surrenders the privileges she has exercised since the Boxer outbreak, and in the future will pay telegraph royalties to China.

May Order Prosecutions.

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—The Board of Railway Commissioners is now reviewing the evidence which has been taken by its inspectors on their investigation of the railway accidents of the past summer, and as a result of their consideration it is probable that several cases, in which there seems to have been willful neglect or gross abuse of the rules governing the operation of railway trains will be referred to the provincial authorities for prosecution. Although the board institutes no individual prosecutions itself, it advises the provincial authorities in this way of any cases which it thinks ought to be referred to the courts. In several cases the blame seems to rest upon railway employees, but at least in one instance the responsibility lies upon a railway company.

Will Select Examiners.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—Dr. Seath, superintendent of education, states that hereafter the Department of Education will appoint its own examiners from among the Normal School teachers, the members of the faculty of education and the inspectors, while three grades of examinations which will be known as the entrance, model and faculty of education examinations will be established.

Hitherto the boards of examiners of the university have arranged the examination papers, both for the university and the Department of Education.

Bank Swindler Arrested.

Orangeville, Oct. 7.—Bespattered with mud, High Constable Hughes, Manager Kirkwood of the Sterling Bank, and W. D. Henry drove into town at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon with William Hanlan of Schomberg. Hanlan was arrested in the morning at his home on charges of forgery, resulting from his cashing of notes, purporting to be signed by Patrick Garrity, on which he got $200 from the Bank of Commerce and $100 from the Sterling Bank on Thursday last.

The prisoner was positively identified and Magistrate Pattullo remanded him to jail. He is said to have a record.

Lost His Fortune.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Ex-Congressman Andrew Williams died yesterday, aged 79 years. He made nearly a million dollars in the iron business in the seventies, but lost his fortune.

A Lord's Day Case.

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—Application has been made to the Railway Commission for its consent to the institution of proceedings on behalf of the Attorney-General of Ontario against the Grand Valley Railway Co. for alleged breach of the Lord's Day Act.

Cannot Recover.

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—Judge Sewell has decided that Eymoto, the Japanese restaurant-keeper, whose place in Folsom street was damaged by a mob some months ago, cannot recover from the city and county damages for anything excepting the actual loss incurred.

THE POST CORRESPONDENTS' LETTERS

WILBERFORCE.

(Special to The Post.)
One of the finest pieces of roads in Hallowston county, has lately been built east of our village, on the Deer Lake road, and we must tender our thanks to Mr. R. J. McLaughlin for the interest he takes in any way in which he can be of service to us. He had been only petitioned two weeks for the grant on this road until Foreman Pearson and a gang were on the scene and built a road which is a credit to the community.

The song service in our church last Sunday was enjoyed by a large congregation. Cambray choir provided the music, which was much enjoyed by all present.
Mr. Marshall Moyne captured a prize for his splendid team, which he exhibited at Fenelon fair.
It is with deep regret that we hear that Mr. Jas. Moyne and family are leaving our community in the near future. Mr. Moyne has rented his farm, and will reside in Lindsay.

CAMBRAV.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Real estate has been booming in our neighborhood during the past two weeks. Mr. John Brokenshire has sold his farm for a good figure to Mr. Pollard, near Cameron; Mr. John Waldon has sold his west farm to Mr. Cooper, and the masons have already commenced to build a house thereon. Mr. R. Weldon has purchased two large fields adjoining his farm, from Mr. Wes. Terrill.

Harvest festival services were held in the English church last Sunday. The church was beautifully decorated. Owing to a wet day the congregation was small.

Mr. Angus Spence, who has been with W. Gillett during the past four years, has severed his connection, and in the near future will go into partnership with his brother, who conducts a general store in the N.W.T. The Epworth League held its very enjoyable social evening on the 8th. A good program was furnished. It is gratifying to see the League being attended by so many young people.

The Rev. Mr. Brown, Oakwood, very acceptably filled the pulpit of the Methodist church on Sunday evening. He preached a very earnest sermon.

Mr. O. Routley, of Toronto, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Routley last week.
Mr. G. N. Bramfit, who has spent the past two months in England, returned to our village last week.

NORLAND

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
We regret to say that the dread typhoid fever has come into our pleasant little village. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin are both down with it and are both very low, but their many friends hope for their speedy recovery.

On Wednesday, Sept. 25 a committee of the new iron bridge visited Norland to discuss where the bridge was to be situated, and they decided to build it just above the slide across a little island. The reason for this will be a rock foundation, the old place having no bottom on which to build the concrete. The committee were Mr. McNelly, of Lindsay, and Mr. Taylor Parkin, the county Warden of Fenelon; Mr. George Smith, the County Engineer; Mr. C. Callin, the reeve of Somerville, reeve of Cobocook; and the Layton reeve, of Norland. Mr. James Campbell.

Miss Gladys Woodcock has been suffering from a severe attack of tonsillitis, and we are pleased to learn that she is able to be around again. Our telephone line is open to Cobocook again, of which many people will be pleased to learn.

Miss Nellie Atterly spent Saturday and Sunday under the parental roof here.

Miss Katie MacIntyre, of Highland Grove, paid Norland friends a flying visit one day last week.

RECORD OF SOME FAST WORKA Canadian Financial Manager Tells of a Flying Trip.

"Yes," said Mr. W. R. Travers, General Manager of the Farmers' Bank of Canada, in conversation with a friend the other day at the King Edward Hotel, "I have just got back from Europe, after a seven weeks' trip. No, I did not go for pleasure; I went on the bank's business, yet I got some pleasure out of the trip.

After placing a quarter of a million of the bank's stock at a premium with English capitalists, with Viscount Templeton as honorary president, I was able to see a few of the sights. No English capitalists are not easy by any means. On the contrary, Canadians will find them very conservative. Before going into any financial matter of importance they look closely into it, employ their own experts, but once the value of the enterprise is ascertained, none more prompt than they to invest, and none with a keener eye for a good thing.

I did not have time to see much bank and for business, and am glad to be at work again. My trip has been of great advantage to the shareholders, and while it was hard work, it was very pleasant for me, but, with emphasis, "while London is the great city, Paris is beautiful, and each and every city I have visited has its own particular beauty. I never felt so glad to see anything over there as to see our own Lake Ontario, and to feel that I was at home again and in God's country!"

SCHOOL OF TELEGRAPHY.Great Chance for Young Men and Women in Lindsay.

Mr. Paton has the only School of Telegraphy between Toronto and Montreal, and it is located in Lindsay. This being so, and the demand for this kind of help the coming spring likely to be unprecedented, young men and women (in our opinion), will make no mistake in taking a course. Pupils now in attendance are making great headway, and have nothing but good words for the School. We doubt if there is a man in Canada better qualified to handle a School of this kind than Mr.

THE POST CORRESPONDENTS' LETTERSOAKWOOD.

Mr. George Hogg, of Port Hope, has been visiting relatives here for the past few days.

At the Presbyterian church on Friday last the Rev. G. Munroe was inducted by the Rev. Kannawin, moderator, of Woodville, as pastor of the churches of Cambray and Oakwood. Rev. Finlay, of Connington, (also lately inducted) preached the sermon, which was followed by the Rev. Young, of Eldon, who gave the address to Rev. G. Munroe as pastor. Rev. Ferguson, of Glenora, gave the address to the people. The service throughout was very instructive and was listened to by a large congregation. Tea was served from 6 to 8. In the evening addresses were given by the Rev. T. Brown, of Oakwood, and the Rev. G. Munroe, interspersed with music by the choir.

Relieved Sad News.

Our townsman, Dr. L. Sutton, received a telegram last Monday from Winnipeg informing him of the accidental drowning of two nephews—Lelloy Thornton, 17 years of age, and Carr Graham, 15 years. Both were young men of great promise, and the double fatality will be deplored by many in Peterboro, where they were born and spent their boyhood days.

Wheat Reaches Dollar Mark.

It is many years since wheat was sold for a dollar a bushel in Lindsay, but owing to the decrease in the crop this year grain is at present selling at that price. BUILT UP HER HEALTH

SPEEDY CURE OF MISS ECCLESON

She is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found Zula E. Eccleson, 6 Erie St., East, St. Thomas, Ont., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication, in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as also was she writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a tonic and regulator for female troubles. I suffered for four years with displacement and no one but those who have experienced this dreadful agony can form any idea of the physical and mental suffering those endure who are thus afflicted. Your Vegetable Compound cured me. Within three months I was fully restored to health and strength and now my periods are regular and painless. What a blessing it is to obtain such relief when so many doctors fail to help you. Your medicine is better than any doctor or medicine I ever had."

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration can be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Her experience is so great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

AS TOLD IN THE POETS' CORNER.

THE FALLING LEAVES.

Between broad belts of blue and grey
In a receding sky,
And swathed with sun, and wreathed
With rain,
The Autumn days slip by.

And in the night the keen stars hear
The whirr of passing wings,
Yet somewhere still the sun at dawn
Awakes a voice that sings.

But in the woods and round the hills,
The wind of autumn grieves,
And moaning past makes tremulous
The sunset in the leaves.

And in the paths that lie before,
The paths that lie behind,
The homeless leaves make populous
The old ways of the wind.

A meagre tint of gold looks up
From where the fields lie brown;
In floods from off the tented hills,
The autumn leaves come down.

And circling with the day and night,
In secret sympathy,
The wind and leaves together lift
The year's last litaney.

EVERY INCH A MAN.

She sat on the porch in the sunshine
As I went down the street,
A woman whose hair was silver,
But whose face was blossom sweet.
Making me think of a garden,
When, in spite of the frost and snow,
Of bleak November weather,
Late fragrant lilies blow.

I heard a footstep behind me,
And the sound of a merry laugh;
And I knew the heart it came from
Would be like comforting staff
In the time and hour of trouble,
Hopeful, and brave and strong;
One of the hearts to lean on,
When we think all things go wrong.

I turned at the click of the gate latch,
And met his manly look,
A face like his gives me pleasure,
Like the page of a pleasant book.
I told of a steadfast purpose,
Of a brave and daring will,
A face with a promise in it,
That, God grant, the years fulfil.

He went up the pathway singing,
I saw the woman's eyes
Grow bright with a wordless welcome.
As sunshine warms the skies,
"Back again, sweetheart, mother—"
He cried, and bent to kiss
The loving face that was lifted
For what some mothers miss.

That boy will do to depend on,
I hold that this is true—
From lads in love with their mothers
Our bravest heroes grew.
Earth's grandest hearts have been loving hearts
Since time and earth began.
And the boy who kisses his mother
Is every inch a man.

Observations.
Easy to drift to the sea of doubt,
Easy to hurt what we cannot heal,
Easy to rouse what we cannot soothe,
Easy to speak what we do not feel,
Easy to show what we ought to conceal,
Easy to think that fancy is fate,
And, O, the wisdom that comes too late.

A Sensible Magistrate.

Let the magistrates paste this in their hats. Col. Dennison, police magistrate of Toronto, may not be a second Daniel, but he is a wise man, nevertheless. Talking about a case in his court lately, Col. Dennison made the remark: "Everything I should be done in the light of day. If I have the court cleared I invariably ask the reporters to stay in order that the public may know what is going on. It would be wrong if justice were administered without being open to the public." More than one magistrate in Ontario might paste the above in his hat as a guide.

She Was His Wife.

"Dear me," said the good-looking female visitor to the superintendent of the lunatic asylum, "what a vicious look that woman has we just passed in the corridor."

"Yes, at times," replied the superintendent, evasively.

"But why do you allow her such freedom?" asked the lady.

"Can't help it," answered the official.

"But isn't she an inmate under your control?"

"No, she is not under my control; she's my wife!"—Puck.

CRUSHED BY FALLING TREE.

Sad Accident to a Haliburton Youth While in the Woods.

Evening Post of Oct. 15.

A young man named Charles Nichol, of Highland Grove, Haliburton county, passed through Lindsay last evening, on his way to Toronto, suffering from injuries received while working in the bush near his home by a falling tree. He was taken to the General Hospital, where it was found that he was paralyzed in his limbs by the blow.

Nichol is a tall, well build young fellow, and only sixteen years old. The doctors are hopeful that by careful treatment they can restore the use of his limbs.

Autumn.

The summer sun has browned the hills; the garden's rye with weeds.

Within the stagnant pool stands dry and lifeless broken reeds.

The nights are chill; the hearth fire dings and sheds a cheery glow—

The country roads are dull where once bright blossoms used to grow.

Not That Bad.

It is related that a man in a hurry for a train rushed for lunch into the first handy restaurant. It was not a fashionable restaurant. To his surprise and horror he recognized in the waiter an old school friend.

"Good heavens, my dear fellow!" he cried, "how did you come to this?"

"Oh, it's not so bad as you think," said his friend. "I only wait, I don't dine here."

Time

Time's a hand's-breadth; 'tis a tale; 'Tis a vessel under sail;

'Tis an eagle in its way, Darting down upon its prey.

'Tis an arrow in its flight Mocking the pursuing sight;

'Tis a short-lived fading flower; 'Tis a rainbow or a shower;

'Tis a momentary ray Smiling in a winter's day;

'Tis a torrent's rapid stream; 'Tis a shadow; 'tis a dream;

'Tis the closing watch of night; Dying at the rising light;

'Tis a bubble, 'tis a sigh— Be prepared, O man, to die.

—Francis Quarles.

The Worm Turned.

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 7.—Mayor Bennett, of Fort Dodge, who recently gained fame by issuing a ukase that all bailholders in the city must wed within a year or pay a fine, was taken at his word yesterday by Nolan Snow, a chaffeur, who eloped with the Mayor's daughter, Mabel. The elopers were wed in Fort Dodge and fled to Des Moines. Mayor Bennett is a great believer in marriages, and so he sent an ordinance through the Council placing a fine upon the heads of all bailholders at the end of a year. Young Snow is just in time to avoid the Mayor's fine, but not the Mayor's wrath.

This is a Good One.

An editor of an Ottawa paper wishing to put a stop to the practise of country correspondents sending items to his paper with no names signed at the end, fixed up an editorial note to this effect:

"Unless correspondents sign their names the item will not appear. The rule is absolute. No name, no publication."

But the compositor was sleepy, and when the paper came on the street, this was what it read like:

"Unless correspondents sign their names the item will not appear. The rule is obsolete. No name, no publication."

Never Swear.

It is mean. A boy of high moral standing would almost as soon steal a sheep as to swear.

It is vulgar—altogether too low for a decent boy.

It is cowardly—implying a fear of not being believed or obeyed.

It is ungentlemanly. A gentleman, according to the dictionary, is a gentle man, well-bred, refined. Such a man will no more swear than go into the street to throw mud with a chimney sweep.

It is indecent, offensive to delicacy and extremely unfit for human ears.

It is foolish. "Want of decency is want of sense."

It is abusive to the mind that conceives the oath, to the tongue which utters it, and to the person at whom it is aimed.

It is venomous, showing a boy's heart to be a nest of vipers; and every time he swears one of them sticks out its head.

It is contemptible, forfeiting the respect of all the wise and good.

Food of Workmen

We may not have as high a tariff as has Germany, but the Canadian workmen have not yet been reduced to eating dog and horse. According to the Southern Farm Magazine, there were slaughtered last year for food in the kingdom of Saxony 12,922 horses and 3,730 dogs. This was an increase of 224 horses and 133 dogs over the year 1905. In the whole empire in 1906 there were slaughtered for food 182,000 horses, and it is estimated that about 7,000 dogs go into food, in the empire annually. It is not unusual to find advertisements of dog and horse meat, and it is said that a great many dogs are killed and eaten that do not give up their lives under official inspection. News items detailing the arrest, trial, conviction and punishment by fine or imprisonment of men charged with killing and eating dogs that belonged to others, sometimes valuable animals or cherished household pets, are not infrequent, says the United States Consul.

TORONTO WANTS BIG SHIP CANAL

Along the Same Route as Trent Valley Canal—A New Scheme.

The construction of a ship canal, connecting the Georgian Bay with Lake Ontario, by way of Lake Simcoe, as advocated by the Toronto Board of Trade, who are inviting the co-operation of members of parliament and boards of trade throughout the country to secure an investigation into the feasibility and cost of the scheme.

At a Council meeting of the Toronto Board yesterday, the railway and transportation committee submitted a report on the scheme, which was unanimously adopted.

Efforts will be made to arouse public interest in the matter and to educate them to realize the immense advantages that will accrue to the city by its construction.

The Georgian Bay canal, by way of the Trent and Ottawa rivers, contemplated by the Dominion Government, will only be seventy miles shorter than the proposed route, whilst its cost will be treble, owing to the rock formation of the country and the number of locks that must be built to overcome the differences in the level of the country.

The board of trade will urge the Dominion Government not to proceed with the plan until a thorough investigation of the new scheme has been made.

Wee, moose, crimson-tipped flower,

Thou'st met me in an evil hour;

For I mean crush among the store;

Thy slender stem;

To spare thee now is past my power,

Thou bonny gem.

Alas! it's no thy neighbor sweet,

The bonny ray, companion meet,

Pending thee 'mong the dewy west,

'Wt' speckled breast,

When upward springing, blithe, to greet,

The purpling east.

Couldst blow the bitter-biting north

Upon thy early, humble birth;

Thy cheerful thou glinted forth

'Mid the storm,

Scarce rear'd above the parent catch

Thy tender form.

The flaunting flowers our gardens yield,

High clustering woods and wa'st man's shield;

But thou, beneath the random field

O' clod or stone,

Adorns the histic stubble-field,

Unseen, alone.

There, in thy scanty mantle clad,

Thy swart bosom warm'd and spread,

Thou lifts thy unassuming head,

In humble guise;

But now the share uprears thy bed,

And low thou lies.

Two women were discussing some new neighbors who had moved into one of the most sumptuous houses in their city.

"They seem to be very rich," said the first.

"Oh, they are," said the second. "Call we call."

"You are sure, are you, that they are—quite correct, quite—er—good form?"

"Oh, my dear, I'm positive," said the second woman. "They have 30 servants, 18 horses, 12 dogs, 11 automobiles and 1 child!"

(From the Canadian Courier.)

Mr. Alfred Wood, a well-known Montreal merchant, was travelling in the West some time ago and came to the thriving community of Vermilion.

Which is not so red as it is named. One of the citizens undertook to inform Mr. Wood as to the lightning progress which the town had made.

"Look at that," he said to the Montreal visitor, pointing to a shop, a house and a half-erected hall. "Just a year ago that was nothing but virgin forest."

"It's wonderful, perfectly wonderful," warmly agreed the Easterner.

"Your towns simply amaze me. The other day I was over in Warman and I noticed a pile of lumber as I was passing a certain corner. A few hours after I returned to that same corner, and, if you'll believe me, a handsome two-story building had been erected out of that lumber!"

The Vermilion man was discouraged by such enthusiasm.

A FAN'S SUGGESTION

A Cincinnati rooster suggests that Ned Hanlon be retained to manage the Reds next year on a graded salary. The suggestion is that if the team finishes last Hanlon is to receive seventh he is to receive $1,000, sixth $2,000; fifth, $4,000; fourth, $6,000, third, $9,000; second $12,000, and for winning the pennant, $15,000. Hanlon says it looks like a fair proposition to him. "His hope," he added, "in going to Cincinnati was not based on financial consideration." He had planned and expected to build up a winner for Garry Herrman, whom, he says, is the "best man in baseball."

A VERDANT ONE

"Down in one of the bush leagues where I used to play," says Wild Bill Donovan, the Detroit pitcher, "before any name had appeared in the papers more than half a dozen times, a big, broad-shouldered, athletic young fellow appeared on the field one day and asked to be allowed to give him a chance. I thought the matter over, and decided to give him a trial."

"When he came to bat the pitcher shot the ball over the plate. 'One strike,' said the umpire. 'How is that a strike,' asked the runner. 'I never struck at the ball.' 'Because I said so,' cried the umpire. Along came another. 'Two strikes,' the umpire yelled. 'Here, explain this thing to me,' said the runner, 'why do you say two strikes when I haven't struck at the ball at all?'

"Before the umpire could reply up came another straight one—swish high. Mr. Amateur let go with all his might, and away went the ball—faster and faster, higher and higher, as it sailed away. Just as the ball was passing over the fence, I looked toward the plate, and there was the mumpsuck standing stock still."

"Run!" I shouted, for we needed the ball. Run! Don't you see the ball has gone over the fence?" "Run," he howled back. Not on your life. I've done nothing to run for. I didn't mean to lose the ball, but I've got the money to pay for it. Now, much as the damages?"

BASEBALL UMPIRES

Baseball umpires in the American League, it is said, have more personal oddities and idiosyncrasies in judging plays than officials in the National or other leagues. Jack Sheridan, who is the veteran indicator or handler in Ban Johnson's organization, is in a class by himself. He uses neither indicator nor chest protector, yet he never stops a ball by his manly bosom and never loses count of the number of balls and strikes. Every member of the umpire staff in this league has some marked peculiarity, especially in the methods of calling balls and strikes.

Sheridan "sits" in a building, tone, lifting his right hand to indicate that the ball was over the plate. What he says for "ball" has never been interpreted, nobody else speaking Jack's language. His term for "ball" is an unintelligible growl. Yet it is so different from the "strike" that the fans have no trouble knowing his decision. Sheridan crouches behind the catcher as the pitcher delivers the ball.

"Sik" O'Loughlin, the near all-American, is also in a class by himself. "Sik" yells "strike" with particular emphasis on the "i" and draws his right hand back over his shoulder.

Probably the principal reason why the sales of our Clothing are increasing so heavily is because people have learned that their confidence in it is merited by the service it gives and has given ever since we've been in business.

CURLING.

The Stratford Curling Club have organized for the season.

The Cannington curlers held an organization meeting Monday evening, which was largely attended and much enthusiasm was exhibited. Mr. Nelson McLeod was elected president for the ensuing year; Mr. Geo. Campbell, 1st vice; Dr. Barker, 2nd vice; Mr. R. H. Davidson, treasurer, and A. E. Marks, secretary. The outlook for the season is promising for a most excellent one of sport.

Bdo. Independent.—The annual meeting was held Monday night with a good attendance. The election of officers took place, and owing to a few advocates of older curlers, the skips and managing com. were left over till the adjourned meeting, which is to be held Monday evening. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Patron and Patroness, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Boyd; Hon. President, H. J. Wickham; President, Herbert Mark; Vice President, R. J. Green; Chaplain, Rev. W. G. Smith; Sec.-Treas., Geo. W. Taylor. Mr. Wickham, the representative, was given instructions as to a few changes to make at the meeting in Toronto regarding the Tankard and District Cup competition. The annual enthusiasm was provided, and a lively season is expected with the roaring game.

THE TURF.

Danny Maher, the American jockey, is now in the place on the list of winning jockeys in England, and of late has improved his position greatly. Though he will hardly catch Higgs, the leader before the season closes, the Yankee and may be depended upon to finish strong. A little more than a week ago Maher had the singular experience of getting two walkovers in succession.

RUNNING.

THE HERALD ROAD RACE.

Ben Howard, the Hiawatha Indian, who has been taken in hand by the Irish Canadians, and who has developed into a good long distance runner, will be one of the starters in the Montreal Herald road race on October 31st. He will be in fast company, too, since it has, according to the Herald, been decided to enter a team of five men from the Irish Canadians, among them Longboat and Hilton Green, two other Indians. There is no doubt that the Hiawatha man will make good in this race, and it would not surprise those who have seen him perform, if he should win. Ten miles is his distance, and that is the length of the Herald course. Hiawatha may yet produce a winner.

FIVE MILE RACE.

A five mile race has been arranged by the Y. M. C. A. on Thanksgiving day for men, and a two mile race for boys. Both events will be run on the track in front of the Y. M. C. A. building. The start and finish will be on Kent-st. at the Y. M. C. A. corner. Medals will be given as prizes.

Yes, Longboat will run in the World's Marathon, provided that his work at the fall fairs is over, and he feels that he can spare the time.—Telegram.

113 entries were in for the Ward Marathon race in Toronto to-day. The course in 20 miles long and the race started at 3 o'clock.

Four Indians have entered—Tom Longboat, Hilton Green, Ben Howard, John Jackson. End Y. M. C. A. has 17 entries. Central 16, Irish-Canadians, 9, St. Mary's A. C. 2, Davidville Harriers' 3, and Marathon Club 2. There are eight outside entries. The race is for Canadians only, and the prizes are the cup, six gold medals, thirty-four silver, and 20 bronze medals.

The Unbeaten Onondaga wonder again romped away from every competitor in the 20-mile Ward Marathon in Toronto on Saturday, doing the distance in 1:41:46, twelve minutes faster than the record. Harry Lawson, a West End Y. M. C. A. runner, came second, in 1:44:59.

Of the 113 entered 93 started and 65 finished the race, and every man that finished got a prize. Longboat secured the gold cup. The first six runners received gold medals, the next six silver medals, and the last two bronze medals.

The play was late in being started. The first half the ball was kicked back and forth, neither sides being able to score. Things all went well until the L. C. I. fluked a goal as they then the display took place. Three goals in quick succession were kicked in.

The line-up: L. C. I.—Jobbitt, goal; Graham, Packer, backs; McDonald, McCamus, McLaughlin, halves; McQuorrie, Spratt, Sprague, Gray, Bishop, forwards; Gray, halves; Koyl, Ryan, Greer, forwards; Elliott, Puffer, Nesbitt, McQuorrie.

SWIMMING.

A new world's swimming record for women of 200 yards was established recently by Miss Ethel Mackay, of Glasgow, the champion woman swimmer of Scotland. The race took place at Burnley Baths, and it was the outcome of a match with Miss Maggie Scott, of Banup, who was champion of England for 1903-5. Miss Mackay got the better of the match and won by the head. At the 100 yards she had an advantage of four yards, and this she improved to ten yards at the finish. "The time was 2 mins. 57 1/2 sec., beating the old record of 3 mins. 8 sec."

There's a growing impression three months hard, without the option, would be a fair thing for some of the ruffians who managed to get into the Canadian lacrosse team, says the Sydney, N.S.W., Bulletin, in discussing the tour of the "All-Canadian" team in Australia. The arrival the incubator and relatch him afresh. Hockey is not, nor does it seem to be, as the Herald intimates, "dead" in Lindsay. The rink will be flooded this winter and the good old winter sport be played as heretofore.

It appears, from what the Herald says, that the Stratfordites haven't got over their "swelled heads" as yet, and the victory of the western Midges over the local boys still makes them spread out their "manly chests" and grin with huge delight. Evidently must remember that victory and defeat all come in the course of events and one team cannot be so infinitely superior to all others, the seven being composed of but youths who "chew the gum and are of like flesh and blood" as the Herald was so fond of quoting last winter. The under dog isn't always going to be on the bottom," as McGinnis said, and the time may come when the Stratford team will have to defeat in hockey as they have done in lacrosse, baseball, and other sports. Meanwhile the Herald's shafts of ridicule and forecasts of what will happen and what will not happen in Lindsay may be regularly expected when sporting news is short and when a particularly vivid recollection of the games of last winter inspires a flow of pointless verbosity.

While "Artie" Parkin may be a good sport, there are dozens of citizens in town every bit as good. We say this with all due respect to Mr. Parkin, who can manage a hockey seven equally well. Roller skating is an excellent recreation, but hockey is here to stay. Verily, talk is "dirt cheap."

ROLLER HOCKEY.

Evening Post of Oct. 12. The fun at the hockey matches last winter between teams from the best portions of the town still lives in the memory of all who witnessed them. What promises to be even more side-splitting is the coming roller hockey matches. Challenges have been issued and accepted, and the games will come off next week.

First, the Sugar Shakers throw down the gauntlet to the "Typies" and the "Typies" jumped at the chance. Nothing was beaten on ice last winter, and they have not met yet. Then come challenges from the "Clochers," the Barbers and a team from the D. & F. store. They all wanted to play the "Typies," but the "Typies" had the preference, so the Barbers and Clothiers arranged a match between themselves.

COBOURG JUNIOR ONLY.

It is hardly likely that Cobourg will enter an intermediate hockey team in the O. H. A. a despatch from that village states, as several of the players of last year's team have decided to quit the game. There is material in town for a fast junior team, and a meeting will be held shortly to reorganize.

"Haddo" Black is in Guelph with his old team mate, "Buck" Irving. "Haddo" can play some.

It is improbable that a roller hockey match will be arranged this week, as Manager Sheridan advises a little more practise on the rollers.

"Pro" hockey projects in Brantford are dead, but the Telephone City will have junior and maybe intermediate O. H. A. teams, as well as a City League, and that's pretty fair.

Toronto intends to show up better in the O. H. A. hockey this winter. The rink during the coming winter. He has promised to donate a handsome silver cup to be competed for by the teams of the Orillia Hockey League. If a junior league can be formed a similar cup will be given for the boys. Mr. Thompson is to be consulted on his efforts to promote a healthy sport for the young people of Orillia, with whom he is desirably popular.

A Guelph despatch says: "Haddo" Black, the well known professional hockey player, is at present sojourning in town. He says he is out of the game for the present at least. This winter he intends to work for a change, and will put in his time at Windsor "sticking type."

Orillia News-Letter: Mr. Wm. Thompson again has been elected to the rink during the coming winter. He has promised to donate a handsome silver cup to be competed for by the teams of the Orillia Hockey League. If a junior league can be formed a similar cup will be given for the boys. Mr. Thompson is to be consulted on his efforts to promote a healthy sport for the young people of Orillia, with whom he is desirably popular.

If the Portage Lake hockey team, two years champions of the International Hockey League, three times champions of the United States, included in the Houghton management in the International League again this season, they will meet the Montreal Wanderers, many times champions of Canada, and present holders of the Stanley Cup, in a series for the world's championship, according to the plans of the club management.

GENERAL SPORTING NOTES.

BOMBASTIC WALKERS.

The Oshawa, Port Hope and Peterborough applicants for honors in long-distance walking events are keeping up a continual string of challenges and shooting off unlimited quantities of hot air about what they can do when they get in uniform on the road again. They're all champions, in their own imagination, but when the time comes for them to "see the scratch," either the heat or the dust bothers them, and they're all in.

A SMALL FORTUNE.

More than twenty millions have been spent by American and English yachtsmen and by those who have taken a personal interest in such sport over the defence of a very ordinary silver cup, which originally cost about $250. No trophy in the world has cost more to defend, as it has.

The Montreal Shamrock lacrosse team will not make the trip to Ireland until next March, the directors having decided to make the postponement until then.

A BICYCLE RECORD.

Wm. Welsh, of the Midland C. and A. C. Birmingham, rode from Land's End to John o' Groats, England, unaided. He left Land's End at 6 a. m. on Tuesday and covered the 839 1/4 miles in three days, 8 hours, and 4 minutes, beating the previous record made so recently as last June by Tom Peck, also a member of the Midland C. and A. C., by 4 hours, 48 minutes.

Welsh, who finished thirteen minutes in front of his scheduled time, turned back towards Iwerness in an endeavor to break the 1,000 miles record of 4 days, 9 hours and 3 minutes, standing to the credit of G. A. Alley. In this he succeeded. Welsh, after a good sleep, started the morning after his arrival from Iwerness, and finished at 1.41 in the afternoon, beating Alley's record by an hour and 22 minutes.

Hockey on rollers will furnish great sport—for the spectators.

Stratford will have a gigantic skating and hockey rink this year.

Orillia's veteran horseman, George Powell, returned to Orillia last week.

Bracebridge curlers organized for the coming winter on Monday night.

Coley ran within less than a minute of Longboat's five-mile mark on a heavy track.

Toronto Varsity will have a new football field with a $15,000 steel grand stand next spring.

The American League teams of Boston and St. Louis beat the National Leaguers of the same cities.

It is altogether probable that Sweden will have a challenger for the America Cup on this side of the water next year.

Toronto World: The two Donovans should make a great batter. Wild Bill, of Detroit, leads all the pitchers and A. E., of Brockville, is the champion at catching votes.

Uncle Toby, the $6000 purchase made at the Buffalo meeting by the Messrs. Dement, has not yet made good. The numerous friends of the stable will be pleased to chronicle a change for the better in the running of this youngster.—Barrie Advance.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—The receipts for to-day's game, as announced by Secretary Bruce of the National Baseball Commission to-night, were $26,450. The players will receive $14,272, and each club is enriched to the extent of $4,750. The National commission gets the rest, $2643.

They are playing straight English football in the maritime provinces and British Columbia. There are fifteen men aside, made up of a full-back, four halves, two quarters and eight forwards. It's purely a passing and kicking game, with loose fields, poor tackling, but rather spectacular from a grand stand point of view.

England is to have its third lacrosse visit this fall, a Yankee team is to follow the Capitals and John Miller's tourists. Harvard University lacrosse team are due to arrive at Liverpool on Nov. 5. SCIATICA CURED.

Mrs. Chas. F. Haley Restored by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"I was utterly helpless with Sciatica. I could not move in bed without aid. Doctors treated me, but I did not improve. I used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and to-day am a well woman." This tribute to the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is made by Mrs. Chas. F. Haley, of Yarmouth, N. S. Two years ago she suffered most severely from an attack of sciatica, and for a number of months was an invalid confined to her bed. She further states: "It is impossible for me to describe the pain from which I suffered. I endeavored to continue my profession as a music teacher, but was forced to give it up. The doctors said the trouble was sciatica, but his treatment did not help me. I could scarcely take a step without the most acute pain shooting through my back and down the limb. Finally I took to my bed and lay there perfectly helpless, and could not move without aid. The pain was never absent. I consulted another doctor, but with no better results, and I began to think I would always be a sufferer. One day a friend who was in to see me asked why I did not take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and on her advice I decided to do so. The result was beyond my most hopeful expectations. All the pains and aches disappeared and I have never since been troubled with sciatica. I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the cure from which I suffered."

When the blood is poor the nerves are starved; then comes the agony of sciatica, neuralgia or perhaps partial paralysis. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich, red blood, which feeds the starved nerves, drives out pain and restores health. It is because these pills actually make new blood that they cure such common ailments as rheumatism, anemia, backaches and headaches, heart palpitation, indigestion and the painful irregularities of growing girls and women. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1-1910

LINDSAY LOCKS TROUBLE.

The Port Perry Star, through its editorial column, keeps "pezzing" away on the necessity of the Lindsay locks being immediately repaired. It says:

Port Perry, with its natural beauty, nearness to Toronto and a good train service, could be made a popular summer resort. Fishing has started again in Lake Seuzog, and if the water were kept at its proper level, there is little doubt that this sport would be of the best, in addition to the excellent duck shooting.

Port Perry suffered during the past tourist season and has made up its mind, it seems, that next season will be different.

Besides being advantageous to the Seuzog Lake village the building of new locks is imperative from Lindsay's standpoint.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The British Board of Education proposes to fine schoolmasters £50 apiece for marrying within five years of graduation.

Toronto News: The manufacturers will because they get no consideration from the government. Do they want the red parlor refurbished?

Moncton Transcript: Rudyard Kipling says the hearts of men are created much alike. Of course, this lets the cool man out. He hasn't got a heart.

London Advertiser: Fancy the leader of the conservative party in Canada throwing at the mother country a virtual "Declaration of Independence!"

Kingston Whig: The World wants to know why the federal bye-elections (at Brockville and St. John) were not contested. It should know. It supports the Conservative party and helps to mould its policy.

The efforts being made by a commission to adjust the claims of the C. P. R. telegraphers are said to be compromising of results and a strike is within the probabilities. The men want an increase amounting to about 20 per cent.

Gravenhurst opened its town electric plant yesterday, and the occasion was made a Tory gabfest at which great claims were made for Whitney's legislation in making the work possible. That is merely turgid nonsense. All that Gravenhurst has done was provided for in Ross' legislation years ago.—Hamilton Times.

It's a good thing, says Hon. Mr. McKay, the Whitney government has not carried out all its threats, to abolish the succession duties, for instance. It amounts to hundreds of thousands of dollars a year, and Mr. Matheson enlarged the scope of the law so as to make it more exacting. Thus "the robbing of the dead" goes on.

Hamilton Times: The consistency of the Whitneyites is well illustrated in their refusal to apply the 2-cent-a-mile rate to the Ontario Government's railway. Although every one of them in opposition voted to compel its adoption by all railways. As a matter of fact such a vote in ignorance of the effect it might have on the railways would probably work grave injustice. Regulation of rates should be just, and justice in that respect can be attained only by careful investigation and study of the facts in each case. These questions are not for the monthly demagogues.

Ottawa Journal: Mr. Foster returns to the charge that Sir Wilfrid Laurier prefers the Yankee dollar to the English shilling. Most people, including Mr. Foster, would probably show the same preference. Perhaps, what Mr. Foster meant to say was that Sir Wilfrid would prefer the Yankee dollar to the four English shillings and the few farthings which would be the Yankee dollar's cash equivalent. In other terms, that Sir Wilfrid in his heart of hearts hates the empire and loves the states. That is a quarrel between Mr. Foster and Sir Wilfrid. But, on the dollar and shilling basis, the average will take a hundred cents in preference to twenty-four and one-third cents every day in the week, and with the individual so it is with the nation.

Toronto Telegram: Good butter is yellow as gold, and just about as hard to get in its progress towards 40 cents per pound.

The federal government will again introduce the bill for the appointment of juvenile courts with whipping posts. Some boys in Lindsay would like to know more about it.

Star: Canon Welch might also have pointed out that well-furnished minds are a cure for intemperance. The drunkard is generally a man who puts an enemy into his mouth to seal what he hasn't got.

Hamilton Times: General Manager Halford, of the Union Bank, is out with the statement that this year's western crop will bring in as much cash as last year's. That will do nicely to go with.

The federal government has been asked by the Manufacturers' Association to put an export duty on pulp-wood. Why not on pulp also? If the paper industry is to be developed in Canada the pulp, as well as the wood, must be kept in Canada.

In the Prince Albert, Sask., election, the so-called Equal Rights candidate received a majority of 1 over the Liberal. There are about 300 contested ballots, however, and the Liberals expect to get nearly 200 of them.

The Montreal Star now advocates that the people subscribe the funds that will enable parties to legitimately conduct an election campaign and pay the expenses of men who could not go into politics at their own expense. The appeal is patriotic. Will it be acted upon?

"Steps in English" has been suppressed in the Toronto schools. The work was unauthorized and has been repudiated alike by the superintendent of education and inspector of schools. No waving of the Stars and Stripes in Toronto, thank you.

Kingston Whig: The wails of a boy who gets the chastisement in the court that he does not get at home are not indicative of the severity of the tawing. They simply mean that his lung power is good, and that in an emergency he can make a great noise.

It appears that only about 750 Japanese all told arrived in British Columbia from Japan, and these had regular passes. Three-fourths of all who came, estimated at 3,000, were from Honolulu, or were destined for the United States.

Peterboro Examiner: Hon. Mr. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, has brought back to Toronto, from the Dresden township fair, a mastodon tooth, tug up ten feet down. The Whitney Cabinet will have to be provided with a whole set of such teeth to crack the nut Dr. Nesbitt has provided.

Bowmanville Statesman: The township of Hope Council have a suit on hand for loss sustained a few weeks ago by a span of horses and a traction engine slipping into a ditch, because of a faulty road. One of the horses was scalded to death and the engine badly damaged. There is too much penny wise and pound foolish on the part of many Municipal Councils.

Montreal Herald: The city of Chicago has received $225,000 as its share of the profits for six months of the operation of the local street railways, and the estimate is that in a little while the payments will amount to $1,300,000 a year. That will be a fairly good payment for the roads to make for their special use of the streets, and Chicago needs the money.

The rapidly increasing sales of British newspapers and magazines in Canada since the lowering of the postal rates on second-class matter are most gratifying, to all who are desirous of British and Canadian literature kept in close touch with each other. During the months of July and August 5,569 bags of British mail of this class were brought to Canada, as against 2,120 bags in the corresponding months of last year, which represents an increase of 162 per cent. In the case of Winnipeg there was an increase of 261 per cent. Toronto 171 per cent, and Montreal 132 per cent.

It seems that in the light of actual experience, opponents of female suffrage will have to give up the contention that women should not be enfranchised because they would not vote if they were qualified. In South Australia, at the last general election, 59 per cent of the men on the rolls voted, and 42 per cent of the women; in Western Australia, 49 per cent of the men and 47 per cent of the women voted; at the last Federal election 56 per cent of the men voted and 40 per cent of the women. None of the Australian States has yet reached the extraordinary record of New Zealand, where in 1902 nearly 75 per cent of the women electors recorded their votes, as against 76 per cent of their brothers. SENATOR McHUGH VISITS THE WEST

Interesting Notes on His Recent Trip—Injury to Crops Will be Felt Chiefly by the New Incomers—Victoria and Vancouver are Forging Ahead—Rich Valley Lands Attracting Buyers.

Senator Geo. McHugh, who returned a few days ago from an extended trip through the West, has been greatly benefitted by the pure breezes of the prairies and Pacific Coast, and looks several years younger. In the course of a brief interview with him an Evening Post representative picked up the following information:

Mr. McHugh left Lindsay early in September on a trip to the great West, visiting as he did Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, at the same time he took in the cities of Everett, Seattle and Tacoma, in the State of Washington.

The crops through Manitoba, as far as could be seen from the main line of the C.P.R. appeared to be somewhat light on the ground, but as they were mostly cut in good condition, one might expect a fair yield and fair sample. From Regina west the grain many places was still uncut, and as much of it was as yet quite green, it must have suffered from the early frost and snow that passed over that section of the country. In Southern Alberta they go largely into winter wheat, and all through the McLeod district one could see the threshing machine going, turning out a good sample of Alberta Turkey Red winter wheat. Going north from Calgary to Edmonton it was apparent that both frost and snow had done a great amount of damage to the crops, and the same may be said of the greater part of the districts along the line of the Canadian Northern Railway. No doubt there will come large quantities of good grain out of that country this season; still, there is no denying the fact that the lateness of the spring, coupled with early harvest frosts, has been a bad setback.

Zealand women must be active politicians.

The Toronto Telegram declares that "it is the simple truth to say that the evil of drinking and the curse of drunkenness have enormously increased in Toronto in the last few years," and that "untold harm has been done by the surrender of people in high places to the shoddy and vulgar superstition that a family cannot celebrate the wedding of a daughter without feeding champagne by the bucketful to the sons, yes, and the daughters, of other families." This is a fearful indictment and though couched in somewhat exaggerated language, is no doubt true in the main. The Telegram admits that the increase of drinking has not been among the poor and lowly, who might be expected to fly to drink to soothe their sorrows, but among the so-called better class.

MERRY WEDDING BELLS,

Stevens—Macdonald

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. N. Macdonald, River-st., on Wednesday, Sept. 25th, when Miss Mary Margaret Macdonald was united in marriage to William Howard Stevens, D.L.S., of Prince Albert. Mr. Stevens is the only son of W. H. Stevens, B.A., I.P.S., of Lindsay, Ont. Miss Florence Macdonald, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and J. S. Macdonald supported the groom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Barrett, of Prince Albert east.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white broadened satin and a white net veil, hand embroidered in white silk. Miss Florence Macdonald was attired in a very pretty gown of white silk. After a pleasing wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens left for a honeymoon trip in the east. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome gold watch, and to the bridesmaid a pearl earring. The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents, showing the high esteem in which she is held in the city.

Mrs. Stevens is a daughter of one of the oldest pioneers in Prince Albert, and a large number of their old friends turned out in force to wish her a happy honeymoon trip. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens will reside in Prince Albert on their return.—Prince Albert Times.

Big Dairy Meet.

On November 7th a large gathering of Victoria county dairymen will be held in the Council chamber. In the morning the cheese board will have their regular sale, and the public meeting will take place in the afternoon, when prominent dairymen will deliver addresses. Mr. G. G. Pablow, chief instructor of the Kingston Dairy School, Mr. Murphy, and Mr. G. A. Putnam will also deliver addresses.

THE RECENT EMIGRANT

is, however, the one who is likely to suffer most—at least he is likely to feel the loss much more keenly than those who have been in the country a few years, and who have earned in the prosperity of the past. Such as those are in a position to go on without scarcely feeling a temporary loss, such as this year's operations may bring them; a temporary check may also be given to the rapidly increasing price of real estate, but this will affect the land speculator more than it will the actual settler, and if it has a tendency to decrease speculation in lands, the intending settler may be benefitted.

The climatic conditions of British Columbia coast towns are such as to make them most desirable places to live in. Victoria is a beautiful residential city, with a fairly brisk business aspect surrounding it. New Westminster is a substantial city of ten or twelve thousand population.

VANCOUVER is the largest of B.C. cities, and seems to be growing very rapidly in both wealth and in population. Whilst British Columbia has but little farming lands, her valleys are very productive and command very high prices, being principally used for fruit growing; however, her chief wealth is to be found in her fisheries, timber and minerals, all of which are very valuable assets.

"Yes, all along the way, I met many former residents of this district, most of whom were very progressive and all seemed satisfied with their present abode, notwithstanding they all had very kind recollections of Lindsay," were the Senator's concluding words.

THE REV. DR. POTTS DEAD

Eminent Methodist Divine Passed Away Wednesday Morning.

Rev. John Potts, D.D., Secretary of Education for the Methodist church in Canada, and a fighter for fifty years in the battles of the church, slept quietly away at his home, 8 Prince Albert-ave., Toronto, at 6.30 Wednesday morning. He was in his seventieth year.

Only his two sons and two daughters were present when the end came. For nine months the distinguished clergyman had been more or less disabled from "Bright's disease," for several weeks he has been confined to his room, and during his last eight days of his life he was unconscious. On Friday the doctors pronounced his case hopeless, and since then the members of the family had scarcely left the bedside.

The funeral will be conducted by the Methodist Church connexion. At one o'clock on Friday, there will be a short private service at the late home of deceased. Then the remains will be taken to the Metropolitan church for the public service. Rev. Dr. Carman, General Superintendent of the Methodist church, will be in charge of the public service. Three speeches of eulogy will be given by Rev. Drs. Burwash, Sutherland, and Briggs, who were members with Dr. Potts of the "Old Guard" of Canadian Methodism. The Board of Control decided that the City Council should attend the funeral. The members of the Board paid earnest tribute to the deceased.

STORY OF HIS LIFE

Rev. John Potts, D. D., had been a pillar of Canadian Methodism for half a century. In his youth the Methodist church in Canada lost a leader of the old school, but, withal, a progressive man and a student of new ideas. He was a great factor in all the epochs of the Methodist Church in Canada. In the Church Union of 1883 and in the College Federation movement he was an enthusiast. For the last thirty years Dr. Potts had always been in the forefront of the church's cause. He was a delegate to the first General Conference of the Methodist Church in Canada, in the year 1874. He had attended every General Conference since.

Dr. Potts, in his early ministry, was distinguished by great fidelity, and self-sacrificing work as a pastor, a work in which the poorest and most needy were never forgotten, and in which he won the universal affection of his people. He was no less successful as an administrator, leaving every charge in which he was placed in a prosperous condition as to all its enterprises and contributions to the institutions of the Church. But his preeminent gifts were seen in the pulpit. There he attained a power such as few men of his time possessed, not by pretentious learning, or glittering rhetoric, but by the presentation of great fundamental truth with a deep fervor of spirit and felicity of diction, which charmed the imagination and taste of all hearers.

Rev. Dr. Potts was a strong temperance man, and in connection with his educational sermons he frequently threw in a spice of temperance admonition.

KILLED A BIG WILD CAT.

Animal Was in Chase of a Swimming Deer at the Time.

Evening Post of Oct. 16.

Carew's tug, the "Beaver," which arrived recently from Ball Lake, had on board the carcass of a fierce-looking wild cat of large proportions that had been killed there. The animal lies in the mill yard at present, where it has been viewed by dozens, its length appears to be altogether out of proportion with its body. The paws are exceptionally large, and from the pads protrude sharp, wicked-looking claws. The head is the picture of ferocity, and a bob-tail completes one of the most dangerous animals to be encountered in the woods, dreaded alike by man and beast.

The species of the feline tribe was first sighted by some lumbermen, being in pursuit of a swimming deer. They took a skiff and rowed to it, and the creature turned to attack them. At this one of the men, Wright by name, struck it several powerful blows on the head, killing it. The body was thrown on the raft of logs towed by the "Beaver," and brought to town.

That a wild cat would attack a deer, in the water, which the domestic cat hates, would appear improbable, but the creature was desperate.

ate when hungry, and possess remarkable strength. The crush of people to view the carcase prompted the remark from a river driver that "the cat drew a crowd worse nor a circus."

MET WITH FATAL ACCIDENT

Former Lochlin Resident Run Over By Train Near Sudbury.

On Monday, Sept. 16th, a most unfortunate accident happened about 24 miles from Sudbury, at 1.30 p.m. which resulted in the death of Douglas Palmer. It seems he was trying to get on the ballast train, doing construction work on the Canadian Northern railway, when he slipped and fell under a car loaded with ballast, and the wheels passed over his hip and crushed it to a jelly, and then cut off his foot. He was taken immediately to Sudbury hospital, where his leg was amputated at the hip, but all in vain, and the unfortunate fellow succumbed to his injuries and died at 11 p.m. the same night. He was taken to Brucebridge and buried the following Wednesday.

Douglas Palmer was well known around Lochlin, Haliburton County, where he was storekeeper for the Haliburton Lumber Co. for two years, and was well liked. His many friends will bear with sorrow of this untimely death.

LEARN DRESS-MAKING BY MAIL

Take a Personal Course at School.

To enable all to learn we teach on cash or installment plan. We also teach a personal class at school once a month. Class commencing last Tuesday of each month. These lessons teach how to cut, fit and put together any garment from the plainest shirt waist suit, to the most elaborate dress. The whole family can learn from one course. We have taught over seven thousand dress-making, and guarantee to give five hundred dollars to any one that cannot learn between the age of 14 and 40. You cannot learn dress-making as thorough as this course teaches if you work in shops for years. Beware of imitations as we employ no one outside the school. This is the only experienced Dress Cutting School in Canada and is as far as by none in any other country. Write at once for particulars, as we have out our rate one-third for a short time. ASIATIC IMMIGRATION.

In his address to the Canadian Club of Victoria, B.C., Rudyard Kipling took occasion to touch upon the problem of Asiatic immigration. His judgment upon a question of this kind is of exceptional value, since his knowledge of eastern conditions has been obtained at first hand by a man of genius remarkable for his respectiveness, penetrating insight and faculty of expression. Then Mr. Kipling, notwithstanding the poet, has misreading personifications of Canada as "Our Lady of the Snows," is warmly interested in the Dominion and its future and concerned that it should grow into a great, homogeneous and prosperous community. (Clearly he holds the Oriental to be an undesirable immigrant, law and government have a different meaning to the Asiatic than they have to the Anglo-Saxon or to the continental European. Asiatics, he told the citizens of Victoria, were born in fear and reared in the panic necessary to the race. The choice soon to be offered to the people of Canada is, he declared, that "between the desired reinforcements of your own stock and blood and the undesired of races to whom you are strangers, whose speech you do not understand, and from whose instincts and traditions you are separated by thousands of years—that is your choice. For myself," he added, "I think the time for making that choice is now."

The advice of a disinterested friend, whose qualifications and attainments lend weight to his counsel, at all times deserves serious attention. Certainly it is worth much more consideration than that of another class of counsellors whose personal interest happens to coincide with the policy of cheap labor they are openly advocating. But it is of far more consequence that Canada should develop on right lines, even if the rate of progress be slower, than that the welfare and future of the country be imperiled to oblige some of its mentors who have visions of vast profits earned for them by the Asiatic immigrant. Canadians will prefer reinforcements of their own stock and blood and the best energies of the Dominion and provincial governments should be given to that end.—Toronto World.

BORDEN'S LATEST.

Speaking at Victoria recently Mr. Borden made use of language which is somewhat startling in the mouth of the leader of the Conservative party. "While recognizing our duty to the Empire," he said, "we respectfully maintain that Canada should be in all vital questions accorded freedom of judgement as perfect and unfettered as that exercised by any other portion of the Empire even as that exercised by the mother country herself."

If Sir Wilfrid Laurier had used these words, says the London Advertiser, his opponents would have interpreted them as a veiled threat at the mother country and given them a treacherous twist. He encountered this sort of misrepresentation when he argued that Canada should have a larger measure of treaty making power. The Conservative press teemed with denunciation and with ponderous disquisitions to show that Canada could not have the right to make her own treaties because she had not the power to enforce them, or the necessary diplomatic machinery or national responsibility.

Mr. Borden goes further than the Premier in virtually declaring that in all matters affecting Canada, Canadian opinion should be supreme. What do the super-imperialists and professional Loyalists think of this attitude? It is consistent with the nature of the constitutional tie between Great Britain and Canada which makes the legislature of Canada subordinate, in theory at least, to that of the mother country. It will shock "Tories" of the old school. But sensible Canadians will not quarrel with Mr. Borden's position, for he indicates the relationship to the mother country which Canada must eventually hold—that of perfect equality and absolute self government within the circle of the empire. Mr. Borden, however, has chosen to enunciate this important principle at a time when he hopes to make party capital out of it.

Mr. Borden's "principles" are like those of the Yankee politician, who declared, "These are my principles, but if you don't like them I can change them to suit you."

Spurious Quarters.

The public are warned to be on the lookout for bogus quarters which are being circulated, says the Port Hope Guide. The spurious quarters are dated 1902, have King Edward's head on them, and are a fair imitation of the real thing. However, once a person has become acquainted with them they are not hard to detect, for the reason that the edges are rough and have the appearance of being finished in a hurry. In weight, the bad money is so close to the scale as to almost defy detection, and the workmanship on them, barring the rough edges, is excellent.

"ARBITRATE," URGES MR. T. N. DOUTNEY

Well Known Temperance Lecturer, in an Interview With The Post Urges a Conference Between Clergymen and Temperance Workers and Liquor Dealers—May Lecture Here.

Evening Post of Oct. 14.

Those N. Doutney, well and favorably known as a non-political, non-sectarian and non-abusive temperance lecturer and worker, is at the Simpson house. Mr. Doutney has travelled extensively in Canada and the United States; newspaper exchanges speak in flattering terms of his work. He carries letters of strong commendation from most prominent people in Canada and the United States, among whom are railway officials and people who stand conspicuously before the public, many of them also being prominent clergymen and state and municipal officials.

Visiting the editorial rooms of The Post this morning, Mr. Doutney said: "I have been engaged in my chosen field of labor for over twenty years last past. My father, who died in 1866, was a journalist. He never knew any other kind of business. He was at one time on the staff of The Montreal Gazette when Messrs. Lowe and Chamberlain were the proprietors and editors of that paper, and he served on many other English and French newspapers in Montreal and Quebec. I was born near Montreal. As regards temperance, I must honestly say, with all possible and greatest respect for those who think and believe differently from me, that I have no faith whatever in prohibition or local option. Remember, please, that I don't theorize—I speak from personal and practical experience. And there is no school equal to that of experience. I have been hotel and bar owner and a victim of the drink habit, therefore when I speak or write upon the subject, I do so from actual personal knowledge. Nothing, no matter what, could induce me to do or say anything to injure the temperance cause or retard its progress. My plan and work is to set people right, as best I can, on the all important issue of temperance. Bigots, cranks, and fanatics take issue with me; it's their prejudice that makes them do so. No good cause can make progress where bigotry and prejudice are the motives that

It is true that some localities vote for local option and carry it. To do that is one thing—to successfully carry it out is another. The great majority of the places that vote for local option, and carry it at election, are no more and no less than a gigantic fiasco and colossal humbug, simply because the law in those places is ignored, and a law that is ignored is worse than now law at all. Better, a thousand times over, a license law, giving licenses only to those who will properly live up to the requirements of the law, than local option enforced and frowned upon. The people, in practice and social custom, are opposed to local option. I have visited Owen Sound and other local option districts, and I can assure the people that local option in those places is a disgrace, insofar as temperance is concerned. And yet the people there are kind, courteous and generous. In local option districts the lowest class of people sell strong drink in kitchens and back rooms, where the lower element of both sexes congregate. These places, in many instances are beyond the control of the police. To hire what are known as 'spotters,' informers, is adding crime to crime, for those 'spotters' must lie and deceive, as a rule, to obtain liquor. They have been known to coax and lead men into selling liquor at prohibited times; (men who had no thought of selling at such hours) under the pretence of sickness. The regular legal and duly authorized police are a necessity, but, personally, I would not believe a professional 'spotter' on oath. A licensed hotel bar or liquor store would not for a moment tolerate what happens in kitchen back-rooms in local option districts.

I have the most profound respect for the clergy and their sacred calling. I am sure it is not wrong to say to the clergy, "Reverend and dear sirs, what do you know, from actual, personal experience, about the brewery and the liquor traffic, the hotel and the distillery? I am quite sure the great majority of these good men know nothing in that way on those lines. Thus it is that all great moves for temperance, conducted in the way they operate, always end in failure. Nothing can stop the liquor traffic. Moral suasion is the only effective work that is ever done with the poor drunkard. I speak and write to help temperance, and not to injure it. Politics is the great curse that injures temperance more than all else. Eliminate politics and prejudice from temperance and the question will settle itself, so the great benefit of the church, religion, and morality in general. I consider it even criminal, to say the least, to abuse the hotel bar owner, liquor dealer, brewer and distiller, and to ignore the poor drunkard. Drunkards are no benefit to themselves (I mean myself, too, when I was one), or to the traffic, for not one of them in a hundred ever has a dollar. Gospel temperance is the only real, practical and applied temperance. There are mean men in the liquor traffic, and there are also mean men in every walk of life, without exception. I suggest, for the sake of temperance, that the clergy and temperance workers should visit hotel bar owners, liquor dealers, brewers and distillers—not to go to them with bundles of tracts or sermons and condemnations, but to go to them in a friendly fashion, and say to them, 'Come, let us reason together.' Let the clergy and temperance workers offer in a kind and friendly way to co-operate with all bar owners, liquor dealers, brewers and distillers, in the better living up to law. Such a move on the part of the clergy and temperance workers, with the aid of all those engaged in the traffic, would quickly get rid of the dives and low places—for no man in the traffic wants to be classed as a 'dive' owner. It is very wrong to blame all engaged in the traffic, because of the wrong done by some mean man in the business. The hotel bar owner, the liquor dealer, brewer and distiller, always gives to charity (and benevolent objects, and is never the smallest giver in the list. Let us win people and not aggravate them, and not create a feeling of hatred against temperance.

The liquor traffic comes under the law of supply and demand. If there was no demand for the goods, none would be on sale. Temperance is a work of education, and not coercion. If the power of the gospel and moral suasion can't convert people to temperance and moderation and righteousness, nothing else can. After all, it is the abuse of anything, and not the use of it, that does the injury. There are more people who die from gluttony, lust, debauchery, etc., etc., than die from strong drink. Bigotry and prejudice are not religion. I repeat, just as long as politics and bigotry are allowed to congregate with temperance, just so long will temperance efforts be a failure. Get at the human heart through the help of God, and the question settles itself. I lectured some years ago near here, but have never yet lectured or worked in Lindsay or Peterboro. I hope, however, to work in both places later in the fall. In 1893 I occupied the Grand Opera House in Ottawa every night for two weeks—I am always honored, humble worker though I am, with crowded houses. I sing some at my lectures, and the lectures are always free to everybody. I trust to the general public for my support, and the support of my work. Let me add, please, in conclusion, by way of urgent suggestion, namely, these are the days of arbitration. Capital and labor and employer and employee meet to talk over and arbitrate their difficulties, and thus many a strike is averted. Moreover, such moves lead to a lasting and firm mutual friendship that counts to the good for all concerned, and for the public as well. Now, then, in like manner let the good clergy and temperance workers call upon, meet and confer with the hotel bar owner, the liquor dealer, brewer and distiller. Do so man to man, in christian, friendly spirit. Arbitrate over the difficulties which confront both sides, and join hands for improvement and for the better and cleaner living up to law—wherever the law is violated. I do most firmly guarantee the grandest results if the reverend clergy and temperance workers, and hotel bar owners, liquor dealers, brewers and distillers, will combine in such a move. I also guarantee that hotel bar owners, liquor dealers, brewers and distillers will most respectfully and most courteously receive the clergy and all temperance workers—in fact they will be glad to co-operate with them. I consider Lindsay a fine, wide-awake, thrifty town. I find the people most courteous, kind and obliging."

A Splendid Lindsay Machine.

The Post's Lindsay Valley correspondent says: The new gasoline engine gives good satisfaction, and Mr. Birchard is to be congratulated on getting a fine machine. With Mr. Russell Birchard as engineer and Mr. J. E. Terrill as manager of the cutting box, Mr. J. T. Birchard and D. W. Terrill had their silo filled in short order. Mr. Birchard is using a Sylvester 12 h. p. engine on a Morley-Harris Blizzard, which is operated by an ordinary engine called for 14 and 16 h. p. The saving effected by the Sylvester engine is only one of its good points.

insistence of the act that for a few minutes he could neither speak nor move. When he did, it was to put his back to the door very significantly.

"One question, Madame," he demanded. "You are aware that George Onslow is in Paris, that he spoke to you, gave you that paper?"

"Certainly, Mr. Onslow mistook me for some one else. I have just convinced him of his mistake." She was positively smiling.

"You expect me to believe that?" She shrugged her shoulders. "No," she answered, "the truth told by women is never believed, least of all at Versailles by men."

Andre ran his eye over her. As in the past, so now something in her voice and figure reminded him of some one else, but of whom he could not recall. "Madame," he said earnestly, "I urge you to tell the truth. You were never in such danger as you are now."

"Perhaps not. But I am not in such peril as you are, Monsieur le Vicomte." Instinctively he turned sharply round. The woman laughed and the laugh maddened him, for they were alone and the door had been locked by himself.

"My friend," she said quietly, "you are being spied on. To-morrow the ministers, the Comtesse des Forges, and the Comte de Mont Rouge will know how the Vicomte de Nerac, who gave out he was going to visit Madame his aged mother, has spent the evening in the company of Mr. George Onslow and disreputable women. I feel sure the Marquise de Beau Sejour will hear it, too, with additions."

"Well," said Andre, stonily. "Monsieur le Vicomte also is known to frequent the society of one Yvonne. Innocent peasant girls, when put on the rack, are sometimes obliged to tell lies, poor things, but lies useful to those who rack them. The Marquise de Beau

"Hold your tongue." "No, I will not, Monsieur le Vicomte is also the lover of Madame de Pompadour. You deny it? Then why go in the darkness with the King's private key to her apartment? The noble whose arm you sit will enjoy taking that delightful scandal about the Captain of the Queen's Guards to the King, and the King—mon Dieu! the King—" she laughed bloodthirstily, nor was it necessary to finish the sentence.

Andre wiped the sweat off his brow. The woman came close to him. "Supposing," she said in a low voice, "supposing you had been arrested to-night with that slip of paper in your pocket, would all your services, all your aches, your nobility, have saved you? Think, my friend, think. I did a bold thing, perhaps, in destroying it, but it was in your interest, Vicomte, not mine."

Andre was silent, appalled at her knowledge. The tables had been turned on him with a vengeance, and this astonishing woman was right, which was hardest of all.

"You would know," she proceeded, diving marvelously his confused thoughts, "how I have all this information. I have my crystal," she laughed, "but I also hate the King and the woman who rules him. You and she are not the only persons at Versailles to whom it is a matter of life and death to discover the secret of 'No. 101.' Monsieur, I am the paid agent of the foes of that wanton, the King's mistress, and of yourself."

Unconsciously Andre's fingers clutched the hilt of his sword. "Why do I tell you all this?" she asked in a low voice. "Does that confession amuse or startle you? Am I the first woman who would sacrifice herself for the Vicomte de Nerac or the first to confess her love? No. And to prove I speak the truth I will reveal to you the secret of 'No. 101' that I alone have discovered, but on one condition—she paused to put her hands on both his shoulders—"that you will promise from this moment to abandon Made-moiselle Denise, who is not worthy of you, and to love me alone."

Dead silence. Andre stood hypnotized, half by fear, half by the witchery of her womanhood. "I have beauty, wealth, power," she whispered caressingly. "Yes, I am as fair a woman as Mademoiselle Denise; I can make you a greater man than Madame de Pompadour can; I can reveal

And you have the insolence to offer me the carcass of a felon, a spy, a traitor. You are mad."

"It is you who made me and keep me mad, thank God!"

She sat down, beckoning him to sit beside her. "Now listen," she said calmly. "The game is up. There will be no more papers for a long time. Why? Because my fingers are on my track. The tools are being drawn around me. My sources of information are being discovered and stopped. And—" she paused—"and a man worth ten of you, unless I am very careful, will be in London."

"The Vicomte de Nerac?" he gasped out. "Curse him!"

"Yes, the Vicomte de Nerac, who barked you at Fontenoy."

"You let him talk us—you did."

"And if I did for my own ends, what then?"

"You love him? Answer! Answer or—"

"What is it to you? He is worth a woman's love. But my good friend, he does not love me. Give me your hand!"

She opened the side door, revealing a small room lit by a single candle. On the bed lay a man bound hand and foot, and gagged. One foot was off, showing whence the despatch had been taken. "A confidential messenger of the King whose damnation you have just drunk," she explained, with careless calm, "and like all secret agents the prey of his passions. He went from my supper table—or rather I carried him—like that. There will be a pothe in Versailles to-morrow or next day. It is not only at the palace, you see, that a beautiful woman can ruin a kingdom."

She slammed the door behind her and admired herself in the mirror.

while George Onslow's glowing eyes gazed on the superb picture that the mirror and she made under the blazing candles.

"You are a wonderful woman," he said softly.

"I am not a woman, I am only a number."

"As I think I told you when I saw you last night?"

She wheeled suddenly. "And because you were such a fool as to show you had discovered it," she retorted, "I could send you to-night, or any night, to be broken on the executioner's wheel. Exactly."

"It baffles me why you do it," he muttered, ignoring the remark.

"Well, I will tell you. For three hundred and sixty days in the year I am a cipher, a sexless, vagrant, unknown and unloved. But for five days maybe I wear my jewels and am a woman rejoicing in my health and my beauty. These are my woman's hours, glorious hours. That is one reason; the other is—revenge!"

"Ah!" He rubbed his hands appreciatively.

"And you?" she asked, with a faint smile of the most tempting provocation.

"For love," he spoke with a hint of pain. "To the world you are a mysterious number, but to me you are the most beautiful, most splendid woman on earth, without whose love I cannot live. Had you not by chance crossed my path I would have dropped this dirty felon's game, but I go on and shall go on, taking my chance of the wheel, the halter, or the footpad's death in the gutter, till you are mine, wholly mine."

"The wine is getting into your head," she said, in her passionless tones. "In your trade and mine that is dangerous. Remember the fate of all who, knowing what you know, have seen my face; remember your friend, Captain Statham, who recognized the Princess in the hut near Fontenoy. Love? Love? You are a strong, vile animal of a man tempted by mere beauty of body. But I am not an animal, for a woman's women are in Paris, London, Vienna. Love? A man's animal love? Think you it that was what I could feel or wanted? I would be to-day a thief of state secrets, a cipher, a skulker from justice? No, I would be the mistress of the King of France and would rule a great king."

"Carroll! scum!" she whispered, bending over him, "you deserve to die like the English dog you are. Miserable, insolent libel!" and she struck him on the cheek. "No, I will not kill you for you have my work to do and you shall do it. But a weak woman has taught you a lesson and your hour is not yet come. Another shall soil his hands or his sword with you rascal's blood. Go!"

She dragged him down the passages, loosened the rope on his ankles till he could just hobble, flung his coat about him, and with her dagger at his throat pushed him to the open door, where she dropped his dagger. "You shall be the damp darkness of the court, and the silent serenity of the stars."

"It will take you," she said pleasantly, "twenty minutes to bite through that cord, and by that time I shall have disappeared for ever from your sight. But remember my advice, or as sure as you stand here, before long my secret will die with you." She drew the lace gag from his mouth and stuffed it in his side his collar. Cry out now if you please," she continued contemptuously, "and my secret will die with you in two days—the executioner's wheel. Oh, keep the lace; it came from a woman's heart, and on the scaffold will be a pleasant souvenir of a night of love with a cipher. Adieu!"

The outer door was locked. The woman who was a cipher had disappeared; whence and whither, who could say?

As George Onslow stood with rage, jealousy, baffled passion, humiliation, surging within him, he was startled by the sudden appearance of a stranger.

"Don't be alarmed," said the boyish voice of the Chevalier de St. Amant. "This is a friend. He muttered a reassuring password. 'So that woman has treated you as she treated me?' In a trice he had set the helpless spy free.

Onslow's answer was an incoherent growl of gratitude, surprise, and relief.

"Well," said the Chevalier, "we are in the same boat. You will find Denise me shortly. I promise you. And then I did, and I can promise you revenge, my friend, revenge will be sweet. Meanwhile have courage, and be careful till our turn comes!"

And then he, too, glided away to be lost in the night that divided and protected all the treachery and treason, all the dreams of love and hate, of passion and ambition, the tears and laughter and prayers that throbbled then, and yet always throb, in the heart of Paris.

THE OLD COUNTRY AND HER COLONIES

Interview Between a British Journalist and a Young Calgary Citizen Leads to Some Plain Talk Along Useful Lines—What the Old Country Has Done and Is Doing for the World.

In the Birmingham (Eng.) Daily Chronicle of Oct. 1st Mr. Harold Bagdie, staff writer, who recently visited Canada with a party of British journalists, relates an interesting and amusing interview he had with a Calgary citizen while touring the West. The young fellow spoke in a patronizing way about the old land and voiced his entire disaffection in Imperialism. "No, sir! Imperialism isn't what I call business. Speaking metaphorically, I don't give a red cent for the Old Country. I'm a Canuck, I don't know anything about the Old Country. My home is here, right here, in Calgary. And, sir, Canada is my country." Whereupon Mr. Bagdie proceeded to tell the young man a few things which make good reading.

"My dear young gentleman," said I, taking him up, "I have heard ever since I set foot on Canadian soil too many pitying and patronising references to the 'Old Country.' I am not a fighting man, and I carry no more dangerous weapon than an ivory tusk cleaner 'ex angulo leonem'—let me recommend the invention for importation—but if you will maintain a peaceful frame of mind and endeavor yourself not to foam at the mouth or draw a gun on me, I should like to tell you that my country, far from being old and outworn, is in the very flush and dawn of its manhood, that it is the greatest country in the world, that it has the pleasantest customs, the most agreeable manners, and infinitely the strongest arm of any other nation under the firmament. Further, I should like to tell you that without my country, the 'Old Country,' as you obligingly call it, your country could not exist for three agonising agonies of a gopher's tail; and further, that if you were to cut the pointer to-morrow it would not interrupt a single cricket match in England, or cool a single bowl of porridge on the western slopes of our Scottish Highlands. If you will journey to British Columbia and engage yourself in conversation with the old timers, you will find that what I have told you is their own settled and well-reasoned conclusion. No, young gentleman, be calm and receptive. The Old Country is on its legs. The lion is roaring. Be so good as to chew gum, spitting as little as is possible to your convenience, until I have finished the exordium."

What the Old Country Does.
"Now, young gentleman, I wish you particularly to bear in mind the following considerations whenever you hear your simple people talking hot air about the Old Country. It is from our islands that we send every year, and of our schools and universities, young and healthy boys, who rule vast provinces, and bless with justice millions of alien people. They ask no one to wave flags, but they maintain peace throughout India. They ask no one to sing Rule Britannia, but they sow with corn the desert of Egypt. Consider the miracle of Egypt! That miracle is the work of the Old Country—the work of her boys. From the same Old Country we draw boys who crowd the ships of Britain and protect on every sea the commerce of people kind enough to fly the Union Jack, and unkind enough to speak unkindly of the 'Old Country.' From the same country is directed the Consular Service, of which a noble use is made, without fee, by our hard-headed Britons beyond the seas.

The health of the people of the Old Country, their glory in the refinement of civilization, their wealth, their strength, and their learning, continue to increase. Our men of science, our theologians, our publicists and newspapers illumine the world. Our politicians are long-headed, honorable men. Our banking business and our insurance business inhabit the lofty pinnacles of security. There is nothing in all the work like the Manchester Ship Canal and the Dockyard at Portsmouth. We have a perfect post office. We have judges.

BEYOND REACH OF BRIBES.
Newspapers beyond the reach of corruption, politicians who cannot be bought at. Our hospitals like the wonder of the world. Our charity is prodigious. The kindness and sweetness of our home life is not to be matched. We are civilized. We work, but we also live. We are rich, but we are also human. Listen, I pray you. This Great Britain of ours, young gentleman, is hopeful about its Colonies, and is proud of its Colonies, but a hen, even when her chickens have learned to peck for themselves, can still lay eggs. Pray do not think that Britannia is doddering. Britannia is no fool. Britannia is quite well, I thank you. If you prefer American customs and manners, if you would desire the American spirit and not the British spirit to inspire your politics, your home life, your administration of the law, your literature, and your art—go before an audience of old timers and propose an application to Washington for painless absorption. But whatever line you follow, be so good as to remember when you speak of the 'Old Country' that Great Britain protests you, that Great Britain is flourishing in the van of the nations, and wherever you hear the name of Great Britain, if you cannot go so far as to take off your hat, at least refrain from—(The spittoon, I observe, is proffered in your country.)"

DISSIPATED ILLUSIONS.
This, and much more did I say, and the effect on my young Canadian was delightful to behold. I could almost see the shrinking of his head under his hillycock. He interrupted me no more. He crowded not again. Very modestly and charmingly he proffered the British Lion an American soda, protesting that he did not want to be absorbed by America, and expressing the hypothesis that Mr. Keir Hardie was not perhaps the complete dandy he had at first suspected him to be. This idea of England was a place peopled with unemployed, where all the farms were derelict, and where all the upper classes were shuddering over glasses of sulphur water bottled in Germany.

He was a nice, pale-faced, long-haired and exhausted young man whom George Hirst could have clean bowled five balls out of six, and who could not have lived even with the H. H. and in a Mexican saddle for ten minutes. We parted on the best of terms. The young gentleman went away, I am persuaded, with less patronising notions about Great Britain, and with a cooler supply of hot air on his gum-umbered tongue. He will be henceforth a little centre of sweetness and light in the savage places of Canadian conceit.

SCHOOL BANKS

Children Take Great Interest and Results are Excellent.

Seven hundred dollars is now to the credit of the Port Hope school children in the Penny Bank, and the promoters of this scheme should feel highly pleased with this splendid result, says the Port Hope Guide.

The movement in favor of school savings banks is growing. They have long passed the experimental stage. The thriving, prosperous town of Galt claims the honor of being the first community to institute the system. Good results have followed, and it is now proposed to merge the school bank in the Penny Bank, formed in Toronto some time ago.

It is interesting to note that since the school children of Galt began their systematic plan of saving, twelve hundred separate accounts have been opened and over $9,000 collected, says the Woodstock Sentinel-Review. There are now over eight hundred accounts, representing a total savings of over $8,000, to be transferred to the Penny Bank. When a child has $200 to his credit the account is transferred to one of the chartered banks, and by that time it is hoped that the valuable lesson of economy and systematic saving will be so well learned as to last throughout the individual's life.

Will Test Town Water

DECIDED AT MEETING OF WATER COMMISSIONERS MONDAY.

Numerous Accounts Passed—Other Business Attended to.

Recognizing the possibility of the town water becoming impure at any time without the knowledge of the users, the Water Commissioners decided, at their meeting Monday afternoon, to have it tested at stated intervals and inform the users as to its condition.

There were present at the meeting, Mr. J. D. Flavell, chairman, Mayor Vrooman, and Messrs. J. R. McNeill and T. Brady. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

On motion Messrs. Johnston Ellis and J. A. Williamson, on behalf of the Agricultural Society, were heard. A leak in the service at the Agricultural Park had raised the charge considerably, and a reduction was requested. They claimed that the Water Commissioners had charge of the service, but the Commissioners explained that it was only out of courtesy, and that they have no supervision over a service after it leaves the street. The Agricultural Society also wanted a flat rate for the three days of the fair. On motion a flat rate of three dollars was granted, and the bill was reduced from $11.50 to $7.90.

LAKE SCUGOG FISH PRESERVES.

Mr. J. M. Might Advocates Measures for Preservation of Spawning Beds.

The preservation of Scugog Lake as a hatching ground for maskinonge is the plan suggested in the following letter, which appeared recently in the Toronto World:

Editor World,—I am an old fisherman for pleasure, and have fished in a great number of our excellent waters inhabited by the finny tribe. My opinion is that there is no place in Ontario at least, so well adapted or suitable for the production of bass and maskinonge as Lake Scugog. It has more spawning ground, and apparently more food and better protection for the smaller fish than any waters in Ontario. That the Dominion government should allow this valuable hatchery to be destroyed through the waste of water at the Lindsay locks and want of proper attention appears to me to be a cruel thing simply by letting this waste continually go on to the extent that the water in the lake is so low, that in a severe winter many thousands of beautiful large fish are either frozen out or forced into so small a body of water under the ice that the air becomes exhausted and they die.

LOCAL OPTION NOT A FAILURE IN TOWN OF MIDLAND

Town is Now Peaceable at all Hours, and Drunken Men no Longer Offend the Eye—Business Men Testify to the Marked Improvement Noticeable in the Payment of Debts.

Evening Post of Oct. 15

Our citizens no doubt perused with some little interest the rather remarkable interview with Mr. N. L. Doughty, declared temperance worker, which appeared in last night's issue. Mr. Doughty makes no secret of his opposition to prohibition and cal option as a means of combating the drink evil, and speaks of sights to be witnessed in these communities. It is only fair that the other side should be heard from. The following taken from a recent issue of the Midland Free Press, does not bear out the story told by Mr. Doughty.

Evidently, the publisher of the Orillia News-Letter is not in sympathy with local option. In last week's issue he quotes six police court fines, as reported in a recent issue of the Free Press, to show that local option in Midland does not serve the purpose for which it was intended. Apparently he wishes to discourage the citizens of Orillia in their efforts to secure local option in that town. Possibly the News-Letter is not aware that only three of the fines referred to were for drunkenness, and that the liquor was secured in Penetang. This is no street gossip or idle fancy, but it has been stated by one who knows, that the parties secured the liquor in Penetang. We might also inform the News-Letter—that in most cases where fines were imposed since local option came into force in Midland, when liquor was responsible, the liquor was obtained in Orillia or Penetang. We need only quote one example to prove this, that of the disturbance on the train on the night of the 100-F. excursion from Orillia, when several young men broke the car windows, for which they paid a fine and costs. In submitting a local option by-law it is not expected to remove at once every drop of liquor from the community, nor stop entirely the sale of liquor. Men who are so void of principle as to violate the law under the license system, are not likely to submit to a local option measure without a strong fight, and to continue selling, if at all possible without detection.

We wish, however, to assure the citizens of Orillia and other towns, contemplating the submission of a local option by-law, that as far as Midland is concerned it is a decided success. We make this emphatic statement conscientiously for several reasons. The hotels and streets are one hundred per cent. quieter. The crowds that heretofore gathered around the hotel corners spitting tobacco juice on the sidewalks for ladies to mop up with their skirts are no more to be seen. At eleven o'clock and on to midnight, which in the past was the most uproarious time around the hotels, is now perfect quietness and respectability. No tottering, staggering, besotted specimens of humanity leaving the hotels at that hour for their homes, where their wives or mothers are anxiously waiting— their return. This, in an exceedingly large measure, is a thing of the past for Midland, and thank God we intend, by His help, it shall be so.

A few days ago the Clerk of the Division Court was over from Penetang, and in conversation with Mr. T. L. Trueman, town clerk, was asked how he found business. His reply was, "very quiet. Owing to local option very few court cases are coming from Midland." Still another: A gentleman holding a responsible position with the C. I. F. Co., stated to the writer that "there wasn't one-sixth of the garnishing of employees' wages this season as in previous years."

As corroboration of our statement re the success of local option, we would like to quote the statements made on Monday by a number of our merchants as to the effect of local option on their business.

The manager of the Hayfair, Preston Co. says: "There has been a satisfactory increase in our business so far over the past year, and while making this statement, I consider it unfair to local option to use a comparison of business under existing circumstances, as the conditions of the weather, and having other towns in close proximity, under the license system. With local option over the whole country it would be a phenomenal success, and mean a vast increase in all mercantile lines."

Hartman Bros. say: "Our business has increased 25 per cent., and less book accounts and more ready cash." "Particularly noticeable," says Mr. E. H. Pigzotti, "is the collection of old accounts. Many accounts have been settled that were considered of little value. Our business has increased about 35 per cent. or 40 per cent. over last year, and the growth of this can be attributed to local option."

Another whose word can be relied upon, is Mr. Frank Wilson. He says: "In the millinery department our business up to Sept. 1st, 1917, has increased $1,488.20, and in the general business $2063.44 over last year. On August 1, 1916, our book accounts, outstanding were $700, at this date they are less than $65. It is unusual now for a man to come in and ask for credit."

Mr. F. W. Jeffery says: "My business has increased, which is due to the fact that people have more money to spend now than formerly. Some two years ago we tried the cash system, but our business decreased. We have commenced doing a cash business again this year, and our business has increased. As police magistrate I believe local option has been a great benefit to the town. The most of the drunks brought before me for trial, as far as the court could learn, were made drunk at Penetang or other places."

"I would consider local option a success. I have not near so many, asking for credit since local option came into force. It is much easier to do business. People can buy better meats. I am convinced more than ever that local option is a most decided benefit to any community."—W. A. Simpson, butcher.

Mr. J. G. Marshall, butcher, says: "Our cash business during the past five months has increased 6 per cent. over the same period. The book accounts have increased an about the same proportion, with much less difficulty in collecting. Payments of all accounts have been made, and it is much easier and a greater pleasure doing business since local option came into force."

"Have had a marked increase in business this year and find collections easier, but just how much of this is due to local option I cannot say.—T. J. Campbell, plumber."

There is also an impression abroad that the Queen's hotel is not paying its way. We wish to state here that we have enquired into the matter and find that the hotel is proving quite satisfactory, and will pay 6 per cent. on the capital invested, and have a surplus. The commercial trade has increased, and the refreshment department is well patronized. The hotel has a respectability and homelike appearance about it that is appreciated by the general public.

Father-in-Law of Col. Hughes Passed Away at Bowmanville.

(Special to Mailand Empire). Bowmanville, Oct. 13.—Mr. H. M. Burke, ex-M.P. for West Durham, died at his residence here this afternoon, at the age of 85. Mr. Burke was born at Darlington, where his father was also born, and was educated there. In 1848, he married Miss Ruby Williams, who died shortly after. Reeve of Darlington and member of the County Council, and president of the West Durham Reform Association.

He was first returned to Parliament in April, 1874, upon the resignation of the sitting member. He was a reformer and gave cordial support to the Government in all measures, which, in his opinion, were for the advancement of Canada. He was in favor of the prohibitory liquor law, also of a reciprocity treaty with the United States, on some equitable basis. He leaves a widow, three daughters and two sons. One of his daughters is the wife of Mr. S. J. Hall, the other of Col. Sam Hughes.

If these are out of order, Baby's Own Tablets will cure the trouble quicker than any other medicine, and the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine is perfectly safe. IMPORTANT NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

The Post at the Various Centres.

LITTLE BRITAIN

The annual concert of the L. O. C. F. will be held in their hall, Little Britain, on Monday, 21st inst. The talent, Harry M. Bennett and Jas. Rex, the well known comedian and entertainers, always attract large houses wherever they go. Those who wish to have an evening's solid enjoyment and harmless fun should not fail to be at this concert. The Little Britain orchestra and Miss Leah Robertson, will assist in the programme.

CAMBRAY

(Special to The Post).

The Temperance hotel here is well patronized, and much appreciated by the travelling public, and residents. The genial proprietor, Mr. R. Griffiths, is highly spoken of by all, and the hostess cannot be too highly praised. It is to be hoped their stay will be long in Cambray.

The Deering International Co's agents, Brune and Connolly, made a flying visit to our hamlet this week. The Sylvester agents, Myles and Perdue spent two or three days here, and turned things upside down by the way they were doing business. We need not expect their firm to go down by any means, as was reported by other agents.

We understand that Mr. Griffiths has purchased the high-bred stallion "Doo Chimes" from Mr. Simpson. He is a fine animal and we wish Mr. G. success.

SCOTCH LINE

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The apple crop in this section is an excellent one, and many are engaged in harvesting it.
A number from the Line attended service in the Presbyterian church, Dundas, on Sunday last.
We regret very much to record the death of Mr. John Robertson's infant son.

Owing to the absence of our pastor, Rev. Mr. Wilson, no service was held in St. David's church Sunday.
The trustees of our school must expect an Indian summer or a squaw winter to extend over the usual winter months, as the school is still without any means of heating, and most of the children are suffering from severe colds as a result of their negligence in the matter.
On Sunday Mr. Bingham, pastor of the Baptist church, delivered an appealing discourse from the text, "And my soul shall be joyful in the Lord; it shall rejoice in its salvation." Psalms 35-9, salvation in its various phases being dealt with in a masterly manner. A short testimony meeting was held at the close of the service. Appropriate music was rendered by the choir. Mr. Bingham has resumed his studies at McMaster University.

PENIEL

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
A very pretty October wedding took place on the afternoon of Oct. 2nd, at the residence of Mr. Wm. Short, Peniel, when in the presence of over a hundred invited guests his third daughter, Louisa, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Moore Osborne, also of Peniel. The ceremony, which was performed by the pastor, Rev. Jas. Ward, took place on the lawn. The bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Alma, was charmingly attired in a gown of white cologne and wore the bridal veil. Mr. Charles Osborne, cousin of the groom, ably filled the position of best man. After a sumptuous repast, the evening was spent in games and other amusements, the pleasant feature being the presenting of an address to Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cummings, of Oakwood, grandparents of the bride, it being the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding day. The address, which was read by Mrs. L. Brass, was ably responded to by Mr. Cummings. The bride and groom left on the 6.30 train for Toronto and other points west.
The bride's going-away suit was of green with hat to match. On their return they will reside at Peniel. The young couple have the good wishes of all their many friends for a happy and prosperous journey through their married life.
Mrs. D. McIntyre and Miss Dot Lillie are on the sick list.

THE POST CORRESPONDENTS' LETTERS

SOUTH VERULAM.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The farmers are very busy in this locality at present with their root crops and making preparations for winter. Those who are fortunate enough to have grain to sell are wearing a pleasant smile at present, as all kinds of grain are greatly in demand. There is a great cry of scarcity of feed, and no doubt the supply is short of other years, but the situation doesn't warrant people getting panicky, as we have seen years in the past similar to this, and the winter turned out to be a good one. The consequence was that there was a good surplus of feed on hand when the spring came.

This has been a bad year for cheese factories, and worse still, for the milk drawers.
The people of this locality are always foremost to appreciate a good thing when they get it, as was evidenced last Thursday evening, when a few of the patrons met at the residence of Mr. W. J. Killaly, the director for the locality, and presented their milk drawer, Mr. George Sherman, with a beautiful gold chain and the following address: Mr. George Sherman.—We, a few of your friends and neighbors, have met to-night to express in a somewhat public way our appreciation of your many good qualities as a milk drawer. We have admired you for your punctuality and obliging manner. Many of us feel that we have sometimes imposed too much on your good nature, as you were always ready and willing to do any of us a favor, and although it has not been a very successful year for milk drawers, there is a great consolation for you in the fact of knowing that you enjoy the esteem and good will of this entire neighborhood. We now ask you to accept this watch and chain as a slight assurance to you that we have been highly pleased with your services as a milk drawer. Signed on behalf of the patrons, W. J. Killaly, W. J. Falls, Robert White, Archie Campbell, Joe Davidson, Pat Brick.

OMEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The funeral of the late Michael Lowes was very largely attended on Tuesday. Deceased had reached the age of 79 years, being hale and hearty up to last winter, when asthmatic troubles took a serious turn. The deceased was one of the first settlers in Emily, and leaves a magnificent farm and home to his son, Wm. Lowes, the present reeve of the township and a widow, who will mourn the loss of an affectionate parent and husband. There are now only a few of the first settlers left. Deceased was a Conservative in politics, and a member of the Anglican church. The Rev. Mr. Teaney conducted the funeral services.

The anniversary services held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, and Monday last proved a grand success in every respect. The weather was all that could be desired and the church was crowded to its utmost capacity on Sunday to listen to the eloquent and profitable sermons delivered by Rev. Kinnawin, B.A., B.D. of Woodville, former minister here. The music by the choir was excellent, supported by Mrs. (Dr.) Snellgrove, Miss Annie Ivory and Mrs. T. C. Ivory, whose numbers were delightful. The tea and concert on Monday was one of the best held in Omemee, everyone going away well pleased. After the ladies had served refreshments, all adjourned to the body of the church, where addresses were given by the Rev. Teaney, Kinnawin, McCulloch, Drs. Thompson and Snellgrove. Proceeds clear $150.

Some of the farmers' orchards are suffering from frost. All apples should be picked at once, in order to get a good market.

Miss Sanderson, of Lindsay, attended the Presbyterian church anniversary services here.

Capt. New, late of the Yukon, is here, after serving two years in Dawson City. He says reports of the wickedness of the place are badly exaggerated and nothing said about the good people and good works.

WOODVILLE.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Stephens, Ops.

Hannah Parkin, relict of the late Edward Stephens, departed this life at the home of R. G. Parks, lot 15, con. 4, Ops. on Oct. 6th, 1907. The deceased was in her eightieth year, being born in Sutton, in Ashfield, England, in 1828. She came over to Canada in 1829, being the fourth daughter of the late Samuel Parkin, of Nottingham, England, who came to Ops as one of the early pioneers. After her marriage she resided in Mariposa, thence in Laxton, where her husband died ten years ago. She was the child of christian parents; her father being a deacon in the Baptist church in Sutton in Ashfield, England, before he immigrated to Canada.

Seven children, who still survive here, are left to mourn the loss of a devout and loving mother, ever ready to sacrifice her all for her children.

It so happened that she came back near to her old home to die. The day before her spirit fled she quoted the first four lines of the "Old Oak and Becket," by Samuel Woodworth.

She leaves one sister and one brother to mourn her loss, Mrs. John Calvert, of Bond-st., and Mr. Alfred Parkin, of Elgin-st., Lindsay.

Why be a Drunkard?

"I tried to cure my husband of drinking by using your liquid tonic," writes Mrs. Eymaline McFadden, "and I placed a few drops in his coffee three times a day. At the end of one week declared the old taste for liquor had gone, and that now he could pour it down his throat without knowing how much he's taking."

JIMMY REYNOLDS WALKING

KEEPS UP PACE OF FIVE MILES AN HOUR.

Expected to Make 138 Miles in 36 Hours—His Progress.

Evening Post of Oct. 23.
Port Hope, Ont., Oct. 22.—Jimmy Reynolds, the 57-year-old barber-pedestrian, left the Queen's hotel yesterday morning shortly after 6 o'clock on his second attempt to cover the Port Hope to Toronto and return walking route in a limited time. On this occasion he aims to make the round trip in 36 hours' time, although he failed in his previous attempt to make it in 38 hours.

His pace westward as far as Newcastle has been over 5 miles an hour, but the expediency of this rapid pace is doubtful. Notwithstanding his advanced age, Reynolds believes that he can materially lower the amateur record established last week by Langford, of 39 hours and 3 minutes.

What he has to do.

Reynolds' present attempt is made on the basis of 1 to 2 that he can make the trip in 36 hours, and even money that he will accomplish the feat in 38 hours.

Local opinion favors the latter proposition, but the 36 hour limit is regarded as altogether impossible. Reynolds was accompanied by two local men, J. Henderson and R. Woodcock, who will act in the capacity of trainer and pacer respectively.

Bowmanville, Oct. 22.—Jimmy Reynolds, the plucky Port Hope pedestrian, passed through this town at 10:42 a. m. He left Port Hope at 6:02 this morning, arrived at Bowmanville at 8:22 and Newcastle at 9:25. He is fully 35 minutes ahead of the time made by D. Langford, the Renfrew walker, who covered the distance last week.

In Same Old Garb.
The 57-year-old barber is dressed in same old slouch hat as he wore on June 25, when he was prostrated by the extreme heat between here and Newcastle. He wears short trousers and a sweater. He was as chip and cheerful as a bird and stepped along as nimbly as a school-boy on his way to dinner.

Reynolds has the opposition of a very strong wind that is blowing from northwest almost a gale. Great hopes are entertained that he will cut down Langford's record, but few believe that he can do the distance in 36 hours, although he appears to be in better condition than when he attempted the feat in June.

Crowds of citizens greeted him and gave him cheering words as he passed through King-st.

Oshawa, Oct. 22.—Jimmy Reynolds arrived in Oshawa on his trip from Port Hope to Toronto and return, just as the factory whistles were blowing at 1 o'clock, exactly seven hours since leaving Port Hope.

Later reports state that Reynolds reached Toronto at 10:10 last evening, well inside the time. A big crowd escorted him through the city streets and cheered the plucky barber to the echo. He was given a rub-down at the King Edward, and started on the return trip with the wind in his back. Norway was reached at 12:03 a. m., and the Half-way house at 1:15 a. m.

Thursday Morning.

Reynolds reached the Queen's hotel, Port Hope, at 6:29, thus finishing the 138 miles in 36 hours and 20 minutes and taking hours off Langford's time. He was accepting 2-1 odds that he could do the distance in 36 hours, and even money that he could do it in 38 hours. Considering his age, his success is phenomenal.

SEPARATION FROM COUNTY IS MOOTED

Mayor Vrooman and Other Speakers Present Statistics Thereon.

Lively Discussion at Meeting of Board of Trade Last Tuesday to Consider Separation of Town From County.

Evening Post of Oct. 23.
The question of the separating of Lindsay from the County of Victoria was the all-important subject at the meeting of the Board of Trade last night, and the problem when viewed from all sides, proved to be a hard one to solve. The matter was, finally, on motion of Mr. Jos. Staples, seconded by Mr. D. Cinnamon, left in the hands of a committee comprising Messrs. Thos. Stewart, Jas. Graham, D. Ray, F. C. Taylor, J. H. Sutherland and J. D. Flavelle, for investigation.

There were present at the Board meeting President Kyle, Secretary Donald, and Messrs. F. C. Taylor, W. C. T. Morison, Newton Smale, D. Ray, J. D. Flavelle, Mayor Vrooman, J. H. Sutherland, T. Fleury, J. Staples, G. H. Wilson, Reeve Beag, Ald. Webdon, Dep.-reeve Jordan, T. Stewart, Jas. Graham, W. B. Spurling, Robt. Ross, Ald. McLean, and many more. After the minutes of the preceding meeting were read and confirmed, President Kyle introduced the subject of separation and called on Mayor Vrooman.

On rising to his feet Mayor Vrooman said the subject had been broached to him by several prominent men. He had called an informal meeting of the Town Council and had purposely not invited the press. "The press gets its back up very easily," said the Mayor, "and attempts to 'hit back' when not invited." After this passing pleasantries his Worship went on to say that any town of 5,000 inhabitants could separate from the County if desirable. If the town of Lindsay could save a few hundred dollars, he said, it should separate. But if separation was considered the County Council should be approached in a spirit of conciliation, and the matter clearly explained. If the County Council will view the proposition agreeably, the separation could be accomplished with benefit to Lindsay; if, on the contrary, they were opposed to it, they could not prevent the separation, but could make the expense considerably more for Lindsay. The Mayor then proceeded to read an editorial in a recent issue of The Post concerning separation; he scathingly criticized the spirit of the article, and regretted its publication, which, he claimed, was almost enough to stop the movement there and then. The article mentioned that the town representatives in the County Council had been treated indifferently, and their influence was very little. "Now, gentlemen," said the Mayor, "if you are going to approach the County Council in that spirit, they will hold you down to the very neck."

His Worship proceeded to give various statistics on the question. The average county rate is $3700. In the building of roads and bridges, stone crushing, etc., the town pays its share, but gets little benefit. The town pays $1549 for the administration of justice, and it would be approximately the same if the town was separated. The town owns about one-seventh of the county buildings, and if the County Council was favorable to the separation scheme the town could get the value of this one-seventh; if not, it could not get a cent. The exact financial difference was difficult to precisely estimate, as a good deal depended on the feeling of the County Council in the matter. Arbitration might have to be resorted to before it was settled. The schools would lose money, in the speaker's estimation. The separation would not affect the attendance, but the county would reduce their grant 20 per cent. Here Mr. J. D. Flavelle took issue with the Mayor, but was repulsed. "I had enough difficulty in making out my case without interruption from anybody," declared his Worship. He then took the Library grant and the amount of $150 for the support of two boys at the Industrial School, making $2275; the total cost of separation to the town, thus leaving a yearly saving to the town of $1425. "But," concluded the Mayor, "I think we should go very slowly and carefully in this matter, and, really, he added, "I think the question might better stand for a time. It is a most important one!"

MR. GRAHAM'S VIEWS.
The second speaker called upon was Mr. Jas. Graham, who, as everybody knows, is deeply versed in county and town municipal matters, and has had a long experience. The consensus of his remarks indicated that he favored the separation on the ground that it would save the town at least from ten to fifteen hundred dollars annually. The great question was, in his opinion, that of the admini-tration of justice. Taking as a basis the amount paid to Victoria county for the benefit of the latter county's administration of justice, Mr. Graham estimated Lindsay's share paid to the county for the administration of justice as $1373.36. The average cost to the County of Victoria for administration of justice is $9135; Haliburton pays $550, and as Lindsay is on a basis of about 13 per cent, or one eighth, which will next year be raised to 16 per cent on increased valuation of the town, he based his estimate as above. For this sum of $1373.36 good value was received, in Mr. Graham's opinion. The share of the expenses of the Registry office, $25, keep of inmates in the House of Refuge $700, loss in education $400, and other similar grants made by the County, which would probably be withdrawn, were taken up by Mr. Graham, who estimated these amounts in round sums. He thus figured out the total value of our connections with the county, to the town, to be $28,460, or in round figures $3000. The amount levied on the town is $4261, leaving a saving of 1261 if separated. Regarding the Ross Hospital grant, Mr. Graham said that such a thing should not deter the municipality of Lindsay from separating from the county if it was to the financial interests of the town.

Ald. Weldon—"Have you taken into consideration the grants the county allows the Poultry Association, the Historical Society, the Law Association, and other town institutions? The County Council might also take the county buildings away from town. Omemee would be glad to get them."

Mr. Graham—"I consider the first query on a par with the idea of the County Council moving their buildings away from Lindsay. (Laughter.) When the County Council makes a grant to chicken shows and rifle associations, it does not make grants to Lindsay. (Cheers.) As for the historical society, there is no such organization in existence. (Laughter.)"

In conclusion Mr. Graham "went for" The Post, and repudiated the spirit of an editorial on the subject of separation, declaring that in his years' experience in the County Council the Lindsay representatives have been generously treated.

MR. J. D. FLAVELLE'S VIEWS.
"It is exceedingly unfortunate that the editorial appeared in The Post," began Mr. J. D. Flavelle, on arising to his feet, "and I am doubtful if it is wise to proceed now, owing to that article." The speaker felt the matter should be thrashed out a good deal more, and suggested that a committee be formed to probe into the full details, and, if necessary, hire an expert to assist them. In his presentation of the case he dealt with the position the town would occupy if the Council took an unfavorable view of separation, and arbitration was resorted to. He estimated the loss on the educational grant to be $719, public school inspectors $120, public library $50, and various other grants made to the town, with the cost of administration of justice would total to $200 at least, in excess of the present sum the town pays the county, his figures thus differing materially from the two former speakers. "It is dangerous to sever connections," he said, "and we should get all the information possible on the subject." Peterboro town and county had always been at "loggerheads" with each other, and the separation was on account of this. The Peterboro Fair was never a success owing to this condition of things.

Mr. T. Stewart, expressed the opinion that if arbitration was resorted to, it would cost at least $100 a day.

Mr. Staples—"I feel the town and county have sense enough to deal with the matter without arbitration."

Mr. F. C. Taylor—"I feel matters should rest right here. My feelings on the question are very strong. It's worth $1,000 to be connected with the county."

The motion forming a committee, as given above, was then made, and, on being put to a vote, passed. The meeting then adjourned.

CO-OPERATION IN FRUIT GROWING.

(To the Editor of The Post.)
Dear Sir,—I have been requested by some that are interested in fruit growing to give to your readers a few pointers that I have gained in coming in contact with fruit growers elsewhere. I have failed yet to find a man that goes into fruit growing from a business standpoint to say that it would not turn down every other product of the farm. True, we in this section are handicapped for a market, and are at the mercy of the few dealers that are handling them. Our orchards are small and scattered, but the commercial apples that are grown throughout the country of Victoria, such as the Ben Davis, Stark, Pownall, Fameuse, Wapiti, etc., wherever the orchard has had half fair play, compare favorably with any in Ontario, and are of a far better color and healthy condition than those of the Georgian Bay and Simcoe districts.

For many years the growers in these districts labored against the difficulties that exist in Victoria County at present, but a number of years ago the Georgian Bay district organized into a Co-operative Shipping Association, and is at present the largest shipping association in Ontario, having upwards of 500 members growing from 1 to 40 acres of apples yearly. Mr. J. S. Mitchell, Thorntree, is vice-president and manager. Last year the Simcoe district organized with Mr. W. Beacom, Orillia, as president and manager. A member of these associations gets the full value of their product less expenses, whether it be 1 barrel or 100 barrels. Now, the present quotations for commercial apples are: for No. 1, $3.75 to $4.50 per barrel; No. 2, $2.50 to $3, according to variety. On board cars at shipping points in Ontario. At least one-half of the product of the orchards in Victoria are No. 1 apples, thus making an average price for Nos. 1 and No. 2 apples at about $3.50 per barrel on cars; cost of packing and shipping barrels, 35c. each; picking and packing, 25c. per barrel; incidental expenses, 25c. per barrel. The real value of the orchard on the line is $2.65 per barrel, according to export quotations.

Now, I feel strongly that there is no reason that any dealer should have $1.65 per barrel for the use of his money from here to Winnipeg and other points. I think an early organization of the fruit growers would be a great benefit in this county, as a good many of the farmers are selecting young orchards. One man on the Scotch Line, Verulam, who has two good orchards with heavy crops this year, set 287 trees last spring, and has ordered about 300 for next spring, and a great many of his neighbors are following him on a smaller scale. I think that in a very short time the farmer of Victoria will be getting as good value for his orchard product as any other country, for as a rule they can grow as good commercial apples as can be found, where a little attendance is given to their orchards. The cost of pruning, mulching and spraying of a first-class orchard that is bearing, is estimated at about 20 cents a tree.

"STROLLER" AND IRISHMEN.

(To the Editor of The Post.)
Dear Sir,—I was very much surprised to notice in "Stroller's" remarks, which appeared in your issue of Friday, a contemptuous reference to Irishmen, whom he classed with Socialists and Anglophobic Americans. A man of "Stroller's" pretensions must be aware that "Home Rule Irishmen" and "Irishmen" are one and the same except in a small minority of cases, where self-interest on religious prejudice tempt the excepted ones to desire the continuance of "Downing Street" rule in Ireland. Surely, it is the most natural thing in the world for a man to want his country to have the right to manage its own affairs. "Stroller" well knows how obnoxious it would be to us to have Canadian matters controlled by the Imperial parliament. (Then why does he oppose the much stronger claim of Ireland to home rule? Ireland had its own parliament before the Dominion of Canada was ever thought of. Now, the Act of Union, which robbed Ireland of its parliament, was unconstitutional, even if it had not been passed by the aid of bribery and gross corruption. The Irish parliament, which presumed to endorse the Act of Union, had no title of rights or authority to surrender Ireland's right to its own then existing parliament without the expressed mandate of the Irish people. (This was never obtained, and therefore the Act of Union, which was foisted on the people of Ireland by the British government, was, and is, UNCONSTITUTIONAL. The Irish people are now offering to accept a fair com-

PRINCIPAL WILL STAY TILL MIDSUMMER

Matters Discussed at Last Night's Meeting of Board of Education—Resignation of Classical Master McDonald an Unlooked-for Deflection—Will be Lecturer at Queen's University, Toronto.

A special meeting of the School Board was called at the Council chamber last evening. There were present, Chairman T. Stewart and Messrs. Edwards, Carew, McWatters, J. W. Anderson, McIntyre, Flavell, Jackson, and Drs. White, Blanchard and Walters.

COMMUNICATIONS

A communication was read from Mr. McDonald, Classical Master of the Collegiate Institute, tendering his resignation from the staff and wishing it to take effect at Christmas holidays. He also stated that the position he had accepted was lecturer at Queen's University, and that he had tried to defer his going until next fall, but the university authorities would not allow him to stay. He was leaving the staff of the Collegiate with no fault to find with the school, the Board or its teachers, and with the sole desire to improve his position.

Moved by Dr. Blanchard, seconded by Mr. McIntyre, that the resignation of Mr. McDonald be accepted and the Advisory Committee be instructed to take steps to fill the vacancy, thus caused at the earliest opportunity.—Carried.

THE PRINCIPAL'S GOING

Mr. Flavell moved, seconded by Mr. Carew, that the resignation of Mr. J. C. Harstone as principal of the Collegiate Institute, to take effect at midsummer of next year.

Mr. Flavell said he had no desire to reopen the question in reference to the Principal, but he thought that it would be a sad mistake, as far as the school's best interests were concerned, to allow two teachers to withdraw from the staff at Christmas, as it could only result disastrously to the work of the year, to make such an important change when the term was only half completed. He also thought that the board would stand a better chance of securing a first-class man by making the change after the year's work had been finished, as no good man would leave his school with his year's work uncompleted.

Mr. Carew said he had looked into the matter and had come to the same conclusion as had Mr. Flavell. He would strongly urge on the board to retain Mr. Harstone's services until the term's work had been completed.

Mr. Jackson said he was unavoidably detained from the last meeting of the board. He was not bitterly opposed to Mr. Harstone, as had been said by a member of the board at its last meeting, but he was prepared to sacrifice all personal considerations in order to do what he considered to be his duty. He thought a change of principals would be for the best interests of the school, and he was still of the opinion. In regard to asking Mr. Harstone to continue with the board until midsummer holidays, he had made that suggestion at a previous meeting, as he believed it to be in the best interests of the school, and he would support Mr. Flavell's motion.

Chairman Stewart said that at the previous meeting of the Board, it had been indicated that it was desirable to have a change of principals at the Collegiate but as there has been no full discussion as to when he had no objection to having the resignation take place at midsummer. If he thought the resolution was intended to effect the decision of the Board, expressed by their vote, he would oppose it, but would now support Mr. Flavell's resolution, with the understanding that this would end it.

Mr. Flavell said the matter would be closed as far as he was concerned. Several other members expressed themselves to the same effect, but Mr. Staples, taking an adverse view, wished the resignation to go into effect at Christmas.

A vote on the motion was taken, with Messrs. Staples and McWatters voting nay.

An account of $35 for apparatus for the Collegiate Institute, secured from England, was on motion ordered to be paid.

The Board then adjourned.

THE 'FOWL SUPPER' SEASON USHERED IN

Most Successful Affair at Methodist Church, Emily, Monday Night—Bounteous Feast Spread Before Hundreds of Guests—Splendid Program Rendered in Which Lindsay Talent Assisted.

Evening Post of Oct. 22
Never does life on the farm present such an enjoyable aspect, such a "round of pleasure", than during the fowl supper period. Then it is that the farmers, with their wives and gleeful youngsters, for miles around the villagers from hamlets far and near, and dozens of townspeople, unite as one big family around the festive board and discuss the weather, the crops and the cattle prices, over heaped platefuls of appetizing fowl. Hard work is forgotten, the crops are safe in the barn, and the cattle well housed. The farmer feels happy, and the feeling is infectious. Everyone is bubbling over with fun and good nature, and the evening passes quickly and most enjoyably.

AN EVENT IN EMILY.

Such an event was the fowl supper at the Methodist church of Salem, Emily, last night. The evening was an ideal one. A tang of frost in the calm atmosphere sent the blood tingling through the body, and the keen ozone whetted everybody's appetite in preparation for the feast. The harvest moon was in the ascendancy in all its glory. Such a night, and the promise of such a good time! It was impossible for one to let the opportunity pass.

The occasion was the anniversary of Salem church. Special services were preached on Sunday, and the celebration was continued on Monday. The fowl supper was heard of far and near, and the crowd was well, it was a great crowd in more ways than one. In the Orange hall, across the road from the church, the tables were spread and groined with the good things prepared by the thrifty ladies of the church for the hungry ones. For the modest sum of twenty-five cents admission was obtained. Waiters were plentiful, and if one was lucky enough to secure a seat, the rest was easy.

THE CONCERT.

When every man and woman, lad and lass, had their fill, the crowd adjourned to the church, where a concert was in progress. As before, the building was solidly packed, and dozens had to stand. Rev. Wilson, the pastor, was chairman, and in his introductory remarks commented on the large attendance, and the general success of the affair. The choir then sang the anthem, "Passing Thro' the King's Highway", after which Rev. Smith, of Dunford, and Rev. Butler, a college friend of the pastor, gave suitable and appreciated addresses. A solo, "Long Live the King," by J. N. Gray, of Lindsay, was applauded to the echo. The hit of the season, "Dreaming", was the next number, and was sung by Mr. Chas. Perkins, also of Lindsay, in a rich, tenor voice. Mr. McGregor, of the Bank of Commerce, played the accompaniment for these two numbers. Following these Miss Eva Kennedy sang, "The Old Church Choir," in a pleasing and spirited style. Mr. J. N. Gray was again heard, this time giving the sacred solo, "Hold Thou My Hand," and the final number was another vocal solo, "Mother dear, I'm Coming Home," by Miss E. Kennedy. The evening ended with the singing of the national anthem.

With the most pleasant recollections the farmer and his wife, the lad and his sweetheart, climbed into their buggies and drove home. Among those from Lindsay who attended the affair were Misses Valeria Vickery and Maggie Gray, and Messrs. George and Batoche Terry, Ernest Ferguson, L. Goheen, Leonard D. Nesbitt, Leon Koyl, Gerald Warner, J. O'Halloran, and others.

Increase in Beam of Vessels Makes Change Advisable.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Lieut. H. H. The recommendation is based upon the rapid increase of beam in naval construction since the canal plans were formed. Secretary Metcalf will take up the matter with the president as soon as possible.

$250 FOR EAR OF CORN.

The Man Who Raised it Bought it Back at World's Record Price.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Two hundred and fifty dollars was the record price paid to-day for a single ear of corn.

The ear, a "Boone county white," was knocked down to the highest bidder in an auction at the National Corn Exposition at the Coliseum. The purchaser, who at the same rate per ear would have paid $15,000 for a bushel, was the man who raised it, L. B. Glore, a tall farmer from Franklin, Ind.

The ear was one of ten that took the sweepstakes in their class.

MARATHON COURSE SHORT.

Shirudo wasn't far out when he claimed the Ward Marathon course, which Longboat ran in a little over one hour and forty-one minutes, was not 20 miles. F. C. Flanagan, of the I.A.A.C., measured it recently, and found it to be one mile, 1,010 yards short.

The Hamilton Herald road race record is 1:48.42, and is held by Sammy Mellors, of Yonkers, N. Y. He made it in 1902.

Fowler, of Boston, who ran second to Longboat in the Boston Marathon, will be a starter in the Hamilton Herald road race. Art Burn, of Calgary, the Western champion, is expected down.

Arthur Burn, heralded by the Vancouver World as the future champion runner of Canada, is the idol of Westerners. In Calgary, that paper says: They are all ready to throw down their best clothes on the muddy streets so that he will not dirty his shoes in walking along the thoroughfares and wherever he has gone he has received a warm welcome that cannot be entirely attributed to his athletic ability. The Toronto Star says: Maybe they will let Burn walk on their clothes in Calgary, but down around Peterboro they would walk him around in the mud in his sock-feet. They still cherish the memory of sundry foot races pulled off there with Belland and others.

RUGBY.

F. C. Flanagan won the all-round championship of the I. C. A. C. Toronto, at their recent games.

The Hamilton Tigers, rugby champions of Canada, redeemed themselves by downing the Toronto Argonauts 24-6 on Saturday.

Ottawa College are jubilant over their defeat of Toronto Varsity in Hogtown on Saturday in the Inter-Collegiate Rugby League.

Baltimore defeated the "Old Orioles" 5-2 in the final game of the series. Matthewson and "Wild Bill" Donovan pitched for the old boys. Kelly led at bat.

The Calgary citizens are raising a fund to send Burns east to run against Longboat. Writing from Calgary, Fred Lepper, a Toronto ball player, says Burns is a kind of a dark horse, and wants to be known as such.

ODDS AND ENDS OF SPORT.

Ernie Russell is captain of the Wanderers.

Art Burn, the Calgary runner, has challenged Longboat.

Hans Wagner, Pittsburgh, has a batting average of .350.

The McGill and Toronto University track teams meet on Thanksgiving.

Longboat may enter a big meet of great Yankee athletes in New York.

Ed. Barrow has been proposed for the presidency of the Eastern League.

Whatever Shirudo is, he has full confidence in his own powers, and is no "quitter."

Sebert and Halbas, two West End Y. M. C. A. runners, are heralded as coming sprinters.

Tom Longboat won't have to do any advertising for his cigar store. That's one sure thing.

Frank Grace, one of King John's lacrosse team who toured Australia, is the first to return home.

Tom Longboat failed to break the three mile record of 15.05 at the Varsity games yesterday. His time was 15.09.

"Mike" Irwin, who left lately for California, will be missed in hockey circles. "Mike" was a crack goaltender.

Fred Mitchell, the Toronto pitcher, has had his arm successfully treated by Boncarter Reese. It is now in good shape.

"Ty" Cobb, the Tigers' heaviest hitter, will be presented with a souvenir by the citizens of his home town, Ralston, Georgia.

President Roosevelt has seen a bear, but it got away from him. A bear that will not stand and fight is a molly-coddie.

Jack Caffery, the Hamilton runner, who won the Boston Marathon twice, and who later retired from athletic life, is in training again.

The annual lacrosse game between Melbourne and Adelaide universities, played the last of August, resulted in favor of Adelaide by 11 goals to 2.

Eddie Dugan, the jockey, has, it is said, been signed to ride for Harry Payne Whitney next season. It is reported he will receive a salary of $15,000.

A big day of sports on Christmas day is being discussed in Y. M. C. A. circles. Christmas and New Year's are popular dates in Hamilton and other cities.

The president of the Chicago Board of Education says that the bible is unfit for children. What would he have read in the schools—the official baseball guide?

A. C. Jewell, the walker, who won second place to Charlie Skene in the fall championships, will be a starter in the Guelph 10-mile walk on Thanksgiving day.

Roy F. Best, the Peterboro runner, has entered the Hamilton pound-the-mountain road race. He will run under Peterboro Y.M.C.A. colors.

A Yankee pastor has resigned his pastorate, after nine years' service to loaf and play golf.

W.C.T.U. Notes.

The annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held in the Y.M.C.A. parlour Tuesday, Oct. 15th. Minutes of the annual meeting were read and adopted, also the treasurer's report. The secretary then gave her report for the year. There were nine regular meetings and one special. The purpose of the special was to fill out a form to suppress on prohibiting the selling of all intoxicants and opiums to unlicensed races everywhere, especially in China. The Francis Willard Day was also observed very fittingly, after which a dainty lunch was served, promoting sociability. The Temperance Leaflets have been provided by the Union, and distributed in the different Sunday schools. A social evening was given for the T's in the gymnasium, the proceeds to be used in helping to defray the expenses of our delegate to the convention. An anti-cigarette plebiscite was also submitted and heartily endorsed.

The secretary's report was accepted, after which Miss Elsie Rider favored the meeting with a solo, "Oh, dry those tears." The Vice-President then took the chair, and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Paton; 1st vice-pres., Mrs. Weldon; 2nd vice-pres., Mrs. Mitchell; 3rd vice-pres., Mrs. Matthews; treasurer, Mrs. Rea; cor. and rec.-sec., Mrs. Sharpe; supt. of juvenile work, Miss Elsie Rider; assistant of juvenile work, Dr. Olive Rea.

CONCERT AT ST. JOSEPH'S

PRESENTATION OF MEDALS AND OTHER PRIZES TO PUPILS.

Program a Most Pleasing One—Principal Broderick's Remarks. Evening Post of Oct. 22.

A numerous and delighted audience of parents and friends thronged the music room and halls of St. Joseph's Academy last evening at 8 o'clock, the hour appointed for the opening of a program prepared in connection with the annual commencement exercises of that well known educational institution. So popular are the occasional entertainments arranged under the supervision of the good Sisters that the ground floor of the convent would not suffice to accommodate their guests if they chose to invite other than parents and friends of the pupils under their charge.

The concert was, as usual, thoroughly enjoyable, everything combining to delight the artistic sense of the audience, disarm criticism and render the choice of favorite performers a most difficult proceeding. Every number on the program given below was deservedly applauded.

LINDSAY,

SIGN OF THE ANVIL.

Short addresses, congratulating the Sisters and their charges on the grand results achieved during the year just closed, were made by Venerable Archdeacon Casey, Fr. F. J. O'Sullivan, Port Hope, Fr. Fitzpatrick, of Ennisnore, Fr. O'Leary, of Galway, Senator McHugh and Principal G. K. Broderick, of Lindsay Model School. The latter bore witness to the thoroughness of the training of convent pupils—a fact forced upon his attention a constant during the twenty years he had been presiding over the Model School. Invariably he found the young ladies sent up from the convent display a marked proficiency, a high and unflinching courtesy, and a proper conception of everyday duty that was marked with sympathy and help for all about them. (Applause.) The program came to a close at 10:30 o'clock, everyone feeling that the evening had been all too short.

A Religious Jokesmith.

(From the Philadelphia Ledger.)
A stickler for the good old ways, which we all admit to be the best, dropped in from church to see a writer.
To the great surprise and horror of the Sunday visitor, the writer was at work. The cheery click, click of the typewriter sounded from his den. "Oh, my dear man," exclaimed the shocked caller, "you have not so far forgotten your early training as to be composing on Sunday."
"Oh, my dear, only jokes—and they are all jokes on religious subjects."

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 25th.

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.

The Council of the Board of Trade met on Thursday and discussed the advisability of separating the town of Lindsay, as a municipality, from the County of Victoria. Figures were given by Dr. Vrooman and Mr. Jas. Graham, which, if correct, would certainly warrant us as a town in demanding separation. According to the most conservative estimate, it is costing us $1500 per year to belong to the county, but Mr. Ray, who is an authority, states that it would be more like $2500. At all events, we would save interest on from $30,000 to $50,000 of our debenture debt, and we need to start saving somewhere. It was decided to call a meeting of Board to discuss the matter, and if thought advisable, to petition the Council to submit a by-law to the people, which it seems is necessary.

SEPARATION FROM THE COUNTY

Evening Post of Oct. 23. In reporting and commenting on things that happen, it is difficult to know just what to do. This is especially difficult in the case of public meetings, and the closer we get to home, the more dangerous is the ground we tread upon. It would seem to be necessary to either not report the proceedings at all, or, if we do, to put down untruths, if we are to mention the matter. During the present civic administration we have been called down several times for reporting things just as we heard them. We said nothing, taking our medicine like men, but there is such a thing as asking us to swallow too much.

Last evening, at the meeting of the Board of Trade, several of the speakers—namely his Worship, the Mayor—took occasion to find fault with us for an article we had in Monday's issue calling attention to this meeting, and for giving some of the reasons why separation should take place. These reasons are not our reasons. We have not thought of the subject sufficiently to take either one side or the other, but our representative was at a meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade the previous week, where the only speakers were the Mayor, Mr. James Graham, Mr. Ray and ex-Ald. John O'Reilly, and their talk, boiled down, was exactly as we put it in our article, in fact had we reported it in the Mayor's own words he would probably be the most surprised man in town.

We take issue with those who imagine that our article would be antagonistic to the county members in any other way than financially. It looked to us like a temper in a tear-gas. Because we take the Mayor's words, and say that they laugh at Lindsay when the town asks for a vote of money, it does not necessarily treat them ungentlemanly, and as for Lindsay getting its share of offices, that feature of it never was mentioned; but if we have to go, that in hand, to the County Council yearly for moneys that are ours by right and justice, it would seem that something is wrong. One former member of the County Council informs us that very often it was a case of scratching backs to get justice for Lindsay, and another former member said that what we said was all too true. "Who are we to believe? We took our cue from the Mayor, and thought we were helping his side along. Evidently he does not think so."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The first Philippine Assembly is meeting this week, and the caucus has decided that it shall be opened with prayer. The vote is regarded as a sort of test of church and state power, and was carried by a majority of one.

It is estimated that one-third of the United States school children are suffering from remediable physical defects. In some of the larger cities much good is being done by methodical inspection by competent physicians. There is room for doing much along those lines in Canada, too.

Somewhat or other Mr. Whitney has not yet lifted the liquor license business out of politics, as he promised he would, remarks the Hamilton Daily Times. There is trouble in the commission down at Ottawa, and a writ for damages has been issued by one of the commissioners against a leading member of the local Tory organization. This commissioner declares that other Ottawa Tories tried to influence him in his work on the Board. It appears that the Patronage Committee thought that it should have a say in the giving out of licenses, etc., hence the trouble. Things are at sixes and sevens in Toronto on the licenses, and resignations and rumors of resignations or dismissals are rife in that city. Here the dissension has been kept comparatively quiet. Mr. New making no fuss when he was dropped off the License Board.

Bob, Independent; Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann have a Dominion subsidy of $864,000 on the James Bay Railway from Toronto to Sudbury, and the Province has guaranteed the bonds to $20,000 per mile. They have a Moose mountain of iron ore that they got from the discoverer for a trifle, and they propose smelting this ore at Toronto into pig iron, for which the Dominion will give them a bounty of $165 a ton, and a similar amount if they make that pig iron into steel. The iron business depends of course, on Toronto making these gentlemen a gift of a few hundred acres of land for the smelting works. Naturally, they could never think of buying anything if there are fools around to give them what they want. When Toronto has presented these gentlemen with the lands, and freedom from taxation, Toronto will probably banquet the gentlemen and crown them with laurels. All that is necessary to become a millionaire is the gall to talk millions, and ask millions. As you think, so you are.

The British Attorney-General has stated in the Imperial House of Commons that although missing work competitions are illegal, a merick may not come under the ban of the law. Mr. Byles, who brought the matter up, deplored these merick competitions as encouraging the spirit of gambling amongst the great masses of the people, and the Newcastle Daily Chronicle says that, "As a matter of fact they afford an outlet for the spirit of gambling, which Mr. Byles and those who think with him believe can be suppressed by Act of Parliament; and if it is questionable whether they are or are not more objectionable than street betting, it is unquestionable that they are the outcome of the same deep-rooted passion, inherent in the breast of almost every man, for getting something for nothing." People who denounce crap shooting and a friendly game of cards with a five-cent bet, will puzzle their brains over doggerel verse in the shape of a merick, in the hope of winning a cheap prize and getting their names in the papers, losing sight of the gambling end of it, and the effect it has upon the gambling spirit. And it's the other fellow's game in every case.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT IN EMILY TOWNSHIP Young Man Impaled on Handle of Pitchfork Saturday.

A Horrible Wound Inflicted in Bowels—Victim Now in Ross Hospital—Slight Hopes of Recovery Entertained by Attending Physicians—How the Accident Happened.

Evening Post, Oct. 21.

Albert Murtha, son of Mr. Thomas Murtha, of King's-Wharf, aged 19 years, was fearfully injured on Saturday evening at his father's home, and is now lying in the Ross Hospital in a precarious condition.

A thrashing was going on at his father's place, and when the whistle blew to cease work at 8 p.m., he jumped off a straw stack, alighting on a fork which was standing upright in the ground. The fork handle tore a gaping wound in his bowels, entering just above the groin.

The wound is of a most serious nature, and the condition of the victim of the accident is extremely dangerous.

Later.—Previous to going to press to-day, (Thursday), 10.30 a.m., we learned from the Hospital authorities that the condition of the injured man shows some improvement, and he has a fighting chance for recovery.—Editor Post.

MERRY WEDDING BELLS.

Naylor-Eyres.

A pretty wedding of much local interest, was solemnized Monday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock in Cameron village, when Miss Ruby Luella Eyres, eldest daughter of Mr. Henry Eyres, was united in marriage to Mr. Richard Naylor, also of Cameron.

The ceremony was performed in the tastefully decorated drawing room by Rev. Mr. Tonkins, in the presence of 180 invited guests, all relatives of the bride and groom.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was beautifully attired in a gown of white silk. She wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carried white carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Zilla Eyres, sister of the bride, looked charming in white crepe de chene. She also carried white carnations. The pretty little flower girl, Miss Pearl Cummings, was dressed in white silk and carried a basket of flowers. Master Clifford Perrin carried the wedding ring in a basket of flowers. The groom was ably supported by his cousin, Mr. Stanley Naylor, of the Standard Bank, Lindsay.

After the nuptial knot had been tied, and hearty congratulations had been bestowed upon the bride and groom, the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding repast.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and very costly presents. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome piano, and to the bridesmaid a gold ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Naylor will reside at Cameron.

LINDSAY 30 YEARS AGO

"Old Faces Have Disappeared," Says a Former Citizen.

The following letter from Mr. Wm. Mangach, Crown timber agent at Kenora, New Ontario, will be read with interest by old friends in this town, where he resided some thirty years ago. The references to railway building, and the late Judge Dean will not be skipped by many. (The letter says:—

Wilson & Wilson, The Post, Lindsay, Ont.

Dear Sirs,—I beg to acknowledge yours of 15th inst., and I can assure you it was with some regret that I dropped my subscription to The Post. I have many happy recollections of the information I received from it in my early days. It was with a certain amount of sadness that I looked over the pages and could find no record of those whom I once knew. You can well understand that thirty years' absence from a place makes quite a difference. (The last time I was in your town was on a Sunday, and I walked up one side of the business street and down the other, looking at the various signs; an observer would have said, "That fellow is from the country." I could only find 5 of those who were in business in my early days in 61.

I have many recollections of the agitation in connection with the bonus to the Nipissing and Victoria railways, George Laidlaw, the promoter, and Judge Dean, with some others, took a very lively interest in educating the farmers as to the benefit the road would be to them. The Nipissing was a narrow gauge and was to run around

NEW AIDS TO TEMPERANCE.

In 1888 the prohibitionist candidate for President of the United States polled 249,907 votes; in 1892 the vote was 264,133; in 1904 it was 258,847. The decline may be due to a growing feeling that no practical gain can result from a mere registration of the views of those who would like to have a prohibitionist in the White House, suggests The Toronto Star in a recent issue. It is not due to any weakening in temperance sentiment. The Springfield Republican points out that by the working of local option laws half the area of the United States is now under prohibition. Ohio has 1,140 dry towns out of a total of 1,376. Massachusetts has 850 dry out of 350. Vermont is wholly dry, except 24 towns and cities. Kentucky the home of whiskey distilling, has 97 dry counties out of 119. Connecticut has 95 dry to 72 wet, or did have prior to the latest town elections. There are 200 dry towns in Illinois, and in Iowa 65 out of 99 counties are without saloons. Maryland has 14 counties dry out of 23. There are 300 dry towns in New York State. Indiana, out of 1,016 townships, has 710 on the dry list. Passing to the Pacific coast one finds four dry counties in California, and "much dry territory in other countries," while Oregon reports 12 dry counties, and 170 dry towns and cities in other countries. In the Southern States prohibition has made such gains as to attract general attention.

The Republican notes that there has been an apparent decline in certain kinds of moral enthusiasm for prohibition; in the temperance oratory like that of John B. Gough or Francis Murphy; in the signing of pledges, especially by children. Yet its conclusion is that the change is only in methods, and that the cause of temperance has been making steady

THINKS NEW ZEALAND BUTTER MAY BE IMPORTED

Turkey Prices Will Rule Very High About Thanksgiving Time—Two Facts of Much Interest to Lindsay Housewives.

"There is no doubt about it—Thanksgiving turkeys will come high this year," said Manager Silverwood, of Flavell's, to The London Advertiser the other day. "The supply will be short, and the quality on the whole will be poor."

"The reason is that Thanksgiving comes too early this year, and not ten per cent. of the turkeys are in fit condition to kill."

"There has not been enough cold weather yet to bring about the development necessary before a turkey is in good condition for the market."

"Even last year, when Thanksgiving Day was two weeks later, the turkeys were of poor quality."

"As buyers, we fear that the farmers will, owing to the high prices of grain and produce, want to get rid of their birds, and by offering a poor quality, kill the market. Turkeys are never in good condition so early in the season, and will not be before Nov. 1."

A Turkey Center.

"London people have no idea how important a center London is for distributing poultry, eggs and produce. In the last few years the business has grown very rapidly, and is at present increasing most rapidly than ever before. This year over 1,000,000 pounds of poultry have been handled in our warehouse. It is a peculiar fact, but the export trade to England is decreasing. Canada is getting so big now that she can consume all that her farmers produce. This fact is perhaps nowhere more noticeable than in the egg business. When we first started in this city we used to send practically all the eggs we handled to England."

"Last year was a record year for us, as the firm handled approximately 11,250,000 dozens of eggs. Formerly the whole lot practically would have gone to England, but this year we are not sending more than 1,000,000 dozens. In spite of the phenomenal prices, the west is buying eggs as rapidly as we can gather them. The western market is growing every year, too, and I doubt if we will send very many eggs to England next year."

Lunch Counters Did it.

"In the city the demand for eggs has increased wonderfully, and must be attributed in no small degree to the quick-lunch counters. These people often sell six hundred egg sandwiches a day, and in a year this means a lot of eggs."

"A peculiar situation has arisen in regard to the egg trade within the last few weeks. Many big firms early in the year contracted to supply eggs to dealers, and now are buying them back as fast as they can at an advance in price of from two to three cents per dozen. They are buying all they can get and holding them in cold storage, as during the coming winter eggs will be high."

Butter Prices.

"In regard to butter I do not think that local prices can possibly be less than 30 cents a pound, owing to the high prices of feed."

"On the other hand, I do not think they will go above that figure for the reason that if they do butter can be brought in from New Zealand and sold at a price that will meet Canadian butter."

"Several large Canadian firms have anticipated this, and at present have buyers in New Zealand, who are purchasing large supplies which will be shipped at once."

"It is expected that New Zealand butter will be on sale in Montreal in the course of a few weeks, and if the prices here rise too high, why the dealers there will ship butter here. Then it must come down again."

O.L.S., re Overdue Accounts.

Council met pursuant to adjournment, in Plank's hall, Lorneville, on October 5th, 1907, at 11 a.m. Members all present, with the Reeve in the chair. The minutes of the former meeting of Sept. 7th were read and adopted.

Councillor Robinson reported about the pond in Victoria Road, stating that the said pond was situated wholly in the township of Bexley, and that he could not find out who owned the land upon which the pond was. Some of the pond, he said, abuts on the road allowance of the township of Bexley. He recommended that the matter be laid over for further consideration.—No action was taken.

Coun. McFadyen stated that he had no time to interview Mr. Donald Jackson re the wire fence along the 6th con., but would do so and report at the next Council meeting.

Communications were read as follows from: James Cornish, notifying the Council that a culvert on the 6th con., opposite lot 2, on road division No. 2, was in a very bad condition.

Mrs. Flora McInnes, asking why the A. D. Campbell ditch had not been completed.

Sawyer & Massey, stating that they were going to send an expert out to fix the bins of the stone crusher as soon as they received notice from the Council to do so.

A. C. Cavana, O.L.S., reporting on the McCaehern, Matheson, Grant drain, located on the town line of Thorah and Eldon, and lot 1 on the 9th and 10th con. of Thorah, stating that the drain throughout was in fair order, and although not completed up to the requirements of his award, has been doing good work. When it was completed he thought the water would maintain the course clear. Wm. McCaehern and Kenneth Matheson are hereby relieved of construction work. The townships of Eldon and Thorah, and also John Grant, have not completed their award.

A statement from Reeve Hawkins re the construction of cement culvert tile. The total number of tile made to date was as follows: 36 pieces of 24 inch, 95 pieces of 18 inch, 86 pieces of 12 inch, 17 pieces of 8 inch, making a total of 234 pieces. The total cost of material and labor for making these tile was $207.60, making the average cost per tile about 88c.

The Treasurer of Mariposa, enclosing $17 in payment for their share of the work done on the boundary between Mariposa and Eldon in 1907.

Geo. Smith, O.L.S., as follows: "I have instructed Messrs. Stewart & O'Connor, barristers, of Lindsay, to serve a writ on you if all my accounts are not settled in full at the next meeting of the Council following this notice. Mr. McDiarmid and I discussed the matter some time ago but I could not fall into his view of the case. You may find before a year that I am not your worst official."

Rev. Young, of Lorneville, and Rev. Turner, of Kirkfield, waited on the Council with a petition from the ratepayers of Eldon, asking to have a Local Option by-law submitted at the next municipal election.

A complaint was laid before the Council of a ditch being dug by Wm. Hopkins along the 3rd quarter line, opposite lot 15.

Ross, Robinson,—that Coun. McFadyen inspect culvert complained of by Mr. Cornish, and have the same repaired if necessary.—Carried.

Ross, McFadyen,—that the matter of Mrs. Flora McInnes' complaint re the A. D. Campbell drain be laid over until the Reeve interview the parties interested in the said drain, and report at the next meeting of Council.—Carried.

Ross, McFadyen,—that we instruct our Clerk to write Sawyer & Massey to the effect that we are ready to give settlement for the stone crusher as soon as the extra jaws and larger wheels, promised by their representative, Mr. Hampson, be supplied, and that we have decided to leave the axle of the bins as it is; but the dingle in the screen must be fixed.

Ross, Robinson,—that we instruct our Clerk to write Mr. Cavana to have the McCaehern, Matheson, Grant drain completed according to specifications, by letting contract for same after getting Thorah's consent, and also to notify Grant that his work is not complete.—Carried.

McFadyen, Robinson,—that this Council grant the Local Option petitions a by-law to be submitted to the electors to take a vote on at the next municipal election in 1908, and that we instruct our solicitors to prepare a by-law and also to send full information to the Clerk as to mode of procedure in submitting same.—Carried.

Ross, McFadyen,—whereas, a complaint has been made to this Council that Mr. Hopkins has dug a ditch along the 3rd quarter line, therefore we instruct our Clerk to write Mr. Hopkins re the digging of said ditch, and to notify him to fill the ditch back into the drain, so that it will not be liable to cause said damage.—Carried.

A REVIEW OF THE GRAIN CROP

Shortage of 80 Million Bushels Expected—Oats Also Short.

The Toronto World says: Statisticians who have figured out the world's wheat crop this year, place it at 3,000,000,000 bushels, but this is admitting that the Argentine crop is up to the average. Using these figures as a basis, it is thought that there will be a shortage of upwards of 80,000,000 bushels in the world's needs this year.

In the United States the government statistics give the wheat crop at 625,000,000 bushels. It is estimated that the States will use in domestic consumption and seed requirements for next year about 600,000,000 bushels. (This will leave 125,000,000 bushels for export. Of this amount, about 50,000,000 bushels have already been sent out of the country. The exports of wheat and flour a week are now averaging over 4,000,000 bushels, so that about eighteen weeks is expected to use up the surplus and leave the country with just bare supplies for home use.

Oats are admitted to be a short crop throughout North America. This grain failed very light, and in addition, was attacked by a blight which cut the crop in half. Oats are selling locally at 63c a bushel. At Winnipeg the quotations are nearly as high, and the Chicago futures are close to 60c.

The demand for Canadian Northwest wheat is quite keen on the part of European importers. At Winnipeg $1.14 a bushel. Northwest milling houses are strong competitors for the supply, owing to the comparatively small amount of real good milling wheat, and this competition is giving the Canadian western farmer a record price for this year's crop.

Denise's look even more than her words was now her reward. He had only to promise and she would be in his arms for ever. And so for a few blissful moments of oblivion to the perils that beset them both he stood with her dear hands in his, her face close to his, supremely happy, as she was.

Suddenly they both stopped back. Some one had stealthily entered—only a fackey peeping cautiously, but a fackey, they both recognized at once, of Madame de Pompadour.

"Whom do you seek?" Denise demanded haughtily.

The man had obviously expected to find Andre alone. He now tried to slide away.

"I said the Marquise de Beau Sejour, 'you have a message for Monsieur le Vicomte de Nerac, give it to him.'"

The man, thus sternly commanded, reluctantly handed Andre a small note and fled.

"Read it, I beg," Denise urged, her tone unconsciously cold and severe.

It was sealed with the crest of the Marquise de Pompadour, and Andre read these words:

"I must see you at once—A. De P."

The crumpled note fell from his fingers. Ah! Sooner or later he had known even in his great bliss that he must answer Denise's appeal, but this message made a decision imperative.

"Will you save me as I asked you?" Denise said, and once again she came close to him.

"And if I cannot promise to take your place?" he questioned to gain time.

"Then I must go on alone—alone," she answered, "and God knows what I may do."

Ambition, loyalty, love, his pledged oath to Madame de Pompadour, fear, remorse, and pain struggled within him.

"I will promise anything, anything but that," he cried in despair.

"It is the only thing that can help," she said very quietly; "but it is well I should know the truth. I thank you for that." Tears were in her voice. "Do not think the worse of me if—"

She stopped. Words failed her. Fate and the mistakes of the past of each were too strong for him and for her.

And then, Andre, unable to endure the misery longer, without a syllable of explanation or justification, left her.

Denise's eye fell on the note from the woman who she felt had ruined her life and his. For one minute she held it in her fingers. Her friends would give much for this damning evidence of his guilt. If she desired revenge, here was the chance; and she was, alas! racked by the jealousy and curiosity of a woman who loved and had been rejected; but it was only for a moment that she wavered, then with a proud sadness tore the note into fragments and threw them on the fire. Not till the last had been burnt did she take refuge in the hopeless loneliness of her own room.

"Mon Dieu!" exclaimed Madame de Pompadour, as Andre stepped from behind the curtains of the secret door.

"Mon Dieu! my friend, I am not the devil, that you should look at me like that."

"Madame," Andre replied, "I am here to receive your commands."

A jest, a taunt, a direct question, hovered on the lady's lips. But after another searching look, instead she held out a hand of swift and strong sympathy.

"Courage, Vicomte," she said softly, "do not despair. I am not beaten yet, nor are you. No woman can forget a man's loyalty, certainly not I."

Madame de Pompadour was a selfish and ambitious woman, yet to a few such nature has granted the mysterious power of expressing in word and look what they do not really feel. Then, as always in her unique career, it proved the most potent of her many gifts.

"I thank you, Marquise," Andre replied, deeply touched.

"You have heard the news," she said, wisely returning to business. "Yes? Could anything be worse? But thank Heaven the messenger was carrying only public despatches. Had it been one of the King's secrets, you and I would not be talking here."

The clock in Andre's room struck eleven. Andre pulled the curtains back and surveyed the night. Serene, lawlessly serene, as an October night at Versailles could be. Satisfied that his pistols were properly primed, that the precious despatch was still in his pocket, he blew out the lights and then by a rope ladder swung himself out of the window. His experience at "The Gallows and the Three Crows" had warned him that for his foes to discover the King's commission was for Madame de Pompadour and himself ruin, death, and dishonor. And as he was determined the Court should not so much as know he had left the palace, so at midnight he had given out that he was ill, had even sent for a physician, and then had quietly slipped out the back door.

When he recovered consciousness he was lying on the ground and all was still. In an agony of bewildered fear he tore his coat open and felt for the despatch. Impossible! Yes, it was still there. A red mist danced in his eyes, his left arm throbbled with pain, but he lay half sobbing with a delicious joy. The despatch was still there! Death and dishonor had not the mastery of him yet.

"You are hurt, Monseigneur?" Yvonne, in her tattered gown and dishevelled hair, with a lantern in her hand, was kneeling beside him. Andre staggered to his feet; he scarcely knew whether he was hurt or not. He gazed round, trying to recollect, and his ringing light showed him four men's bodies lying this way and that near him. Dead, all of them. And his horse—no, that was alive; she whinnied as he tottered up to her.

"Take it to the stable," he muttered, "take the mare, Yvonne. It is not the first time she has saved my life."

Yvonne, in silence, led the bleeding beast away. The girl who loved a cow also understood why a soldier could love his horse.

Andre now seized the lantern and examined the dead men. Hat two of them he did not know, but two were the spies of "The Gallows and the Three Crows," the servants of the Duke de Pontchartrain and the Comte de Mont Rouge, dead on a fallen tree trunk faint and sick. But the shock braced his dazed mind and he tugged out his watch. Ten minutes to twelve. Ten minutes. He could still be in time. His arm indeed was dripping with blood, but it was a mere flesh wound, which he promptly bound up with his handkerchief, and by this time Yvonne had returned.

"Tell me what happened," he commanded.

"I was sitting in the kitchen," she said quietly, "when I heard a cry—a terrible cry. I seized a budgeon and a lantern and rushed out. Mon Dieu! Monseigneur, it was horrible; you were fighting and falling. I struck as hard as I could, and then all was still. Monseigneur, I can see now, killed three of them, but the fourth I think I killed."

Her budgeon was lying beside one of the dead men, whose head it had battered in. Yvonne began to cry at the sight.

"Will they hang me, Monseigneur?" she asked.

"Hang you! Good heavens! You have saved my life, my honor. They will not hang you unless they hang me, and they will not do that. Come, Yvonne, we must show these cannals where the superintendent of the police can see them to-morrow."

They carried the four bodies to one of the out-houses, and not till then did the agent of the Jacobites wait for the agent of the Jacobites; but no agent arrived, and after drinking some wine which Yvonne found for him, telling her to summon him if required, Andre dismissed her, drew a chair up to the fire, and began to ponder on the night's work; but his mind refused to think. A curious numbness as if produced by a drug steadily overpowered him, and after wrestling with himself in vain he fell into a deep sleep.

He had been lying in the chair perhaps a quarter of an hour when a finger to his lips, holding her petticoats off the floor, stole in, and behind her a stranger, shading the light he carried with his hand, stepped stealthily on tip-toe.

In silence they both inspected the sleeping Andre. Then Yvonne very cautiously inserted her hand inside the sleeper's coat and probed as it were, feeling the pulse of the despatch closely, when they observed the handwriting on the cover. Then with the same practiced surreptitious touch, they rebuttoined the coat, and withdrew as noiselessly as they had entered; but as they reached the threshold a little tongue of flame from one of the logs on the fire suddenly revealed the face of Yvonne's companion to be that of the Chevalier de St. Amant.

Outside the door, the girl hung her lantern quietly on the wall in the passage.

"Why hasn't Francois come?" she asked, in an anxious whisper.

"Francois will never come," the Chevalier replied, very curtly.

"Do you"—she pushed back her matted hair with a gesture of horror—"do you?"

"Yes, I do. The English have been on Francois's track for some time. He was last seen, I learn, loitering about the Carrefour de St. Antoine. Poor fool, why did he go there, of all places? He has disappeared."

"George Onslow?" she interrupted with a flash of anger.

"I fear so. Onslow is mad with despair and wrath. He had discovered Francois's trade and his Jacobite employers; and the English Government pays handsomely for Jacobite secrets. Onslow, too, was convinced he would get no more papers as he had got them before, and so—"

"Yes, yes." Then she added, "And he desired revenge on a woman."

The Chevalier nodded quietly. "If he had secured from Francois that paper which De Nerac is carrying, revenge was in his hands. But the madman has struck too soon; it is just as well for all of us." He looked up and down the dimly lit passage. "Some day," he said, in a matter-of-fact tone that was cruelly tragic, "Francois's fate will be mine."

The girl flung out a hand of passionate protest. Her voice choked.

"I feel it for certain," the Chevalier continued, "it is fate, the fate of us—"

He checked himself sharply. "Oh, I shall not resent my turn when it comes; I have no desire to live now."

"No," she, too, stretched arms of impotent appeal against the grip of a pitiless destiny. "No, there is nothing to live for now."

The Chevalier looked into her eyes with the earnest scrutiny of deep affection. "So your question, too, has been answered?" he whispered.

"Only as I expected. Could it be otherwise?"

"All for De Nerac," he commented aloud to himself, "all for De Nerac—love, success, glory, honor, and, as if that were not enough, he and that wanton will frustrate the revenge and punishment—"

"Yes, he will do that. It is the destiny of France."

The thought imposed silence on both. Andre's measured breathing could be heard dying away in peaceful innocence in the dim passage.

"But this attack?" Yvonne demanded suddenly.

"The ministers and the Court, of course," was the quick reply. "Some times warned them of this—he nodded towards the parlor—his own misdeeds. The one can only be Onslow, the miserable traitor, and it explains Francois's disappearance, too. The despatch can wait. But Onslow's game must be watched or—"

"And checked," she interrupted decisively. "Ah! I see it now—I see it all now."

They fell to talking earnestly.

Three hours later Andre had returned to his room in the palace as he had left it—by his rope ladder. He had an interesting story to add to the morning chocolate of Madame de Pompadour, and he was able to give back intact a despatch which he had been unable to deliver.

The next event was at ten o'clock, when the Duke of Pontchartrain was chatting with the morning crowd in the Oeil de Boeuf. Sharp exclamations, followed by a dead silence, greeted the entry of the Captain of the Queen's Guards, whose left arm, all could see, was bandaged and carried in a sling.

"Monsieur le Duc," Andre said in a voice that rang through the room, "His Majesty commands your presence at eleven o'clock in the Council Chamber." He paused to allow the royal message to be appreciated by the attendant company; then he added: "And, Monsieur le Duc, I beg to say for myself that if your Grace wishes to know where your servant and that of the Comte de Mont Rouge are, who attempted to murder me last night when carrying out the commission of the King of France, your Grace will find them both dead, along with two others, in the inn called 'The Cock with the Spurs of Gold.'"

A haughty bow, and he had left the astonished Duke and the appalled audience to their bewildered reflections.

HUNTER FROM THE NORTH PREDICTS A MILD WINTER

Tells of the Strange Actions of the Wolves and Other Animals—Little Snow, He Says—The Killing of a Deer by a Wolf.

If the predictions of Mr. John Alexander, an old hunter from the north, who ventilated his opinions at the market square lately, come true, we will this year experience a very mild winter. The hunter, who has roamed the wild woods of the north of Peterborough county for many years, has implicit faith in the instinct of the wild animals to foretell the kind of season that lies in the future. He has studied their habits and customs and claims that he knows the why and the wherefore of every move the denizens of the rail timbers make.

According to Mr. Alexander, our winter will be one of the mildest in years, and in view of the advances in the price of coal this will be welcome news to the workmen of Peterborough, who have a house and family to keep warm.

Now, he says, will be scanty, and he is doubtful if there will be enough downfall of the beautiful to produce good sleighing.

The hunter has reason for his statements. He stated that the wolf has not for years come as far south as this year. They have been seen in numbers in Cavendish township, and he claims that the reasons for this particular action are that they predict little snow and have come south in search of rabbits for their food.

He told of the capture by a wolf only a few weeks ago of a big buck in a marsh near Katchewan Lake. The deer had been chased possibly for miles by the ravenous beast, and in an attempt at crossing the marsh, became stuck in the mud. The wolf followed close and ate as much of the back out of the animal as appeared above the mud, leaving vitally still in the half-devoured animal.

Another indication, according to the hunter, of the mildness of the coming winter is the appearance above ground all over the northern portion of the county of so many woodchucks. At this season of the year it is a sure sign of an approaching mild season.

Mr. Alexander told some other wild animal stories, indicative of a mild winter, and if his predictions come true the season will be unusually fine.—Peterboro Examiner.

JOHN M. WALKER IS DEAD

ONE OF THE FIRST SETTLERS IN SHELL CREEK VALLEY.

Identified With the Progress of Platte County for 37 Years—Was a Remarkable Man in Many Ways.

The following, taken from the Humphrey, Neb., Democrat of Oct. 15th, refers to some length to the death of a former citizen of Ops—John M. Walker, brother of Mr. David Walker, well known in both town and country owing to the prominent part he took in Ops affairs before ill-health compelled his retirement. Some of the older residents of the township will doubtless remember the deceased. The Democrat says:

The friends of Uncle John Walker were greatly shocked Tuesday morning to hear of his death, which occurred quite suddenly about 9:45 o'clock that morning. Mr. Walker had been ailing for a couple of weeks with a combination of kidney and heart trouble, and while at times would have spells of difficult breathing, he was generally in good spirits and always spoke cheerfully of the future and what he would do when he was able to be around again. On the morning of his death he was able to walk around the room and a few moments before his death laid down on his bed and said he would try and sleep for awhile. He asked for a drink of lemonade and Mrs. Walker left the room to prepare it. When she returned he lay in the same position as when she left, but the death angel had set his seal upon his brow, and the sturdy, rugged old pioneer, who had braved many a storm and faced many a foe in the battle of life, had given up the fight and passed into the sleep eternal. Death had come to him as he had always hoped for its coming—quietly and without pain.

Mr. Walker leaves as his immediate relatives, a widow and six children, namely, Frank T. Walker of Columbus, James J. Walker of Omaha, Mrs. F. T. Klebba of Omaha, Mrs. J. P. Duffy of St. Joseph, Mo., Mrs. J. W. Tagwerker of Seward and Mrs. E. J. Trant of this place. Besides three brothers, several grand children and one great grand child. All of his children were present at the funeral, except Mrs. Duffy, who was unable to get here on account of being ill.

The funeral services were held Thursday morning at nine o'clock, and the remains were laid to rest in St. Francis cemetery to await the final call of the resurrection.

John McDonough Walker was born March 6, 1826, in the county Fermanagh, Ireland, and when he was four years of age his parents emigrated to the province of Ontario, Canada, and settled on a claim in the unbroken forest near where the flourishing city of Lindsay is located. In his youth he endured all the privations incident to pioneer life, and as he grew older, assailed his father and brothers in the laborious work of turning a mighty forest into well tilled fields and orchards. To those early years of self denial and severe outdoor labor Mr. Walker often attributed his strong constitution of later years, and he was never so happy as when talking over his early days with some old time friend. At twenty years of age, Mr. Walker, who eagerly read all the books he could obtain, became anxious to see more of the world, and the war, just then started between the United States and Mexico, gave him the desired opportunity, so he left home without the consent of his parents and enlisted at Rochester, N. Y., and fought in every important battle during the war. At the close of the war, Mr. Walker remained in the south for eight years before returning to Canada, where in 1854 he was united in marriage to Miss Catherine McDonough. In 1855 Mr. Walker and family moved to McGregor, Iowa, where they lived for five years, coming overland to Nebraska in 1870, settling on a homestead in this country one and a half miles south of where Lindsay now stands. Mr. Walker was the first settler in that neighborhood, and some of his experiences in those early days were told by himself in an article published in The Democrat some time ago. He was the first postmaster in the Lindsay neighborhood, and named the postoffice after his home in Canada, the town of Lindsay, afterwards receiving the same name. The township was called after Mr. Walker, but was divided in after years. He always took a keen interest in politics and served as one of the county commissioners in the early days. From the time he first settled on Shell Creek, his home was the resting place of emigrants and other wanderers, and his hospitality was never sought in vain by the weary traveler. In 1885 he rented his homestead and moved with his family to Humphrey, where they have since resided.

Three years ago Mr. and Mrs. Walker celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary and before and since then they have enjoyed the best of health, and have taken numerous trips to visit their children. The past summer they spent in Ontario, returning from there a month ago. Mr. Walker possessed a wonderful memory, and up to the last retained his full faculties. He always enjoyed relating anecdotes of his travels, and, in the home circle, at least, grandpa's good natured presence, will be sadly missed. May the God in whom he trusted, deal kindly with him, and give him, after his long life journey, eternal rest.

SHORTAGE $100,000,000.

This is Duncan Anderson's Estimate of the Canadian Crop.

Canada's crop shortage will this year reach one hundred million dollars in value.

Such is the serious intelligence that Mr. Duncan Anderson, of Ottawa, Canadian organizer of Farmers' Institutes, sends to Provincial Superintendent Putnam.

Mr. Anderson writes from the eastern seaboard that New Brunswick wheat, oats, hay and potatoes are rotting unharvested by reason of incessant rains. Neither mow nor binder can be used, owing to the wet grounds.

"This is a lean year for the farmer," concludes Mr. Anderson.

For Ontario alone The Weekly Sun estimates the shortage at $15,000,000.—The News.

MUST BUILD MILLS IN ONTARIO,

And Manufacture the Pulp Into Paper Here—Terms of Concessions.

The Ontario Government is asking for tenders on two pulp wood concessions, Nipigon and Rainy Lake, to be leased for 21 years.

One provision is that the raw material must be manufactured into paper in Province, either on the concessions or at some point approved of by the Government.

The successful tenderers will be those paying the largest bonus, besides dues of 40c. a cord for spruce and 20c. a cord for this other pulp woods, jackpine and poplar.

The tenderer getting the Nipigon concession must build within three years, mills costing not less than $500,000, capable of making at least 150 tons of paper a day, and employing 250 hands for ten months in the year. The Rainy Lake concession will be required to erect mills costing $150,000, make 20 tons of paper a day, and employ 50 hands. The Rainy Lake concession which is in Rainy River, is the smaller of the two.

LINDSAY INDUSTRY VISITED BY FIRE

Rider and Kitchener Co. Saw Mill Destroyed by Fire at an Early Hour Last Saturday—Water Pressure Said to Have Been Deficient—Firemen Tired But Worked Hard—Heavy Loss.

Evening Post of Oct. 19. The splendidly equipped sawmill, property of The Rider & Kitchener Co., located beside the river at the foot of Melbourne-st., was utterly destroyed by fire early this morning. The cause of the conflagration is unknown, and the loss will be in the neighborhood of $5,000, only a small fraction of which is covered by insurance.

Their efforts at the Hunter fire had exhausted both firemen and horses, and they had returned to the mill at about 3 o'clock. At 3:15 the telephone bell at the mill rang, and a message was received stating that there was another blaze in the east ward. Immediately after an alarm was sent in by Herbert Wendt from Box No. 5, and the run was made to where the sawmill was partly consumed and burning fast. Some 1500 feet of hose was carried on the way, but the team had to go back for more. The pressure was insufficient and enough water could not be had during the whole progress of the fire, if we may believe statements made. But one stream was available, and the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to check them. The mill was a heap of smouldering ashes and ruined machinery this morning.

The early hour did not deter hundreds from flocking to the scene of the fire. The mill is isolated, and there was little danger of a blaze catching on to a neighboring building. Beal's tannery, across the river, was in danger from sparks for a time.

THE LOSS IS SERIOUS.

To a Post reporter Mr. A. D. Kitchener, of the firm of Rider, Kitchener & Co., said the loss was a great blow to him. He was not aware of the fire, having been out of town till after eight o'clock this morning.

Further particulars regarding the lack of pressure, secured this afternoon, show that the hydrant was broken, thus impairing the stream. Mr. Henley, who has charge of the standpipes, says he turned the force into the town mains immediately when he was informed of the fire at the mill, and the telephone bell did not ring more than once.

AN EXPLANATION

Regarding the cause of the poor pressure, the engineer at the pump house stated to The Post that the mill power was on, but that it was some time before the standpipe could be shut off. They have to telephone to Mr. Henley to shut it off. The great length of the line of hose, some 1800 feet, at the sawmill fire, caused considerable friction, he explained, thus decreasing the force of the stream.

Further particulars regarding the lack of pressure, secured this afternoon, show that the hydrant was broken, thus impairing the stream.

INTERESTING FARM NOTES

THE QUESTION OF WEEDS.

The weed evil is a question of no small proportions on the Canadian farm. It is becoming a common saying that sooner or later the government will have to assume a more active interference in the cultivation of our lands.

Travel anywhere through the country and towns of Ontario, and the tourist will be struck with the numbers of noxious weeds that have gone to seed on the very roadside, and at the doors of the farmers and townsmen. Burdock, chicory, mustard, dog weed, couch grass, wild oats and other pests run rampant in many places. The complacency with which many people view these intruders, shows that there is a lack of appreciation of the dangers that are latent in them. Already many farms in this province are well nigh unproductive because of these. Others produce such a poor sample of grain that they are a non-paying proposition, and their goods a menace in the markets of commerce. The Seed Control Act has revealed a pile of load weeds in the samples of clover submitted from the farms of Ontario. Almost any sample obtainable has a few weed seeds, while others are so full of load seeds that dealers cannot handle them at all.

Some people go so far as to suggest that the government minister of agriculture should enact legislation providing for inspectors to enter upon and destroy weeds found upon the farms where the owners have not taken the pains to kill, and the plucking the cost of so doing as a first change upon the land. Certainly it does not seem far distant when some drastic measures will be needed to cope with the evils.

Ontario is not the worst offender. The North Western wheat lands are big disseminators of noxious pests. They spread to Ontario in millfeeds and through transportation agencies. It is reported this year that many farms in Manitoba are producing low yields of wheat and first-class yields of weeds.

Better agriculture is the watchword in the battle with weeds. Where weeds grow luxuriant, useful grains can grow, and with this better husbandry of the soil, will come the double reward of better crops and fewer pests in the vegetable line.

Every Ontario farmer should see to it this fall that ever load weed found upon his farm or on his adjacent roadside be gathered and burned before the crop of seeds find lodgment in a fertile crop.

In the publication of the book, on weeds, the Dominion minister of agriculture deserve credit to recognize the chance for the people to recognize the true insidious character of the common parasites of our fields and gardens.—Toronto World.

SOME FARM NOTES.

From all indications cattle and hogs will be a good price next spring. Those farmers who are sacrificing their animals now may be sorry for their actions then.

The cheesemakers of the State of Wisconsin have formed a union and their demands for next year are given by the Milwaukee Free Press as follows: Five hundred dollars cash per year with free house rent, fuel, milk and cheese.

An exhibit of ostriches from W. W. Ford's farm at Tampa, Fla., recently attracted much attention at the West Virginia Fair at Wheeling, says an exchange. The largest ostrich—"Carry Nation"—weighs 400 and "Fleet Foot", a racing ostrich, has a record of 2:12. Mr. Ford's "hardy" of ostriches numbers 78.

The National Corn Exposition is being held in Chicago. This, together with the National Dairy Show, which meets there from the 10th to 19th, will make an interesting fortnight in the windy city. Dairying has become so great a factor in Canadian farm methods that it looks very favorable for the welcome that will greet the National Dairy Show, which will meet in Toronto, we trust, at no very distant date.

Three carloads of pure-bred cattle are to be shipped into Old Mexico next month under the auspices of the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association for show and sale, says The Breeders' Gazette. Two carloads will be shown and sold at Chihuahua, and one carload at the City of Mexico. In the latter consignment will be four head presented by the American association to the government agricultural experimental farm, near Mexico City. This is in addition to the show and sale to be made by the Texas Shorthorn Breeders' Association at Torreon in aid of which the American association has appropriated $1,000. This looks like good missionary work.

"As a dual-purpose animal there is no breed that equals the Shorthorn," says a writer in The Breeders' Gazette. "I believe there are just as good dairy Shorthorns in the United States to-day as in England. Let the breeders of them come out and tell us what they are doing. The milk record of Bright Eyes of Springfield, from Feb. 25, 1907, to July 23, is 5966 4/5 pounds, with an average outlet fat test of 4 per cent.

Three carloads of pure-bred cattle are to be shipped into Old Mexico next month under the auspices of the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association for show and sale, says The Breeders' Gazette. Two carloads will be shown and sold at Chihuahua, and one carload at the City of Mexico. In the latter consignment will be four head presented by the American association to the government agricultural experimental farm, near Mexico City. This is in addition to the show and sale to be made by the Texas Shorthorn Breeders' Association at Torreon in aid of which the American association has appropriated $1,000. This looks like good missionary work.

D.D.S., L.D.S.Some Remarks on Things in General

By "THE STROLLER."

Our friend Kier Hardie, the able exponent of labor and socialism, is travelling around the world, and is at present touring India. It seems that the natives are treating him like a little god, and hanging wreaths around his neck, and otherwise flattering over him. Some of his utterances, however, are not very god-like, for the gods were supposed to speak the words of wisdom when they deigned to speak, but our friend Kier has uttered some rapid nonsense. One of his remarks was that he could not see why the natives of India could not have self-government the same as Canada. This, of course, tickles the Indian to death, hence the flowery and flattery. A remark like this, coming from an embryo statesman, goes far to show that he has not studied his subject very deeply. The only other party who would make such a statement, would be a Home Rule Irishman, or a rabid Yankee, and it would be made simply to pink-ribbon the British Government.

At the beginning of the 18th century the whole of India was divided between a dozen or more Maharams, Nizams, Akonds, Moguls, and other little princelings, whose main object in life seemed to be to swat their nearest neighbor as often as they could. Sometimes they succeeded, and at other times the other fellow succeeded. The net result was that the whole peninsula was in a chronic state of war all the time, and as life was considered of no value, the amount of blood-letting was something enormous. At this time the French and the Portuguese and the Dutch were taking a hand in the game, and history tells us that matters were not improved any by their presence. No nation outside of Britain has yet shown any capacity to rule inferior races.

In the middle of the century, Oliver fought the battle of Plassey, which was the beginning of the end in organizing the whole of India under British rule. How they have ruled since, is open to the world, and we have the testimony of American missionaries, that no nation could have done as well for the natives as Britain has, not even their own. These natives, it is true, are human, but they are a long way off, from being able to govern themselves, and for Mr. Hardie to make such a rash statement as he is reported to have made, is surprising. It will be remembered that at the time of the meeting, just 50 years ago, very little had been done towards educating this people in the higher things of life.

The predominating force at that time was the notorious East India Company, who ruled the country. It is needless to say that it was not the higher ethics of life in which they were interested, as far as the natives were concerned, but the number of lakhs of rupees they could transfer to London yearly. The meeting opened the eyes of the home people, and the result was that the government was taken over directly by Britain, and from that day to this, the march in all lines has been upward and onward. The horrible practices carried on by the natives in the name of religion, were abolished, educational institutions were established, the missionaries were given a free hand for their work, and have done prodigiously more than any other agency to civilize the natives and lead down the abominable caste that is such a hindrance to the welfare of the people. Another great civilizer has been the railroad, and with all these agencies at work, it would be surprising indeed, if out of the countless millions there, a few were not found who would seem to be capable of governing themselves. It is probably some of these, or rather mostly among these, that Mr. Hardie has been spending his time. Before he fully makes up his mind, we would suggest that he place himself in the charge of the missionaries, and allow them to tote him around amongst the dense masses, with whom they come daily in contact. He could take one or two in each part of the country, and if he is open for enlightenment, he can no doubt get it. There is no doubt that some day, India will be capable of governing itself, but we rather imagine they will require the heaven to work some years longer yet. We must remember that the people there are not one in either race, religion or anything else, and that there is little love lost between the different tribes.

Our friends, the manufacturers, have met again, and demanded more protection, one of them wanting it as high as Hauman's gullews', whatever height that might be. These manufacturers are great chaps - nothing seems to satisfy them. Since those Grits came into power and made things hum, whether by a new policy of their own, or a more knowledgeable working of the National Policy, it matters not, we don't know of a single class in the community that have done so well, financially, as the manufacturers, and yet they are grumbling. Whether it is within the bounds of possibility to satisfy them is a conundrum. We have the examples of both Germany and the U. S. before us, where the "infant" industries that produce multi-millionaires are constantly demanding more concessions, and it would seem that there is no satisfying this class of people, once they get their hands in the public till. To read the arguments put forth by the manufacturers, one would imagine that dull times never would visit us, were the tariff wall high enough. Their complaint seems to be that they are crowded too closely by outsiders, and they have to do too much humping to hold their trade. We don't know that it does anybody any harm, to have to watch everything about their business, so as to make every ounce count. If money is made too easily, things are apt to go awry, and as a sequence we have a race of Thaws and people of that calibre. As a country we are doing very well, and we should let well enough alone.

The great industry in this country is yet, in farming, and we imagine it will be for some considerable time to come. As a class, the farmers have done very well, and although none of them rise to be millionaires through farming, yet there are probably a greater proportion of them enjoying the good things of life, than there are of any other body of producers. We are apt to dub the farmers a close-fisted class of people, forgetting that they handle very little actual cash. The farmer on the other hand, imagines that a man who gets $1,000 a year must be rich, as he (the farmer) probably never sees more than $500, overlooking the fact that, besides that, he has his living off farm, whereas the $1,000 man has to pay for his living in cash, and if he has a family, there is not much left at the end of the year. If the farmer does well, the bulk of his production goes into circulation, and the beauty of it is, it is new wealth, adding to what the country already has. If his production is curtailed, as an authority claims it is this year to the extent of 80 millions in Ontario alone, everyone is going to feel it, and no one more so than the manufacturer. If this estimated shortage is correct, there will be fewer luggies, pianos and good clothes sold, than there otherwise would be, and for the manufacturer to butt in, and want higher protection, when the principal man he wants to sell to, is poorer, seems to us a very short-sighted policy.

The manufacturer must stand his chances of poor times as well as everyone else. We do not doubt for one moment, that the whole country would vote protection as high as would keep everything out, if the manufacturers would agree to refrain cheaply as if there were free trade, but we know they will not do that. The invariable experience with tariffs is, that the protected ones put their prices just as high as it is possible to put them, and yet keep out the foreigners. They become millionaires, not by their own thrift and ability, but by a process of bleeding the consumer, that is producing the "swooned tenth" of the cities. With the immense immigration that is coming into our country, and that must necessarily take up any slack that may be caused by overproduction, it ought not to be unreasonable to expect our manufacturers to be able, with the protection they already have, to cope with any foreigner that tries to do business in this country.

NOTABLE MASONIC EVENT

Fiftieth Anniversary of Faithful Brethren Lodge, Lindsay.

DEDICATION OF THE NEW LODGE ROOMS

Big Gathering of Prominent Men of the Order - Lodge of Instruction Friday Afternoon - Grand Banquet At Night.

Evening Post of Oct. 18.

The 50th anniversary of the organization of Faithful Brethren Lodge, A. F. and A. M., is being celebrated to-day in magnificent style by the Masons of this district, in their handsome new lodge rooms in The Post's new block.

This morning the Grand Master of Ontario, A. T. Freed, assisted by the Grand Officers, dedicated the hall with proper dignity and an impressive ceremony, in which about two hundred Master Masons participated. This afternoon special work is being put on for the entertainment of the visiting brethren, and an extra session of the lodge will be held this evening.

To-night at 11 o'clock a banquet will be given the visiting brethren in the town hall, which has been fitted up and decorated for the occasion. Provision has been made for between two and three hundred Masons.

THE NEW ROOM

The new lodge room is one of the finest in the province, its length being 50 feet by 30 feet, with an 18 foot arched steel ceiling, which is most attractively decorated in blue. The walls, carpet, curtains, etc., all harmonize in the same color. The carpet is one of the handsomest in town, and was woven expressly for the purpose, having the emblems of the order fixed in the fabric. The carpet was imported from England by Messrs. Dundas & Flavell Ltd. The other furnishings are quite in keeping with the splendid room. Suitable ante-rooms, preparation room, and large banqueting room go to make perhaps the finest lodge rooms in the province. They are a credit and a source of pride to the brethren of Lindsay and district.

THE SPEECHES

After the refreshments were disposed of, Rev. Bro. Jas. Wallace was called to the chair, and in a neat and suitable speech, called for a toast to 'The King and Craft', which was heartily responded to by all in singing the national anthem.

His Honor Judge Harding, in a speech full of interesting reminiscences and good fellowship, introduced a toast to 'The Grand Lodge of Canada', which brought Most Worshipful Brother A. T. Freed, Grand Master, London, to his feet. In a short speech he spoke of the order, and particularly of the Centennial Fund, which aimed to raise a fund of $100,000 for benevolent purposes, and complimented Faithful Brethren Lodge on being one of the first in the province to pay their share towards the fund.

Most Worshipful Brother Hugh Murray, Grand Secretary, Hamilton, also made a good speech in response to the above toast, in the course of which he referred to the great advancement that had been made in the past few years, in benevolence, and also temperance, as it was now a rarity to meet a Mason who was addicted to the excessive use of liquor. He also spoke of the advancement of the order, which now has a membership of 40,000 in Ontario. Mr. Murray is a fluent speaker, and one of the most popular members of the craft. Right Worshipful Brothers Williamson, Hutchison and Fulton also responded to this toast.

W. W. BRO. HUGH MURRAY,
Grand Secretary, Hamilton.

Worshipful Bro. Dr. Wood proposed the toast, 'The Lodges of Ontario District', which was responded to by representatives from the several lodges in the district.

Worshipful Bro. A. L. Campbell, of Faithful Brethren Lodge, thanked the members of Grand Lodge and visiting brethren for their hearty support at the dedication and lodge of instruction.

'The Junior Wardens' toast, 'Happy to meet, sorry to part, happy to meet again,' brought the most successful of banquets to a close.

During the evening Mr. Peter Weiss gave a song which received a merited encore. Mr. R. Vincent also gave a very pleasing song, which was well received. Mr. John Gray rendered a very nice song, which was very much appreciated, and Mr. Ryan gave a most pleasing vocal selection.

The orchestra of the Sylvester Band added much to the pleasure of the evening by their splendid music, which from time to time evoked much applause.

BLAZE IN THE EAST WARD.

Dwelling Owned by Mr. Robt. Hunter Destroyed Last Friday.

Evening Post of Oct. 19
Last evening about eleven o'clock, just after the theatre-goers had gotten home from 'The Gingerbread Man,' an alarm was rung in from the east ward. The fire team were out in record time and started their long run of over a mile to the burning building, which belonged to Mr. Robt. Hunter. It seems that Mr. and Mrs. Hunter were moving out of this house to another, and had had all their effects, except the bed in which they were sleeping, a stove and a pump, carted to their new home.

About eleven o'clock, as a young man named Ellisworth was passing, he saw flames around the chimney, and rushed in to awaken the old couple before sending in an alarm. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter got out safely. Owing to the distance from the nearest hydrant to the house, there was not enough hose to reach the fire, and the crowd had to stand by and see the building burn. Mr. Hunter had $500 insurance on the house, but owing to an oversight he neglected to pay the last premium, so that the building is a total loss.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

The Establishment of God's Kingdom on Earth—Articles Bearing on Church Work at Home and Abroad—Carefully Selected Contributions will be Received for Publication in this Column.

Rev. Mr. Watson, M.H., will preach the anniversary sermon at Midbrook Presbyterian church on Oct. 27th.

Secretary Thos. Yellowlees, of the Ontario Sunday School Association, is conducting a church census by house to house visitation in Stratford.

Words are things of little cost. Quickly spoken, quickly lost. We forget them, but they stand witnesses at God's right hand. And their testimony, dear for us or against us there.

There was a certain man who coveted a plump turkey belonging to his neighbor. He prayed long and earnestly, but without avail, that his neighbor's turkey might be sent into his back yard. Then he changed his prayer, and prayed that he might be sent into the garden where his neighbor's turkey was.

His prayer was answered that very night.

A well-known Scottish architect was travelling in Palestine recently when news reached him of an addition to his family circle. The happy father immediately provided himself with some water from the Jordan to carry home for the christening of the infant, and returned to Scotland. On the Sunday appointed for the ceremony he duly presented himself at the church, and sought out the beadle in order to hand over the precious water to his care. He pulled the flask from his pocket, but the beadle held up a warning hand, and then came nearer to whisper, "No, the noo," he said, "no the noo. Maybe after the kirk's oot!"

SERMONS DELIVERED AT THE CHURCHES LAST SUNDAY.

Evening Post, Oct. 21.
AT ST. ANDREW'S.

Rev. Menzies, of the Point au Tremble school, Quebec, filled the pulpit of St. Andrew's church during both services yesterday. The subject of his discourses was French evangelization in the Province of Quebec.

In the evening he chose his text from the epistle of James, 2nd chapter, verse 15. God's fatherhood and man's brotherhood were, he stated, the outstanding features of the Christian religion.

Reverting more particularly to his topic he recalled the opening of the Kirkfield lift-lock some few months ago—an event to be long remembered. At that time Rudolph Lemieux, Postmaster-General, French Canadian and a Roman Catholic, in his speech to the people, appealed to the young men and women, particularly, to give of their best to their country—a country, he added, richly blessed and fully worthy. "I thought," said Rev. Menzies, "at that time was it possible for his (Lemieux's) own fellow countrymen to give their best to their country when a large portion of them go through life in almost abject ignorance, without education." The same gentleman, in his address at a Scotch banquet on the subject, "The Scotch People", attributed their success as a nation, to their love of civil and religious liberty and their passion for education. "How would he answer the question," said the minister, "if he had been asked, 'Has your church stood for civil or religious liberty?' Of the French Canadian population of Quebec, one-third are illiterate, and the Roman Catholic clergy are responsible." From the standpoint of illiteracy Quebec ranks next to Italy.

Lemieux stated that it was the knowledge of the Bible that made the Scotch what they are. This book is withheld from the French Canadian, if they were able to read it. In their desire to control, the Roman Catholic clergy are teaching the French-Canadians to preserve a unity and gradually invade other provinces. "We cannot meet them in a like manner," observed the preacher. "We should meet them as brothers and enlighten them. This is the course being pursued by the evangelists' churches, and there is a changing attitude coming over many towards Protestantism."

Mr. Menzies then spoke of the progress of the Point au Tremble school, and how many hundreds of French-Canadians were being educated there, from fifty to seventy being turned away after year for lack of space of the good results from the work, and in conclusion made an appeal for assistance to extend the school's work.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Brandell, pastor of the Stratford Baptist church, officiated at the local Baptist church yesterday in Mr. Welch's absence. His text for the morning sermon was taken from Isaiah, 41st chap., 10th verse, "Fear thou not, for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness."

These were the promises of God, said the minister. The promise is a five-fold one. "Fear thou not." He says, "for I am with thee." God does not ask us to accomplish our pilgrimage alone. "I will strengthen thee." He gives us of his power to overcome temptation. "I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness." This last glorious promise of aid is for the Christian.

The pastor dwelt on the faith we have in earthly promises, and engagements made during the ordinary course of everyday life. How much more should we have faith in God through the promises he gives us in His word.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey celebrated high mass at St. Mary's yesterday. Rev. Fr. Collins delivering the sermon. He took for his text the words found in St. Matthew, xxi., 15-21, "Render therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's." The message, which was directed principally to young men, was convincing in argument and method of presentation.

ON POINT AFFAIRS

Meeting of Village Council Monday Morning.

MR. J. W. FLAVELLE'S OFFER AND OTHER MATTERS.

Messrs. Elliott and Moynes wish to establish an Amusement Park.

A meeting of Sturgeon Point Council was held this morning at the office of the village clerk, Mr. G. H. Hopkins. Reeve J. D. Flavell occupied the chair, the other members being Messrs. O. Bigelow, J. W. Anderson, J. Brown and R. Miller. The property owners in attendance numbered about half-a-dozen.

THE FLAVELLE MATTER.

Clerk Hopkins read the minutes of the last two meetings, also Mr. J. W. Flavell's letter in connection with certain concessions and changes desired, the Council's letter in reply thereto, and finally, Mr. F's letter (already published) relinquishing the plans therein mentioned, and withdrawing the offer made Council. The Council's letter, above referred to, will perhaps clear away some misapprehension in the minds of Point residents. It was as follows:

Lindsay, Ont., Sept. 19th.
J. W. Flavell, Esq., Toronto, Ont.
Dear Sir,—Your communication of 5th inst. came before the Council at their meeting Monday, and they instructed me to inform you that they were willing to comply with your wishes as far as possible, and authorized me to give the necessary notice, and take the necessary proceedings with a view of closing the old and opening the new streets, which will take six weeks to two months. In the meantime they passed a resolution authorizing the putting up of gates on the Fenelon road at once.

What they propose is: 1st.—To close Lake-ave. in front of your property, and convey the same to you, in lieu of road 20 feet wide through your property, where the present travelled road runs, this is not to prejudice the rights of either party, so far as the wharf is concerned.

2nd.—To divert Irene-st. as proposed by you, except that they desire to extend First-st. on a slight deflection to the east. This they think will meet with much less opposition, and will not affect you, as you will have a lot west of First-st. in any case.

3rd.—They are desirous of protecting, not only yours, but all the property at the Point, from cattle, and think your suggestion of gates a good one. Strictly speaking cattle have no right to run there at all, and can be impounded, but an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. There would be serious objection to placing gates at the east end of Irene-st. and the proposed Lake Shore road, and they propose authorizing the putting of a gate on the Fenelon road, within the village, which would answer the same purpose as far as you are concerned. These gates would, of course, be subject to removal by the Council in the future, if found necessary, and I trust this will be satisfactory to you. — Yours truly, (Sgd) G. H. HOPKINS.

Clerk of Village of Sturgeon Point.
Mr. Bigelow—"Will our consent to erect the gates give Mr. Flavell any rights?"

Clerk Hopkins—"No, the gates are on the road."

Mr. R. J. McLaughlin presented a communication dealing with the roadway leading from Irene-ave. to Constable Graham's dwelling. No action was taken.

NEW ELECTION DAY.

Barrister F. A. McDiarmid presented a petition by 32 ratepayers, favoring the holding of the annual election at midsummer instead of on Jan. 1st, and praying the Council to pass a by-law therefor.

Clerk Hopkins—"As a matter of fact, we have no by-law fixing Lindsay as the place for holding the election. The blank is filled in yearly."

Reeve Flavell—"We have the power to make the desired change, and I think we should grant the request."

Clerk Hopkins—"The next election must be held in January, as hereafter; it's really a matter for next year's Council to deal with."

Reeve Flavell—"I don't know about that—we must either have power to continue the present Council in office for a year and a half, or to hold two elections."

Clerk Hopkins—"I'll look into that."

Mr. McDiarmid—"I think Reeve Flavell is right; you must have the power to do either one or the other."

Moved by Mr. Brown, seconded by Mr. Bigelow, that a by-law fixing the village election in midsummer be introduced at next meeting.—Carried.

With reference to the gates recently placed on the Fenelon road, Reeve Flavell explained that Council had merely assented to their use, and it was agreed to allow them to remain at least until a petition was presented asking for their removal.

would drain and otherwise improve the property.

Reeve Flavell—"I think a dying Council should not deal with such an important question; the people should be given a chance to express an opinion."

Clerk Hopkins—"Their idea is to make of it an amusement park, with dancing pavilion, swings, etc."

Mr. Bigelow—"It's a business offer. Everything, of course, would be subject to Council's endorsement."

Clerk Hopkins—"The applicants say that, as public carriers, they have been forced to realize that the people of the town will not visit the Point because they feel they are unwelcome and regarded as trespassers. This was due to the fact that there is no park or resting place open to the public."

Mr. Anderson—"There is something in the contention. Besides, if we do not cater to the transient trade for the sake of the boat owners, we shall be unable to secure proper steamboat accommodation."

Mr. Bigelow—"The applicants wished to know the Council's intention because they are anxious to do some of the cleaning up on the property this season."

Reeve Flavell—"I would not be willing to be stamped into the scheme in this way."

Mr. Anderson—"The question is getting to be a serious one; if we do not provide the accommodation it will be secured at some other point."

Mr. Barr—"Let the request stand over—a year's delay will not be fatal. If Elliott & Moynes did not make money during the past season it was because the people could not repose implicit confidence in their promises."

Mr. Brown suggested that a meeting of property owners be held in the early spring to consider the offer.

ACCOUNTS, ETC.

The following accounts were read and recommended for payment:

Mrs. Walker	2.40

Clerk Hopkins presented the Assessment Roll, adding that it was now complete.

The Council, as a Court of Revision, next considered a couple of appeals against the assessment, one being granted and the other refused.

Mr. Hopkins—"I think voting at the Point will turn out to be a nuisance and the present plan will come into vogue again. There will be a smaller vote polled at the Point."

Reeve Flavell—"I differ with you; the vote will be larger, especially if the poll can legally be kept open till, say, 9 p.m."

Council then adjourned.

THESE ARE TRUE

Five Thousand Facts About Canada, the Young Nation.

Canada's western wheat contains 10 per cent. more albuminoids than the best European varieties. One hundred pounds of Canadian flour makes more bread of high quality than the same weight of any wheat imported into Britain. Lord Strathcona asserts that in ten years Canada can produce all the grain needed by Great Britain. Great Britain imports annually nearly 200 million bushels of wheat. Of this, Canada sold her (1906) only 36 million bushels, worth 30 millions. Western wheat elevators, 1,200; capacity 51 1-2 million bushels. 22,850 harvest hands helped to gather the 1906 grain in the west. (Western Canada has 5 times as much wheat land available as is now cultivated in the U. S.—Wm. Whyte, C. P. R. Average price to farmer of western wheat crop of 1904 was 72c. per bushel; 1905 crop, 68c., 1906, 65c. calculating all grades. Average cost of production and shipment, 55c. per bushel, average net profit, 30c. per bushel, or $9 per acre. Best U. S. farms yield owners $5 or less per acre. Estimated intrinsic value of western Canadian farm lands now, $100 per acre. Value of western Canada's wheat crop, 1904, $40,900,310; of 1905 and 1906, $53,000,000 each. Wheat growth in U. S. of 600 million bushels has apparently reached its height. Best U. S. wheat lands are either exhausted or gradually becoming exhausted. U. S. was once Britain's chief wheat provider. Annual increased wheat consumption in U. S. is 8 million bushels. Drop in U. S. wheat exports to Britain, 1905, 45 million bushels. Minnesota millers are buying Canadian wheat to mix with U. S. wheat and thus recover their high grade of flour for export. The half-a-billion people in China and Japan are prospective buyers of Canada's surplus wheat. In a single year 50.7 per cent. of all the wheat officially inspected in Winnipeg graded "Manitoba Hard," and 50.6 per cent. "No. 1 Northern," making 81.3 per cent. fall within the two highest market grades. During the same time practically only 1 per cent. of the receipts at Minneapolis graded No. 1 Hard and 2 per cent. No. 1 Northern, a difference of nearly four to one in favor of Canadian wheat.

WATER POWERS

Canada surpasses the world in its possession of water powers.

The minimum Niagara flow represents 3 million h. p., one-tenth more than Victoria Falls, Africa.

Niagara power in sight when developed will aggregate 700,000 h. p. 100,000 h. p. is in process of development on the Canadian side. 20,000 h. p. will be transmitted to Toronto.

Ontario restricts export of Niagara horse power to 50 per cent.

Canada will hereafter place an export duty on Niagara power.

11 million h. p. can be developed from Lake Superior on Canadian side.

Equaling total amount of power now in use in U. S. for manufacturing.

Over 1 million h. p. exists within 50 mile radius from Ottawa.

Quebec Government has sold 50 powers in 8 years, aggregating 1 1-4 million h. p.

FARMER'S TEAM RAN AWAY

Leaped Over Buggy and Injured Man Who Tried to Stop Them.

Evening Post, Oct. 21.

A heavy farm team, owned by Mr. T. Hogan, of East Ops, became frightened from some unknown cause while standing in the yard of the Royal hotel on Saturday afternoon. They turned quickly, tearing away the scolding to which they were tied. A buggy standing in their way was scolded in their headlong career and badly broken.

Putting the big waggon behind them, the horses tore down Lindsay at across the bridge, and headed up Queen-st. for home. Near McWatters' bakery Mr. Joe Bell attempted to stop them, but was knocked down and the waggon passed over him, leaving him, badly hurt, lying on the road. They were finally stopped by Mr. Thos. Teevin, in Ops. The horses were not badly injured, but the buggy they ran over was a total wreck.

THE WOLF BOUNTIES.

Over Seven Thousand Dollars Paid Out So Far This Year.

Up to the end of September the Provincial Treasurer had paid out $7,380 in wolf bounties, for which the appropriation made at the last session of the Legislature was $8,500.

Last year the total paid for the whole twelve months was $8,367. The Government pays $15 for every wolf killed in the unorganized districts, and $6 of the $15 which is paid by counties for wolves killed in the organized sections of the Province.

Young Boys Made Example of in Police Court Tuesday.

Evening Post of Oct. 22.

Railway property has to be respected. Such is the law, and Police Magistrate Jackson is bound to enforce it.

In police court this morning Arthur Moore and Ralph Trevor were charged with trespassing on the property of the G. T. R., and fined $4.95 each. They had been in the habit of frequenting the box cars near Flavelle's elevator on Sundays and in the evenings, to enjoy a quiet smoke and chat, and kept it up until the minion of the law invaded their rendezvous.

The Magistrate propounded the clause in the statutes relating to their offence, and informed the youngsters that a fine not exceeding $50 could be imposed.

Mr. R. G. McGraw, local agent of the G. T. R., was strong in his denunciation of offences of this nature, and spoke of the danger of fire from smoking and lighting matches.

Mr. J. D. Flavelle said a number of boys had been intolerable nuisances around the elevator, and the firm had serious thoughts of putting on a special policeman to get rid of them.

Chief Vincent cited a case, reported to him by the C. P. R. agent, of a young lad who had hurled a stone through a train window. Fortunately no passengers happened to be in the way, or they would have been injured.

The price of granolithic sidewalk made between the bridges here, was thrown open for use yesterday, and was pronounced all right.

The Board of Health held a meeting on Monday evening last, and the fountain spring was the subject up for discussion. During the dry season, cattle had made their way into it, and the water was being contaminated. It is probable that the spring will be fenced in to prevent animals getting into it.

THE ABSENT-MINDED AUTHOR.

(With Apologies to Mr. Rudyard Kipling.)

He's an absent-minded author, and he's coming out to see

The oldest British colony of all; He's a decent sort of fellow, full of oddity and glee,—

And we'll all be glad to see him in the fall.

Dukes' sons, cooks' sons, sons of Japs and Chinks,

Have come across the sea to us—though some of them we don't need—

But welcome, Rudyard Kipling, for you helped to forge the links

That bind together the empire's sons, (sprung from one Aryan seed.)

He's bringing his wife just casual, and we'll lift our hats to her,

And we hope she'll not forget the Maple Leaf;

There's respect for her in the heart of every blooming Britisher—

May she never know discouragement or grief!

Earls' sons, chums' sons, every mother's son, will greet

This absent-minded author—and do as much for his wife—

(They'll give him a cheer in Toronto as he passes along Yonge-st.,

And to speak in Yankee lingo, he'll have the time of his life.)

Though he may not equal Shakespear, or please George Bernard Shaw,

His "Recessional" still lingers in our ears—

And though his Private Mulvaney is not amenable to law,

His tales move us to laughter on to tears,

Queen's sons, mean sons, sons in and out of jail,

Are thrilled by Kipling's magic, and feel that he's a "brick."

Every Tommy Atkins in Canada will give him an "All Hail!"

For his fame is not a rocket that comes down a blooming stick!

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert her mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

Yours for Health Lydia E. Pinkham

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until to-day Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of women's ailments, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-earned knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With woman assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

OAKWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We understand Mr. R. James has just returned from a business trip of five weeks in different localities, viz., Brooklyn, Columbus, Oshawa, Toronto, Thornton, Barrie and Orillia, and says the crops in Mariposa far exceed those seen any place he visited, and Oshawa comes next. He there saw some fine fields of corn and vast crops, and the harvest was pretty fair. He says the grain is turning out pretty good, according to the straw. One day will thresh the grain off a one hundred acre farm, generally. Feed is going to be scarce everywhere, and high; they are offering ten dollars a load for straw in Barrie—any kind. The potatoes are pretty small, and the crops are light, generally, as there was not much rain there all summer, but yet he don't think the farmers will be at much loss, considering the price of grain now, and what it has been in the past. The farmers everywhere are complaining of the price of pork; they say there is no money in hogs now, and if prices don't go higher they are going out of the business. Every person he met is predicting a change in the times. Horses up west can be bought for one-third less now than they could this time last fall, and they will be lower yet after it freezes up. It will have to be a pretty good horse that will be worth wintering if not kept at work. Things are pretty quiet in the different towns he was in.

NORLAND.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The road case, between Lee Bros. and the township of Somerville, which has been attracting considerable attention in this locality for some time past, was disposed of on the 15th inst, by a municipal board of arbitrators, composed of Messrs. M. Green, Jr., J. Hodgins and J. Bumpney. The case hung, chiefly, upon the true location of the road allowance in front of con. A, at lots 2 and 3.

Mr. Smith, O. L. S., of Lindsay, who was present at the request of the board, examined fourteen or fifteen witnesses as to the government movements, etc., which resulted in convincing the board that Lee Bros. owned only a strip of swamp land, 18 feet wide at the narrowest place between the bay and the con. line. The board awarded Lee Bros. $15 for sufficient of the land to give the Council's forced road allowance access to the lake, the Council to pay, in addition, the costs of the arbitration, amounting to $90.

Mr. Fred Martin and wife are slowly improving after their long illness and their many friends hope to see them around again soon.

The grim reaper, Death, has again visited our community, taking this time for its victim the infant child of Mrs. Albert Thompson. Much sympathy is felt in this neighborhood for the bereaved family.

On Monday last the remains of Mrs. Edward Stephenson passed through Norland to Pine Grove cemetery to its last resting place. She leaves two sons and five daughters to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother.

Dental — Dr. Bowerman will be at J. Perkins' residence, Norland, on Wednesday, Nov. 6th, and at Chirpaw's, Victoria Road, on Thursday, Nov. 7th.
